Amendments

In the said rules,—

(2) (a) If for reasons to be recorded in writing—

(i) the Commercial Tax Officer is not satisfied that the applicant for declaration forms made bona fide use of such forms previously issued to him or that he bona fide requires such forms applied for, the Commercial Tax Officer may reject the application;

(ii) the Commercial Tax Officer is not satisfied that the applicant bona fide requires such forms in such numbers as he has applied for, the Commercial Tax Officer may issue such forms in such lesser numbers as, in his opinion, would satisfy the reasonable requirement of the applicant.

(c) If the applicant for declaration forms has at the time of making the application defaulted in furnishing any return or returns, together with the receipted challan or challans showing payment of the tax due from him according to such return or returns, for the furnishing of which the prescribed date or dates, or the extended date or dates, if any, have already expired, the Commercial Tax Officer shall withhold the issue of declaration forms to him until such time as he furnishes—

(i) such return or returns, together with such receipted challan or challans, and

(ii) any other return or returns, together with the receipted challan or challans showing payment of the tax due according to such return or returns, for the furnishing of which the prescribed date or dates or the extended date or dates, if any, may have expired after the date of the application:

Provided that in a case coming under this clause the Commercial Tax Officer may, instead of withholding declaration forms, issue such forms in such numbers and subject to such conditions and restrictions as he may consider reasonable, to an applicant, if in the opinion of the Commercial Tax Officer it is desirable in the interest of the collection of Sales Tax revenue to grant time to the applicant to pay up the arrears of tax in one lump or in instalments.

(d) Where the Commercial Tax Officer does not proceed under clause (a), clause (b) or clause (c), he shall issue the requisite number of declaration forms to the applicant.".

GOVERNMENT OF WEST BENGAL

DEPARTMENT OF HEALTH

Public Health

NOTIFICATION

No. PH|2793|2R-29|66.—1st June 1966.—Whereas the Governor is satisfied that the district of Malda excluding the municipal areas, is threatened with an outbreak of small-pox.

Now, therefore, in exercise of the power conferred by section 2 of the Indian Epidemic Diseases Act, 1897 (III of 1897), the Governor is pleased to prescribe the following temporary regulations for the prevention and control of small-pox and for the medical inspection, isolation, observation and surveillance of persons suffering from, or suspected of being infected with, small-pox in the said district for a period of six months:—

TEMPORARY REGULATIONS FOR THE PREVENTION AND CONTROL OF SMALLPOX

1. In these regulations, unless there is anything repugnant in the subject or context,—

(a) "Health Officer" means the Health Officer of the district appointed by the State Government, the Chief Medical Officer of Health of the district, or the Subdivisional Health Officer of any of the subdivisions of the district within their respective subdivisions;

(b) "Sanitary Inspector" means a Sanitary Inspector appointed by the State Government;

(c) "Small-pox" means any disease accompanied by an eruption of vesicles or pustules;

(d) "Patient" means a person suffering from or suspected to be suffering from small-pox;

(e) "Medical practitioner" means any person practising the medical profession.

Notices

2. If in any case the Health Officer considers that the issue of a notice under these regulations is likely to lead to such an amount of delay as might facilitate the spread of small-pox he may forthwith take such steps as he may think fit for carrying out the work, and shall thereafter, as soon as possible, issue a notice on the person concerned stating the reasons why such work has been carried out.

3. If any measure which the Health Officer has by a notice issued under these regulations, required to be carried out, be not carried out to his satisfaction within the time stated in the notice the Health Officer shall be entitled to carry out the measure.

Costs and compensation

4. (1) All expenses incurred in carrying out any work in pursuance of an order issued under these regulations shall be paid by the State Government except in any case where the order directs a person to carry out any work in relation to property in his possession, in which case the expenses shall be paid by such person:

Provided that where the conditions which led the Health Officer to pass such an order, are not attributable to any act or default of the person in possession of the property, the State Government may pay to such person the whole or a part of the expenses incurred by him in carrying out the order.

(2) The State Government may recover all expenses incurred by the Health Officer in carrying out the measure under regulation 3 from the person or persons to whom the notice was originally issued.

5. The State Government shall pay adequate compensation to any person who has sustained substantial loss or damage by reason of anything done under these regulations:

Provided that no person shall receive any compensation for anything done or suffered under these regulations if he has failed to carry out an order issued under these regulations. He shall not direct the patient to be removed from the house unless it is, in his opinion, impossible to make proper arrangements for his isolation therein within the time specified in the order and to the satisfaction of the Health Officer.

Location of disease

6. When a case of small-pox occurs in a house, the nearest male relative in attendance upon the patient, or in the absence of any such relative the occupier of the house, or if the occupier be the patient, the senior male inmate of the house other than the patient of the house shall, within twenty-four hours of the onset of the disease, give information regarding the occurrence of such case either personally or in writing or by means of the chaukidar or other village watchman or headman to the nearest Sanitary Inspector.

7. (1) Every medical practitioner called in to attend upon any case of small-pox shall forthwith give notice of the case by a special messenger to the nearest Sanitary Inspector or to the Health Officer by post and the cost of such messenger in each case shall be defrayed by the State Government.

(2) The doctor-in-charge of a hospital or a dispensary within the district shall forthwith give notice of any case of small-pox brought to such hospital or dispensary for treatment to the nearest Sanitary Inspector by a special messenger and to the Health Officer by post, and the cost in each case shall be defrayed by the State Government.

8. Thana officers shall supply to the Health Officer such periodical returns of cases of small-pox as he may from time to time call upon them to furnish.

9. The Health Officer or a Sanitary Inspector may examine any person who is, or suspected to be, suffering from small-pox or who, in his opinion, may be infected with or likely to spread small-pox.

Isolation of patients

10. When the Health Officer or a Sanitary Inspector considers that the isolation of any patient is a precaution necessary for the protection of the neighbouring population, he shall order the patient to observe isolation and may order the nearest relative in attendance on the patient, or the occupier of the house in which the patient is staying, to arrange for the isolation of the patient in such a manner and for such a time as may be approved by the Health Officer.

11. The Health Officer or a Sanitary Inspector may order that any person, who has been in contact with a person found to be suffering from small-pox, shall be segregated for a period not exceeding a fortnight in a manner and in a place to be approved by the Health Officer.

12. The Health Officer or a Sanitary Inspector may order that any person who has been in contact with a person found to be suffering from small-pox shall be vaccinated or re-vaccinated within a time to be specified in the order.

13. No person shall enter any place wherein a patient is isolated under regulation 10, without the permission of the Health Officer or a Sanitary Inspector.

14. When a patient has been removed from a house for isolation under regulation 10, the State Government shall provide for him free of charge a suitable place, with necessary attendants, diet, etc.

15. No person, who is or has been suffering from small-pox, shall leave the place where he has been staying until he has received from the Health Officer or a Sanitary Inspector written permission to do so.

16. No person while suffering from evident symptoms of small-pox or in the convalescent state of the disease with scabs of pocks on his body shall expose himself in any street, road, public place, shop, bazar or any place used in common by persons other than members of the family or household to which such infected person belongs or shall move from place to place unless he is proceeding to a hospital for admission and treatment.

17. The Health Officer or a Sanitary Inspector authorised by the Health Officer in writing in that behalf may, during the prevalence of any outbreak of small-pox, order that any bazar, shop or other public place shall remain closed for such time as may appear to him to be necessary and may forbid the holding of any fair, mela, or other gathering to which people from several villages commonly or periodically resort.

Miscellaneous

The Health Officer or a Sanitary Inspector may direct the owner or occupier of any premises to take steps to have vaccinated or re-vaccinated within a time to be specified in the order any person residing on such premises and under the control of such owner or occupier if the Health Officer is of opinion that such person has been in contact with any one suffering from small-pox.

(i) that he is so well covered that the discharge and scabs from the lesions do not come directly into touch with the body of the conveyance;

(ii) that he is taken to the hospital direct and the conveyance does not halt at any other place for transacting any business; and

(iii) that excepting one or two attendants for the patient no other person is carried in the conveyance at the same time.

25. No person shall expose in any street, shop, bazar or any public place any clothing, bedding or other article which has been in contact with a patient or shall cause or suffer such articles to be carried in any public

32. The Health Officer may order that no dome or other person employed for the disposal of corpses shall withdraw from his duties without the permission of the Health Officer unless such Dome or other person has given notice in writing not less than one month previously of his intention so to withdraw.

33. The Health Officer or a Sanitary Inspector may themselves or through any person authorised by the Health Officer or the Sanitary Inspector in that behalf seize and dispose of any corpse which in the opinion of the said officer or inspector is infected with or is likely to spread small-pox, unless the relatives or friends of the deceased person satisfy him that they are prepared and able to dispose of the corpse in a manner which will prevent the spread of small-pox.

34. (1) The Health Officer or a Sanitary Inspector may require any person who appears to be acquainted with facts in connection with any case or suspected case of small-pox to attend before him at a time to be stated in the order and at any place not more than one mile from the place where such person resides or is staying when the order is issued, and such person shall appear as so required.

BEFORE THE SIXTH INDUSTRIAL TRIBUNAL, WEST BENGAL

AWARD

The Government of West Bengal by order No. 4548-I.R./IR/11L-237/65, dated the 20th October 1965, has referred the following industrial dispute between Messrs Inchek Tyres Limited (Head Office at Leslie House, 19 Chowringhee Road, Calcutta-13), Factory at Kankinara, 24-Parganas, and their workmen represented by Inchek Tyres Limited Labours' Union, A. B. Road, Rathtola, P.O. Narayanpur, district 24-Parganas, to this Tribunal for adjudication.

Issue

1. Whether termination of service of Shri Saroj Kumar Ghosh is justified ? To what relief, if any, is he entitled ?

After the service of usual notice, the employer had put in the written statement at first as directed, and thereafter the union had submitted the written statement. As the matter has been settled, it is not necessary to state in details the allegations made in the two written statements. In the written statement submitted on behalf of the employer, it is stated that Shri Saroj Kumar Ghosh was appointed as a semi-skilled workman in the Mechanical Engineering Section in August 1963 and Shri Ghosh agreed to abide by the rules and regulations of the company, as may be enforced from time to time. The employees were members of the Inchek Tyres Mazdoor Union which represents the majority of the workmen and there had been an agreement with that union sometime in 1964. One of the terms of the agreement is that the service of a workman may be terminated by way of disciplinary measure, if a workman absents himself from duty for more than six consecutive days. As the work of Shri Ghosh was not up to the standard warning letters were issued from time to time for his inefficiency and also for disobedience of the orders of the superior officer. In spite of the warning letters the standard of work of Shri Ghosh did not improve and his service was going to be terminated. However, at the instance of the union the probationery period of Shri Ghosh was extended and later on he was made a permanent workman. After Shri Ghosh became a permanent workman, he started coming late and leaving the factory earlier and in order to cover up his irregularity in attendance, he avoided punching of card and sometimes got the attendance card punched by the fellow workers. Thereafter, the Mechanical Engineer issued a charge-sheet on him on 5th January 1965 for his late coming, leaving the factory earlier and get his attendance card punched by another workman, and/or falsifying the attendance card. On 11th January 1965 Shri Ghosh submitted a reply in which he admitted his guilt and prayed for being excused. The Mechanical Engineer took a lenient view and a warning letter was issued on 14th January 1965. Inspite of this, Shri Ghosh absented himself on 15th January 1965 and illegally and with mala fide motive, for collecting wages of that day, got the card punched by one of his colleagues. When this was detected, a preliminary enquiry was held and a charge-sheet was issued on 16th January 1965. Shri Ghosh had replied to that charge-sheet. As the reply was not found to be satisfactory, the company held the enquiry on 20th January 1965 and at the enquiry it was found that Shri Ghosh was guilty of the misconducts. A tentative decision to dismiss Shri Ghosh was communicated to the union. The mazdoor union which is the recognised union asked the management to reconsider its decision and also requested not to inflict the punishment of dismissal upon Shri Ghosh. There was a joint discussion and the management agreed ultimately to give Shri Ghosh anoter chance to work in the company, if he gives an undertaking in the standard prescribed form. The union had agreed that Shri Ghosh would give an undertaking and the company by the letter, dated 21st January 1965, directed Shri Ghosh to resume his duties with effect from 22nd January 1965 after giving an undertaking in the prescribed form. Shri Ghosh, however, stated that he would not give the undertaking and thereafter a representative of the union requested the management to wait for some more time so that the union can persuade Shri Ghosh to give the undertaking. The union later on intimated that Shri Ghosh did not give that undertaking and it would not persue his case any further and the management should take such action as it thinks fit. As the company did not hear anything from Shri Ghosh, and as Shri Ghosh had remained absent for more than 9 days, the company decided that Shri Ghosh should not be retained in the company's service any longer. It, therefore, terminated the service of Shri Ghosh. Subsequently, the Labour Union made a representation to the Labour Commissioner and the company ha submitted a written comment before Shri S. R. Ghosh who was the conciliation officer stating all the relevant facts an circumstances. The company further states that it does not admit that the Labour Union represents the substantial number of workmen of the company and the Labour Union has no locus standi to raise the industrial dispute. The dispute is also not an industrial dispute, and therefore, the Tribunal has no jurisdiction to adjudicate the alleged dispute. In the circumstances, mentioned above, it is stated that Shri Ghosh is not entitled to get any relief.

In the written statement submitted on behalf of the workmen, it is said that Shri Ghosh could not have been absent without authority as the period of suspension which was never withdrawn, was continuing and that the mazdoor union never represented Shri Ghosh before the management and that the Labour Union has got the majority of the workmen as its members. It is further stated that there was no service rule to warrant termination of service for unauthorised absence without any charge-sheet and therefore, the termination was wholly unjustified and mala fide. It is also stated that Shri Ghosh is the Vice-President and active worker of the Labour Union and was a semi-killed operative, in the Mechanical Engineering Section with a clean record of service. Regarding the other enquiry, it is stated that it was only a perfunctory enquiry and no opportunity was given to Shri Ghosh to defend himself. Further, as Shri Ghosh was innocent he was unable to comply with the order of the company to give the undertaking. The matter had been referred by the union to the Assistant Labour Commissioner, Barrackpore on 22nd January 1965 alleging victimisation and unnecessary harassment of the members of the union. In the circumstances, and also as the suspension order was never withdrawn, the letter of the company , dated 1st February 1965, dismissing Shri Ghosh for remaining absent for more than 6 consecutive days, is illegal and unjustified. After the order of the dismissal, the union raised the dispute by the letter, dated 2nd March 1965, before the A.L.C., Barrackpore. There had been conciliation proceedings but it failed due to the adamant attitude of the employer and in the circumstances, it is prayed that Shri Ghosh may be reinstated in service with full back wages for the period of forced unemployment.

After the case was fixed for peremtory hearing, and after some adjournments, a joint petition was filed on 22nd April 1966 for effecting settlement. The joint petition of settlement has been filed on 29th April 1966 and it is signed by Shri Nirmalendu Bose who is the Administrative Manager of the company, by the learned Advocate Shri M. Saha for the company, by the learned Advocate Shri Anil Das Choudhury for the union, by Shri Krishna Prasanna Choudhury who is the Vice-President of the union and the workman concerned Shri Saroj Ghosh. I have heard these persons and also the learned Advocate Shri Arun Kumar Dutta for the employer. It appears that the termination of service of Shri Ghosh has been accepted by the concerned workman himself and also by the union and that the company had agreed to pay and had paid the sum of Rs. 1,751 in full and final settlement of all the claims of Shri Ghosh against the company. I consider the terms of settlement to be reasonable legal and proper and should be given effect to. I, therefore, pass a 'no-dispute, award making the petition of settlement and annexuro to the award. This is my award.

AWARD

By order No. 3912-I.R./IR/11L-115(A)/64, dated the 1st September 1964, the Government of West Bengal, in the Labour Department, referred under section 10 of the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947, the industrial dispute between Messrs. Hindusthan Lever Ltd., 63 Garden Reach, Calcutta-24, and their workmen represented by the Hindusthan Lever Mazdur Sabha, 63 Garden Reach Road, Calcutta-24, regarding the matter specified in the schedule, to this Tribunal constituted under section 7A of the Industrial Disputes Act, by notification No. 808-I.R./IR/3A-2/57, dated the 11th March 1957, for adjudication.

Issue

Whether all clerical staff transferred from 36 hours to 48 hours of work per week are entitled to Rs. 30 per month as allowance ? If not, what should be quantum of such allowance ?

In pursuance of notice issued from this tribunal, the parties appeared and filed their written statements.

In the written statement filed on behalf of the Hindusthan Lever Mazdur Sabha, it has been stated that the company in its factories employs clerical employees with wage scales fixed according to 36 hours of duty. From time to time clerical employees have been transferred to jobs in which 48 hours of a week duty have to be put in and the company used to pay to all employees an additional benefit of Rs. 10 asked to work 48 hours a week. The union made demands to the company to pay higher additional benefits to all employees for increased hours of work and in 1955 the company increased the additional benefits from Rs. 10 to Rs. 15 payable to all those employees who have been asked to work 48 hours a week. The Sabha, however, was not satisfied with the small increase and made demands for further increase. As a result of such demands the company increased the allowances from Rs. 15 to Rs. 30 per month but gave this further additional benefit only to those employees transferred with effect from 1st January 1961 to jobs with 48 hours a week duty. The Sabha urged the company to extend the additional benefits to all employees working additional hours but the company did not agree. The Sabha, therefore, referred the matter to the Labour Department of the Government for conciliation. No. conciliation, however, could be effected and the case was referred to this Tribunal for adjudication. The Sabha claims that clerical staff transferred from 36 hours to 48 hours work per week be given such allowance as they are under law entitled to get, from the date of the transfer.

In its written statement filed on 17th December 1964 company admitted that the normal working hours per week of the clerical employees of its factory are 36 hours and that for reasons of exigencies of work it has from time to time asked some of its clerical employees to do jobs which require 48 hours of work per week and stated that in order to compensate the clerical employees for the longer hours of work it has been given an adjustment of Rs. 10 per month in the basic salary. This increase used to form part of the basic salary. The rate of such adjustment has also been the subject-matter of discussion, negotiation and settlement with the Sabha. The adjustment of Rs. 10 was subsequently revised to Rs. 15 and in 1961, as a result of agreement between the company and the Sabha, was revised to Rs. 30. This last agreement was signed in October 1961 and according to the terms of settlement, all terms were given effect to only from the date of the settlement except where otherwise specifically stated. The wage revision took place with effect from 1st January 1961 and the adjustment could only be given effect to from that date. The wages of all categories of employees have undergone changes in the light of the settlement right from 1955 till date and the rate of adjustment to be given to persons transferred from 36 hours to 48 hours a week had thereby been revised as part of the settlement and a change in the rate could only be applicable to persons transferred from and after 1st January 1961. At the time of the last agreement in October 1961 the company agreed to give the increased adjustment only to employees who were transferred to 48 hours duty with effect from 1st January 1961 and not to any one who had already been transferred on any date prior to 1961. Company further submitted that when employees working 36 hours a week were asked to work 48 hours a week, their basic salary was increased by amount which has been agreed to by the recognised union from time to time and the adjustment made with the basic salary ranks for Dearness Allowance, bonus and retiring gratuity. If the Sabha's demand for extension of the further benefit to all employees transferred to jobs with 48 hours a week be acceded that will virtually lead to a revision of the entire wage scale which was duly settled in terms of the settlement, dated 12th October 1961 is valid and binding between the parties and the Sabha cannot be allowed to raise the question of extension of the furhter benefit to employees working 48 hours a week prior to 1st January 1961.

It will appear from the pleadings of the contending parties that the issue under consideration was fought up before this Tribunal on the admitted facts that the normal working hours per week of the clerical employees of the factory are 36 hours and that from time to time some of the clerical employees have been transferred to jobs requiring 48 hours a week. It was further admitted that clerks transferred to jobs with 48 hours a week were at first given Rs 10 per month as additional benefit, subsequently enhanced to Rs 15 in 1955 It appears further that the Sabha was not satisfied with this increase to Rs. 15 and went on agitating for further increase of additional benefit and it is not disputed that this additional benefit was increased to Rs. 30 per month but was made available only to those employees transferred to jobs with 48 hours a week, with effect from 1st January 1961 The Sabha criticised this action of the company, namely, extension of the further increment in the additional benefit to certain class of employees, viz, clerks transferred to 48 hours a week job with effect from 1st January 1961, highly irrational and discriminatory and contended that the company should have given this benefit to all the clerks working 48 hours per week prior to and after 1st January 1961. Company, on the other hand, stated that as the wage scale was revised in October 1961 with effect from 1st January 1961 by an agreement between the company and the Sabha and the wages of all categories of employees have undergone changes in the light of the settlement right from 1955 and scales of pay of clerks transferre from 36 hours to 48 hours duty have been revised as per settlements between the company and the Sabha, the change in the rate of additional benefit could only be applicable to persons transferred on and after 1st January 1961. There is, however, nothing on record indicating that at the time of refixation of wage scale in 1961 it was settled and agreed between the parties that only clerical employees transferred to work 48 hours a week with effect from 1st January 1961 would be given a flat adjustment of Rs 30 as has been alleged in para. 8 of the company's written statement It is not disputed that wage scales of the clerical employees in the company's factory were originally fixed according to hours of duty based on 36 hours a week and there is nothing on record indicating that at the time of the revision of the wage scale, wages were fixed on the basis of 48 hours a week. When the clerks were transferred from 36 hours a week to 48 hours a week, there was 33⅓ per cent. increase in the working hours of the employees For this extra 33⅓ per cent. increase in work the employees were entitled to 33⅓ per cent. in their wages. But no such increment was given to them. For this increase in the working hours they were at first given a flat additional benefit of Rs 10 changed to Rs 15 per month in 1955 It is evident from the company's own written statement that this additional benefit given to the employees was taken into consideration at the time of the fixation of wages in 1961, but there is no evidence to show 33⅓ per cent increase in the basic wage at the time of refixation of their wages, nor is there any evidence in support of the company's contention that the Sabha had agreed that clerical employees would be given a flat adjustment of Rs. 30 when they are transferred to work 48 hours a week with effect from 1st January 1961 It is no doubt true that the additional benefits of Rs 10 subsequently raised to Rs. 15 necessarily involved an increase in other emoluments but that is no ground for holding that the clerks whose working hours are increased to 33⅓ per cent should be denied the further increase in the additional benefit which the company has already given to employees transferred to 48 hours a week work with effect from 1st January 1961. If 36 hours a week clerks transferred to 48 hours week work with effect from 1st January 1961, can get the additional benefit there is no reason why clerks transferred to 36 hours week before 1st January 1961 should not get the benefit. In my opinion there is no logic in the companys contention that because the wage scales of all clerical employees of the factory have been revised in 1961 and the Sabha had accepted the scale which included the additional benefits already given for additional duty hours, clerks transferred to 48 hours week work are not entitled to get Rs 30 per month as allowance for the extra hours work. Accordingly I am of opinion that all clerical staff transferred from 36 hours to 48 hours work per week prior to 1st January 1961 are also entitled to Rs. 30 per month as allowance from 1st January 1961 the date when the present scale was introduced. As these clerks have already got certain allowances for their transfer to 48 hours week work, they will get emoluments equivalent to the difference between Rs. 30 and the amount already given to them as additional benefits, from the date of their transfer. In this context I may mention that the company's own written statement indicates, that the company itself considers a fiat adjustment of Rs. 30 per month as a fair compensation for the increase in the working hours of the clerical employees by 33⅓ per cent. The additional emoluments which will be available to the clerical staff will be paid by the company to them within 3 months of the publication of the award in the "Calcutta Gazette."

This is my adjudication and award.

AWARD

This case arises out of an application under section 33A by Shri Ram Deo Missir, a workman of Messrs. Balmer Lawrie & Co., Ltd.

It is not disputed that Ram Deo Missir an employee of the company, was charge-sheeted by the company on 19th January 1965. On the charge-sheet an enquiry was held. In the said enquiry, the petitioner was found guilty of the charge and by company's letter, dated 9th March 1965, he was dismissed from service. The petitioner contends that his dismissal was wholly unjustified, mala fide and a gross unfair labour practice on the part of the management, and prays that his dismissal may be declared unjustified and he be reinstated in service.

The petitioner under section 33A was opposed by the company and in the written statement filed it took up a preliminary point that the application under section 33A is not maintainable in law. It is said that the present complaint is mis-conceived and bad in law inasmuch as the company had duly filed the application under section 33(2)(b) of the Industrial Disputes Act before the First Industrial Tribunal of West Bengal, for approval of the action taken against the petitioner, before which tribunal Government Order of Reference No. 1805-I.R./IR/11L-38(C)/64, is pending. As this preliminary objection goes to the root of the case, this objection was taken up for hearing on 27th April 1966 in presence of lawyers of both sides, who were heard at length on this objection. In course of his argument before me the learned Advocate appearing for the petitioner conceded that over the dismissal of the petitioner an application under section 33(2)(b) of the Industrial Disputes Act was filed by the company before the Fist Industrial Tribunal, West Bengal, and that at the time the reference case referred to in the company's statement, over an industrial disputes between the company and its workers was pending adjudication before the said Tribunal. As undisputedly the petitioner's dismissal was not connected with the industrial dispute referred for adjudication before the Fist Tribunal under section 33(2)(b), the management was perfectly justified to approach the said Tribunal for approval of the action taken by it against the petitioner by way of dismissal. The learned Advocate appearing for the petitioner, however, contended that as from before the filling of the petitioner under section 33(2)(b), the First Tribunal was without any Presiding Judge, the company should have filed the petition before any of the other Tribunals before whom industrial disputes between the company and the workers were also pending for adjudication and that company's filing of the petition before the First Tribunal knowing fully well that the Tribunal had no Presiding Officer from before the petition, amounted to a fraud on the statute and that accordingly the petitioner is justified to approach this Tribunal by a petition under section 33A of the Industrial Disputes Act for necessary relief in the matter of hs dismissal.

This argument of the learned Lawyer for the worker, I cannot accept.

Section 33A provides:

"Where an employer contravens the provisions of section 33 during the pendency of proceedings before a Labour Court, Tribunal or National Tribunal, any employee aggrieved by such contravention, may make a complaint in writing in the prescribed manner to such Labour Court, Tribunal or National Tribunal and on receipt of such complaint that Labour Court, Tribunal or National Tribunal shall adjudicate upon the complaint as if it were a dispute referred to or pending before it, in accordance with the provisions of this Act and shall submit its award to the appropriate Government and the provisions of this Act shall apply accordingly."

Section 33 lays down that conditions of service, etc, shall remain unchanged under certain circumstances during pendency of proceedings. In this case we are concerned mainly with the provisions of section 33(2)(b) which reads as follows:

"During the pendency of any conciliation proceeding before a conciliation officer or a Board or of any proceeding before an arbitrator or a Labour Court or Tribunal or National Tribunal in respect of an Industrial dispute, the employer, may, in accordance with the standing orders applicable to a workman concerned in such dispute, or, where there are no such standing orders, in accordance with the terms of the contract, whether express or implied, between him and the workman—

(a) alter, in regard to any matter not connected with the dispute, the conditions of service applicable to that workman immediately before the commencement of such proceeding; or

(b) for my misconduct not connected with the dispute, discharge or punish, whether by dismissal or otherwise, that workman:

Provided that no such workman shall be discharged or dismissed, unless he has been paid wages for one month and an application has been made by the employer to the authority before which the proceeding is pending for approval of the action taken by the employer."

It will appear from the two sub-sections of section 33 that for the validity of the action taken by the management under any of the sub-sections, express permission in writing, or approval of the authority, before which an industrial dispute between the company and its workers is pending is mandatory. The authority mentioned in this sub-section is the Tribunal before which the dispute is pending for adjudication. Accordingly when at the time of the company's filing of the petition under section 33(2)(b) before the First Tribunal, an industrial dispute between the company and its workmen was pending for adjudication, it must be held that the company has proceeded according to law for getting approval of the action taken by it against the petitioner by way of dismissal. It is no argument to say that as from before the filing of the petition under section 33(2)(b), the Fist Tribunal was without any Presiding Officer, the company should have filed the petition before any other Tribunals before whom industrial disputes between the parties were admittedly then pending and that by not so doing and instead choosing a forum without any officer, company has contravened the provisions of section 33. This 1st Tribunal is still in existence though without any Officer Section 8 of the Industrial Disputes Act provides how such vacancies can be filled up, and according to this section if any Officer was by this time appointed to that Tribunal, company's petition under section 33(2)(b) would have proceeded from the stage at which the vacancy was filled up. The Statute gave the company right to file the petition under section 33(2)(b) before the First Tribunal and if the vacancy in the office of Presiding Judge of that office has not as yet been filled up, it cannot be argued that company has intentionally chosen a wrong forum for the application under section 33(2)(b) or has contravened the provisons of section 33 Considering all these facts and circumstances and considering further that the petitioner has not in its petition under section 33A alleged in what manner the company has contravened the provisions of section 33, I hold that the petition under consideration is not maintainable in law. As the application under section 33A is drafted, it will not be possible to give the applicant any relief without going into the question whether the enquiry resulting in the dismissal of the petition was fair and proer. This very question is pending for adjudication in the company's petition under section 33(2)(b) before the First Tribunal, I hold that in the face of the petition, the present application under section 33A cannot be entertained. The company is proceeding strictly according to section 33 as already indicated above. Its filing of the petition under section 33(2)(b) before the First Tribunal, cannot be any ground for holding that the company has contravened the provisions of section 33.

In view of the foregoing discussions the preliminary objection taken by the company must be upheld and the application be dismissed as misconceived, and bad in law.

It is accordingly ordered that the application of the worker Ram Deo Missir under section 33A be dismissed. This is my award.

ANNEXURE

In the matter of an application under section 33A of the Industrial Disputes Act filed by Shri Netai Chandra Koley, 34/7 Maharshi Debendra Road, Calcutta-6, an employee of Messrs. Nepal Chandra Haluikar, 16 and 18 Vivekananda Road, Calcutta-7, against the aforesaid company in connection with G.O. No. 1958-I.R./IR/11L-342/62, dated 15th May 1963. (Case No. 45 of 1965 under section 33A)

BEFORE THE SECOND INDUSTRIAL TRIBUNAL, WEST BENGAL.

Present :

Sari AMBICA PADA BHATTACHARYA,
Presiding Officer, Second Industrial Tribunal.

This is an application under section 33A of the Industrial Disputes Act. The applicant is Shri Netai Chandra Koley who alleges that he was a worker employed under Messrs. Nepal Chandra Haluikar at 16 and 18 Vivekananda Road. The employer dismissed the 39 workmen in the month of March 1963 on a plea of closure of the manufacturing department. A reference was made on the issue of termination of service of 39 workmen. That reference was dated 15th of May 1963. It was pending before this Tribunal. The manufacturing business was run thereafter by the same employer at two factories namely at 12 Vivekananda Road and 53/1 Shyampukur Street, where some employees were transferred while the petitioner was transferred to another place of manufacturing of sweets at 212 Mahatma Gandhi Road and thereafter at 20 Armenian Street, which are shops of the relation of Opposite Party company. The petitioner while working at 212 Mahatma Gandhi Road, swore an affidavit on 25th of May 1963 disclosing the above facts which were true to his knowledge. The Opposite Party company dismissed the petitioner on 14th June 1963 as a result of the same without issuing any charge-sheet and in utter contravention of the provision of section 33 of the Industrial Disputes Act. The complaint was accordingly made under section 33A and the Tribunal is asked to adjudicate upon the said complaint.

The Opposite Party filed a written statement wherein it was specifically pleaded that Netai Chandra Koley was not employed by the company in any capacity at any place of business. He has nothing to do with the reference, dated 15th of May 1963. Shri Netai Chandra Koley is not therefore a workman concerned in the said dispute referred to the Tribunal on 15th May 1963. The company denies the allegation about starting a new business at different places. Netai was never transferrd to 212 Mahatma Gandhi Road or 20 Armenian Street. The company did not employ him at those places. The company has got no establishment or branch at 212 Mahatma Gandhi. Road. The reference ended in an award which was published in the Calcutta Gazette" on 27th May 1965 The present application was verified on 20th May 1965

Thereafter inordinate delay in filing of the application under section 33A of the Industrial Disputes Act.

Appearances of the parties are as follows :

For the applicant : Shri S. K. Dhar, Advocate.

For the Opposite Party Company : Shri K. P. Mookerjee, Counsel.

Decision

The following facts are relevant. A reference was made regarding termination of service of 39 workmen of Messrs. Nepal Chandra Haluikar. It was dated 15th May 1963. The award has been filed. It was published in the "Calcutta Gazette" on May 27, 1965. Now the question is whether the application under section 33A had been filed during the pendency of the reference. For this purpose sections 20, 17(a) and 17 of the Industrial Disputes Act are to be looked into. In section 30, sub-section 3, the proceeding shall be deemed to have been concluded on the date on which award becomes enforceable under section 17(a). An award shall become enforceable on expire of 30 days from the date of its publication under section 17. This is the provision of section 17(a). The award was published on 27th May 1965. The proceeding shall be deemed to have concluded on expiry of 30 days from the date of publication in the "Calcutta Gazette" i.e., 27th June 1965. The instant application had been made on 20th of May 1965, i.e., during the pendency of the reference.

The next question is whether Netai Koley was a workman of Messrs. Nepal Chandra Haluikar and whether he was dismissed during the pendency of the reference. The company stoutly denies the claim of Netai Chandra Koley. According to the petitioner the dismissal took place on 14th June 1963 but the application under section 33A was made on 20th May 1965, i.e., about 2 years after the dismissal. It is significant to note that in the mean time the reference had ended in an award. The award was signed on 20th of April 1965 and it was published in the "Calcutta Gazette" on 27th of May 1965. For this inordinate delay the company asks me to disbelieve the claim of Netai Chandra Koley that he was a workmen of Messrs. Nepal Chandra Haluikar. I will turn to the petition itself. The petitioner states that he was appointed by Nepal Chandra Haluikar in Magh 1369 B.S. In paragraph 4 the petitioner alleges that he was transferred to another shop at 212 Mahatma Gandhi Road and 20 Armenian Street belonging to the relation of the Opposite Party Company. Thus the shop at 212 Mahatma Gandhi Road and 20 Armenian Street where Netai used to work do not belong to this employer admittedly. I will turn to Netai's evidence. He stated that he used to work in Nepal Chandra Haluikar. Thereafter he admits that he was transferred to Armenian Street shop where from he was transferred to Harrison Street shop. Thus at the time of his alleged dismissal he was not working under this employer but in another shop belonging to other persons though they might be related to Messrs. Nepal Chandra Haluikar. No where in the petition it is stated as to who dismissed him. His evidence is also silent on this point. Shri Purusattam Das Gupta, a partner of Nepal Chandra Haluikar in his evidence denied the fact that Netai Koley was employed by him at the Vivekananda Road Shop or in any other shop. He further denies that Netai was transferred to Gupta Brothers. On the evidence referred to above it cannot be concluded that at the time of alleged dismissal Netai had been under the employment of other employers and not under Messrs. Netai Chandra Haluikar. According to his own admission Netai was working at shops belonging to other persons who might be related to the Opposite Party. The alleged dismissal is not borne out by any document. There is nothing on record to show that it was Messrs. Nepal Chandra Haluikar who dismissed the petitioner. With regard to the date of dismissal Netai was not in a position to give the date. According to his own evidence he was dismissed three years ago and he made the petitioner under section 33A three or four years back. At page 2 of his evidence he stated that he filed the petition under section 33A on 25th May 1963 and that he did not file any application in 1965. Netai disowns the petition of 1965 which was heard before the Tribunal. The very fact that Netai did not file any petition under section 33A though he knew about the pending reference and swore an affidavit in that reference will go some length in proving that he was not interested in the reference and he was not in the employment of Nepal Chandra Haluikar nor was he dismissed by Nepal Chandra Haluikar.

If he is dismissed by some other employer who might be related to Nepal Chandra Haluikar he cannot avail of the forum under section 33A on account of a reference pending between Nepal Chandra Haluikar and their workmen. In that event the petitioner would not be concerned in the dispute under reference. The question whether transfer from the shop of Nepal Chandra Haluikar to another shop was justified or not is altogether a different matter and it cannot fall within the complaint under section 33A. On the above proved facts I hold that on the date of alleged dismissal the petitioner was not in the employment of Nepal Chanda Haluikar and as such he was not a workman concerned in the dispute under reference. The conduct of Netai Chanda Koley will corroborate the above finding. He waited till the award was made. Thereafter he came with a hesitant and doubtful petition under section 33A. Shri Bibhuti Paul tried to support the case of Netai. I cannot believe his evidence. It is in direct conflict with the evidence of Netai. Bibhuti Paul wants to say that he has no concern with the affidavit sworn by Natai Koley for the purpose of the main reference. Netai Koley on the other hand states that it was Bibhuti Paul who got everything done in respect of that affidavit in order to support the main reference. It is further significant to note that the affidavit by Netai Koley was all along in the interest of Bibhuti Paul. It is therefore obvious that the affidavit Ext. 1 which was sworn by Netai Chandra Koley in the Court of Presidency Magistrate was secured from him by Bibhuti Paul for the purpose of the main reference. In that affidavit Netai however stated that he used to work at Nos. 16 and 18 Vivekananda Road under the employment of Nepal Chandra Haluikar and that Gupta Brothers who are related to Nepal Chandra Haluikar have a shop at 212 Mahatma Gandhi Road. The requirements of Napal Chandra Haluikar were met by that shop. This affidavit was sworn at 25th May 1963 by Netai. The statements affirmed in that affidavit by Netai Chandra Koley cannot be utilised as evidence in his favour to prove the fact that he was in the employment of Nepal Chandra Haluikar. The affidavit is no evidence in his favour. On the contrary it is clear that this affidavit was secured by Bibhuti Paul and if Netai Koley was in the employment of Nepal Chandra Haluikar he would not have dares to come out with such an affidavit and thereby incurred displeasure of his employer.

On the top of all the onus is upon the workman to prove that he had been in the employment of Nepal Chandra Haluikar at any point of time. The evidence of Bibhuti Paul is unreliable in this respect for the reasons I have already given. One Hirendra Nath Ghosh stated that Netai worked with him. Both Netai and he admitted that their names do not appear in the Khata where the employees of Nepal Chandra Haluikar used to give their signatures for drawing their salary. He wants to say that he as well as some others used to draw salaries on blank vouchers. This evidence cannot be believed. If Nepal Chandra Haluikar had one Khata where all the employees used to sign to draw their salaries, there is no reason why a different mode of payment should be adopted in respect of only a few workers. Admittedly therefore the records of Nepal Chandra Haluikar would not have shown the names of Netai Chandra Koley or his witness Harendra Chandra Ghosh. The workman has accordingly failed to prove that he used to work under Nepal Chandra Haluikar or was dismissed by him.

The application under section 33A of the Industrial Disputes Act is not therefore maintainable and the question of contravention of the provisions of section 33 does not arise.

The application is accordingly rejected on contest. This is the award of the Tribunal.

By Government order No. 508-I.R./IR/11L-253 (A)/63, dated 9th February 1966, the Government of West Bengal has referred to this Tribunal an industrial dispute existing between the Marwari Relief Society (Puri Methai Dokan), and their workmen employed in the Puri Mathai Dokan, represented by Marwari Relief Society Mazdoor Union for adjudication. This dispute was initially referred to the First Industrial Tribunal by Government order No. 2855-I.R./I.R./11L-253(A) /63, dated 13th July 1964. It was later withdrawn from the said Tribunal and referred to this Tribunal for adjudication.

The Marwari Relief Society and the union appeared, filed written statements and were ready for hearing. As the matter was taken up for adjudication, the Society and the union filed a joint petition praying for making an award in terms of settlement in Annexures A and B to the joint petition. The Tribunal takes into consideration that petition and is satisfied, on a consideration of it, that the terms agreed upon between the parties, without prejudice to the rights and contentions of theirs, are legal, just and proper. The union has given up their claim for bonus for the years 1960-61, 1961-62 and 1962-63 in consideration of the Society agreeing to give consolidated pay to the workmen as in Annexure B. It has been furthe ragreed between them that this settlement will come into effect from 1st April 1966 and shall remain valid for 3 years during which period neither the Society nor the union representing the workmen, nor any Association on behalf of the workers of the said shop shall be entitled to revise or modify or terminate the terms of agreement or to make any claim covered by the settlement before the expiry of the said three years. The Tribunal shall accordingly make an award in terms of the settlement. The Tribunal decides the issue in terms of the joint petition and its annexures, and directs that the said joint petition and the two annexures be made part of and annexed to the award.

In the matter of an industrial dispute between Shri Sudhir Kumar Chatterjee, Bus Owner, Tul Tul, Birhata, Kalitala, Burdwan, and his workmen represented by the Burdwan Zilla Motor Karmachari Samity, District Congress Ofice, B. C. Road, Burdwan. (Case No. VIII-283 of 1964.)

BEFORE THE THIRD INDUSTRIAL TRIBUNAL, WEST BENGAL

Present :

Shri S. K. DATTA GUPTA, Judge,
Third Industrial Tribunal.

AWARD

By order No. 4431-I.R./IR/4L-38/64, dated the 22nd September 1964, the Government of West Bengal, in the Labour Department, referred under section 10 of the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947, the industrial dispute between Shri Sudhir Kumar Chatterjee, Bus Owner, Tul Tul, Birhata, Burdwan, and his workmen represented by the Burdwan Zilla Motor Karmachari Samity, District Congress Office, B. C. Road, Burdwan, regarding the matter specified in the Schedule, to the Third Industrial Tribunal, constituted under section 7A of the Industrial Disputes Act, by notification No. 808-I.R./IR/3A-2/57, dated the 11th March 1957, for adjudication.

Issue

Is the termination of employment of Shri Zakir Hossain justified? What relief, if any, is he entitled?

In pursuance of notices issued from this Tribunal the parties appeared and filed written statements.

In the written statement filed on behalf of the Samity, it was stated that the concerned worker Shri Zakir Hossain, an active member of the Burdwan Zilla Motor Karmachari Samity, was a permanent employee under Shri Sudhir Kumar Chatterjee, Bus Owner. On 1st August 1962 Shri Sudhir Kumar Chatterjee verbally terminated the services of Shri Zakir Hossain. The Samity contends that this termination of service of Shri Zakir Hossain was illegal and unjustified and prays for his reinstatement in service with back wages.

In reply to the Samity's case as stated in its written statement filed, Shri Sudhir Kumar Chatterjee filed a written statement on 23rd February 1965, and therein he inter alia stated that the Samity's allegation that he had terminated the services of Shri Zakir Hossain under him, is without any basis and contended that Shri Zakir Hossain had voluntarily resigned from his service and given up his job on account of his being attacked with Carconima in his right side fourth toe.

After the parties had filed their written statements as also list of documents on which they intend to rely in support of their cases, the case was fixed for hearing on 13th April 1966. On that date the parties filed a joint petition stating that the dispute referred to this tribunal for adjudication has been amicably settled on terms mentioned in the petition. In terms of the compromise Shri Sudhir Kumar Chatterjee paid Rs. 225 to Shri Zakir Hossain. Shri Shyam Sundar Choudhury, Vice President of the Samity, endorsed this payment on the petition of compromise, which was signed by Shri Sudhir Kumar Chatterjee as also by Shri Zakir Hossain himself. I have considered the terms as embodied in the petition and also heard the parties' representatives on the petition. The terms appear to me to be fair and legal. I am satisfied that the parties have settled their dispute on terms mentioned in the petition. A "no dispute" award must, therefore be passed in this case.

In view of the foregoing discussions a "no dispute" award on terms mentioned in the joint petition be passed. The joint petition do form part of the award.

AWARD

This is a complaint under Section 33A of the Industrial Disputes Act by two workmen of Messrs. Agnihotra Oil Mill (P) Ltd., 37-1 Canal West Road, Calcutta (hereinafter called the 'Company').

Government of West Bengal by its Labour Department order No. 1206-I.R./IR/15L-3/64, dated 19th March 1964, has referred for adjudication to this Tribunal another dispute existing between the company and their workmen including the two complainants. During the pendency of the said proceeding under Section 10 for adjudication, these two complainants were charge-sheeted on 21st April 1965 by the company and were verbally dismissed but the company did not make any application before the Tribunal under Section 33. The two workmen, therefore, filed this complaint praying for adjudication of their complaint.

The company on being notified appeared and filed written objection to the complaint.

On the date fixed for hearing of the matter, the company and the two workmen filed a joint petition of compromise. By it, the company has agreed to give employment to the two workmen if they report for duty within 10 days, from 6th May 1966. The two workmen have on such proposal by the company, prayed for making as award on their complaint in terms thereof. The Tribunal having considered the joint petition is satisfied that its terms are just, legal and proper. The Tribunal would record it and would make its award in terms thereof.

In the result, the Tribunal disposes of the complaint under Section 33A in terms of the joint petition of compromise and directs that the said joint petition of compromise be made part and be annexed to the award.

Evening Shift for six days a week from 3 P.M. to 11 P.M.
Night Shift for six days a week from 11 P.M. to 7 A.M.

The workmen affected by this change in the duty hours are suffering irreparable loss and dislocation in their house-hold affairs. Changes have also been introduced in violation of the provision of all existing statutes. Not only that, the changes introduced is a change of condition of service effected through an ulterior motive and is tantamount to an instance of unfair labour practice initiated after the demand made for overtime wages payable for continuous performance was conceded to. The union, therefore, prays that the Calcutta Electric Supply Corporation Ltd. may be directed to revert to the old shift-rota and/or shift-system for the Switch Board Attendants, the Telephone Operators and the Steam Plant Operators employed in the Mulajore Generating Station and the Switch-Board Attendants at the Bhatpara Distributing Station.

In its reply to the statement of the case, dated 21st April 1965, filed by the Calcutta Electric Supply Corporation Workers' Union, the company stated that among the workmen concerning in this dispute, Switch Board Attendants who are in grades A and B and the Steam Plant Operators are governed by the provisions of the Factories Act. including those appearing under Chapter VI thereof Working Hours of Adults''. The Senior Switch Board Attendants being in the Supervisory Cadre, and the Telephone operators, not being covered by the definition of "workers" in section 2(i) of the said Act, are not governed by the provisions appearing under Chapter VI of the Factories Act. The Switch Board Attendants, the Steam Plant Operators and the Telephone Operator all are at the Companys Generating Stations and the Switch Board Attendants at the Company's Bhatpara Switch and Transformer House work in 3 alternating shifts, covering 24 hours of the day. During the communal disturbance early in 1964 when special emergency arrangements had to be effected for continuity of electricity, it was found that the Switch Board Attendants, the Steam Plant Operators and the Telephone Operators at Mulajore Generating Station, and the Switch Board Attendants at the Bhatpara Switch and Transformer House and mutually arranged to following working hours which entailed in some cases work in excess of the daily statutory limits, while in others it fell short of 48 hours in some weeks. In this process workers while on night shift worked for 11 hours on each of two successive days every week followed by two off days. The arrangement was in contravention of the Factories Act, and inconsistant with the company's working schedule. To rectify this, a model shift rota was drawn up conforming to the relevant provisions of the Factories Act and subject to 48 hours of work per week in accordance with the practice followed for shift workers in other Generating Stations of the company. Before putting the model shift rota into operation, opportunity was offered to the Union to suggest any alternative arrangements within the frame work of the Factories Act and subject to 48 hours of work per week. The Secretary of the Union's, Mulajore Unit, by his letter, dated 29th March 1964, agreed in principle to the introduction of a shift rota in conformity to the provisions of the Factories Act as well as subject to 48 hours of work per week. The Secretary, however, suggested an alternative scheme of shift rota which fell short of 48 hours of weekly work in some weeks and as such it was not acceptable to the company. A shift rota system on the basis of the aforesiad model shift rota was then drawn up and implemented at Mulajore Generating Station accepting the timings suggested by the said Secretary of the Union as far as practicable but arranging the shifts and the off days in such a manner as to conform to the Factories Act and also to obtain 48 hours work per week from the operatives in accordance with the company's schedule for such shift workers. This change was introduced to regulariso the irregular working hours of the various categories of workers and was not effected through any ulterior motive as has been suggested on behalf of the union. The company accordingly prays that the present system of shift rota be allowed to continue.

Switch Board Attendants, Telephone Operators and Steam Plant Operators at Mulajore Generating Station and the Switch Board Attendants at Bhatpara Distributing Station are the different categories of the workers of the company involved in the present reference. It is not disputed that prior to March, 1964, these workers used to get 2 days' consecutive off after working 48 hours spread over 6 consecutive days and that these 48 hours were distributed in 3 shifts which were as follows :

(1) 2 days' shifts each from 8 A.M. to 4 P.M.
(2) 2 evening shifts each from 4 P.M. to 9 P.M.
(3) 2 night shift each from 9 P.M. to 8 A.M.

In March, 1964, however, the company changed the shifts and introduced new shift rotas which were as under :

(1) Day shift for 2 days a week from 7 A.M. to 3 P.M.
(2) Evening shift for 2 days a week from 3 P.M. to 10 P.M.
(3) Night shift for 2 days a week from 10 P.M. to 7 A.M.

As a result of the introduction of this new rota, the total working hours per week remain unaffected, only the period of the different shifts was changed. The union on behalf of the workers has challenged this change over to the new shift rota as unjustified and illegal and it was contended on behalf of the Union that as by working under the old shift, the workers have acquired by usage a legal right to get 2 consecutive day's off after working 48 hours spread-over 6 consecutive days, the company had no right under law to introduce the present shift rota under consideration which in effect, has also changed the conditions of the service of the workers under the company. The union has also challenged this change-over to this new shift rota as arbitrary and unwarranted. Reference to the provisions of the Factories relevant for the purpose of a adjudication of the issues under consideration will however indicate that none of these contentions of the union has any substance.

In paragraph 5 of the written statement filed on behalf of the union, it has been categorically stated that according to the Standing Orders of the company as provided in Clause 12, all shift work is guided by the regulations of the Factories Act. Clause 12 of the Standing Orders of the company lays down that shift working will be carried on in such departments of the company as may be necessary in view of the continuous nature of the process of electic supply and such shift working will conform to the regulations of the Factories Act. Under section 51 of the Factories Act (hereinafter be referred to in this Award as the 'Act') no adult worker shall be required or allowed to work in a Factory for more than 48 hours in any week and section 54 of tais Act lays down that no adult worker shall be required or allowed to work for more than 9 hours a day. This maximum of daily working hours as fixed by section 54, may, however, be extended by rules made under subsection 2 of section 64 of the Act, subject to the limit as prescribed in clause 1 of sub-section 4 of section 64. Under this sub-rule 1 of sub-section 4, the total number of hours of work in any day inclusive of overtime, shall not exceed 10. In 1963, the West Bengal Government framed rules under Section 64, known as West Bengal Factories' (Exemption) Rules, 1963, and rule 9 of this Factories' (Exemption) Rule, lays down that the provisions of sections 51, 52, 54, 55 and 56 shall not apply to the adult male workers employed in the Electrical Generating and Distributing Stations on on the work of generation and distribution of electrical energy and operation of sitch-gear. This rule thus takes away the work of this generating and distributing section from the ambit of sections 51 and 54 respectively, and Rule No. 9 of the Factories' (Exemption) Rule provides that no worker employed in the generating stations or the other factories mentioned in this rule shall not be employed to work in excess of the limits specified in sub-secion 4 of section 64 and it has already been pointed out above that this sub-section 4 of of sections 64 says that in no case any worker shall be employed daily for more than 10 hours including overtime. As under the old system the night shifts covered 11 hours of work at a stretch, the system was certainly against the stattues and cannot under any circumstances, be justified. As the old night shift was against the statute, the Management can only continue the shift only at the risk of being prosecuted under the Factories' Act for violation of the mandatory provisions of the Act regulating to the shift hours of a worker.

It is not disputed that the concerned workers were from long before the present dispute working on 48 hours and that under the system of work introduced in 1964 and challenged in this reference by the union as unjustified and illegal, the workers are required to work for this 48 hours spread over 6 consecutive days. Further undisputed fact is and it is also apparent from Ext. A(3) that after duties in two consecutive night shifts, the workers were allowed one day off. For instance, a worker with the second night shift duty on a Friday, is required to join the day shift on Sunday following. As the night shift closes at 7 A.M. and the day shift also starts at 7 A.M., the worker gets 24 hours' off after working 6 consecutive days. And this, in my opinion, is sufficient compliance with the requirements of section 52 of the Act. It has been contended on behalf of the union that as immediately after the close of the second night shift, the workers on duty cannot leave the factory, but have to wait sometimes for the next shift workers, they do not get 24 hours' off and that accordingly under the present system the workers are denied the privilege of a whole day off. This argument again cannot be accepted by me. If the workers work strictly accordingly to the shift, all workers will have to present themselves for duty at the commencement of their respective shifts, and in that case, workers of a shift can easily leave the premises of the factory immediately the shift was over. If still some workers of a shift wait in the factory for arrival of the next shift workers, they do so only to accommodate their fellow workers of the next shift but for this accommodation thus given to the fellow workers, they cannot contend that under the present system they are not getting for 24 hours' off.

In view of the foregoing discussions I am of opinion that there is no justification to allow the union's prayer to direct the company to revert to the old system of work. To allow the union's prayer will be forcing the company to accept to position attended with the risk of prosecution under the Factories' Act and no Tribunal can certainly allow such a prayer. As the workers were and are still required to work for 48 hours a week, there was also no change in the service conditions when the new shifts were introduced. The old system of work introduced by the Management was against the provisions of the Factories' Act and under no circumstances, can the system be allowed to continue even though introduced by the Management itself.

It was next contended on behalf of the union that as Shift-charge Engineers, Assistant Shift-charge Engineers, Junior Engineers and Senior Switch-Board Attendants are still allowed to work in the old shifts, the introduction of the new shifts with respect to the concerned workers was discriminatory and cannot, for this reason be justified. In view of the scope of the reference it is not necessary for me to decide whether the company should have also introduced the new shifts with respect to those classes of officers also, but this much can be said in view of rule 3 of the West Bengal Government Factories' (Exemption) Rules and the evidence of P.W 1 Shri Amal Sen Gupta that the company was justified to exempt these categories of officers from the new shifts. In his evidence in cross-examination, P.W.1 stated that Shift-charge Engineer, Assistant charge Engineer and Junior Shift-charge Engineer not only look after the Switch-Board but also look after the Generating Station. They thus, have also a supervisory duty and rule 3 of the West Bengal Factories' (Exemption) Rules says that any person holding any position of supervision is exempted from the provisions of Chapter VI of the Factories' Act, other than the provisions of clause D of sub-section 1 of section 66 and the proviso thereto. Even if it be assumed that those categories of officers are covered by Chapter VI of the Act, and that the company for this reason, was not justified to allow them to continue to work under the old system, that cannot be any reason for upholding the union's contention that the introduction of the new system only with respect to the workers under reference, was discriminatory and as such, illegal. Undoubtedly the old system is against the provisions of the Act and the Management was perfectly justified to abolish this system and to introduce the new shifts in accordance with the provisions of the Act. Practically, by introducing the new shifts, the Management has regularised works that were previously illegal and there cannot be any reason to uphold the union's prayer for direction on the company to revert to the old system. The union's prayer for directing the company to revert to the old shift rota and or shift system for the Switch-Board Attendants, the Telephone Operators and the Steam Plant Operators employed in the Mulajore Station and the Switch-Board Attendants of the Bhatpara Distributing Station is in these circumstances, overruled.

This is my award.

AWARD

This award in the record of Case No. VIII-13/65 will govern this case and case No. VIII-12/65. These two cases have arisen out of 2 references made by the Government of West Bengal in its Labour Department order No. 87-I.R /IR/11L-354/64, and No. 88-I.R./IR/11L-364/64, both dated 9th January 1965. These relate to an industrial dispute existing between Messrs. New India Flour Mills (hereinafter called Company No. 1) and their workmen represented by the New India and Mahabir Flour Mills Employees' Union (hereinafter called the Union) and an industrial dispute existing between Messrs. Mahabir Flour Mills (her ein after called Company No. 2.) and their workmen represented by the same Union. These are references under section 10 of the Industrial Disputes Act and relate to the question as to whether the termination of employment of certain workmen of the two comp nie is justified.

Facts may be briefly stated. These two companies, situate at two different premises, are under the same proprietors and same management. Three female employees of company No. 1 and two female employees of company No. 2 jointly submitted a petition before the Deputy Commissioner of Police, Northern Division, Calcutta, on 18th March 1964, complaining against four male members of the two companies. A police enquiry was made on the said petition. The police, being of the opinion that the allegations made in the petition were not cognizable offences, did not take any action thereon by an endorsement, dated 22nd April 1964. On 21st April 1964, the Manager of the Mills, by a notice, asked the female workers/complainants to submit to him a true copy of the said complaint. The female workers replied to that notice on 23rd April 1964 saying that the company's Manager had knowledge of the complaint and had not taken any action thereon. On 26th May 1964 each of these five female workers was charge-sheeted by the partners of the company (vide Ext. 5). To the charge-sheets the female workers replied on the same line as in Ext. 6. Shri Ajit Kumar Mandal, one of the employees of the company, held. an inquiry into the charge-sheets on 24th July 1964, All the five workmen appeared before him but later left the place before any evidence was recorded. The enquiring officer, thereafter, recorded evidence in their absence and made his findings in writing on 27th July 1964. One of the partners of the companies, on the basis of his findings, ordered dismissal of these five female workers and issued letters accordingly. The five female workers challenged this dismissal as not justified. They stated that their complaints to the Deputy Commissioner of police were true; that they did not get any remedy on the complaints from the company and therefore, approched the police; that having got no relief there, they had filed a complaint before the Police Magistrate and the said case was pending; that they are members of one union and the four male workers against whom they had complained, are members of a rival union sponsored by the company with a view to disband and break the other union, that the company mala fide and with a view to victimise the workers issued false charge-sheets against them ; that the enquiry held by the companies officers was vitiated as the workers were not given opportunity to produce their witnesses or to cross-examine the companies' witnesses; that on the date of enquiry, the enquiring officer asked the workers to sign on blanksheets of paper and on their declining to do so, they had to left the place; that the charges brought against the workers did not come within the purview of the Standing Orders and had no bearing with the companies' work, that there should not have been any dismissal on such charges, even if proved. They prayed for their reinstatement and back wages, bonus, etc.

The two companies filing two written statements, made identical averments. They stated that not a single worker of the mills was a member of the union at whose instance, the references have been made; that the Tribunal has no jurisdiction, therefore, to adjudicate upon the dispute; that the female workers made false statements before the Deputy Commissioner of Police against the male workers; that on account of that, the situation of the Mills deteriorated to great extent, that the companies, therefore, asked the female workers to forward a copy of their complaint to the companies for its investigation into them; that the female workers did not forward the complaint as requested and took recourse to various vilifications against some workers of the Mills including the Manager, that the said conduct was gross indiscipline on the part of the workers and the companies issued charge-sheets against them and suspended them pending enquiry; that in an enquiry, duly and properly held, the charges were proved; that there was no violation of the principle of natural justice in the conduct of holding of the enquiry; that in spite of best efforts of the companies the workers did not participate in the enqiury; that the Management had dismissed the workers on the basis of the report of the enquiring officer; that the workers are not entitled to any relief as prayed for.

The issues in the two cases are:

(1) Whether the termination of employment of the following workmen is justified ? To what relief, if any, are they entitled ?

(i) Shrimati Tulsi Rani Saha ,

(ii) Shrimati Charubala Saha,

(iii) Shrimati Ganga Devi.

(2) Whether the termination of employment of the following workmen is justified ? To what relief, if any, are they entitled ?

(i) Shrimati Dulari Devi.

(ii) Shrimati Lakshmi Devi.

The Company did not press its objection that the Tribunal has no jurisdiction as the dispute has been raised by a union of which the dismissed employees are members. Evidence of P.W.'s clearly proves that they are members of the union. The Tribunal rejects this objection.

By letter Ext. M (3), dated 4th August 1964, and by letter Exts. J, J (1) and J (2) of date 4th August 1964, the two companies had dismissed these five female workers. It appears from these letters that the ground on which they had been dismissed was that they made vile allegations against the male workers to the police regarding their moral character which caused serious dissatisfaction and unrest amongst the workers and that the said act was an act of gross misconduct from the stand-point of factory discipline and that for maintenance of the factory discipline, the Management had decided to dismiss each of them from service. It is contended by the union of workers that no charge of misconduct relating to factory discipline was brought against any of them and that, therefore, the order of dismissal on that ground was unjust. To support their contention they referred to the charge-sheet, Ext. C, dated 26-5-64. It appears from the last but two paragraphs of the charge-sheets that the charge was that they made vile allegations against the workers and that making of false complaints against factory workers regarding moral character before the police was an act of gross misconduct on the stand-point of factory discipline. So, the substance of the charge was that each of the five female workers lodged false complaints against four male workers before the police. The question is whether making of false complaints to the police against other workers of the company is any misconduct Rules of service regarding discharge, dismissal and punishment were laid down in the Appendix to the award of the Tribunal published under "Calcutta Gazette" Notification No. 5140-Lab, 11th October, 1949. New India Flour Mills, 41, Simla Road, that is, Company No. 1 was a party in that award. Company No. 2 was, no doubt, not a party in that award, but it is proved, and not disputed, that both the companies are owned by the same set of persons and are under the same management. Para. 15 of the Appendix of that award mentions major misdemeanours for which a workman may be dismissed. Act which may go against the discipline of the factory is not a major misconduct under that paragraph. So it was rightly contended by the union that the dismissal of the workers of company No. 1 for any act effecting the discipline of the factory was unjustified as that was not a misconduct for which dismissal could be ordered in accordance with the rules of service regarding disharge, dismissal and punishment As both the companies are under the same ownership and management, the said Standing Orders applied to company No. 2 also and for the same reason as indicated above, dismissal of the the workers of company No. 2 was also unjustified. It was not said or proved that there were any certified Standing Orders of company No. 2 Therefore, in accordance with section 12A of the Industrial Employment (Standing Orders) Act, the Model Standing Orders are applicable to company No. 2. Para. 14 (VIII) of the Model Standing Orders lays down that any act subversive of discipline is a misconduct for which dismissal may be ordered. If it is held that the Model Standing Orders are applicable to company No. 2, then the contention of the Union that the workers of company No. 2, had been dismissed unjustly, cannot be upheld his makes it necessary for the Tribuna o consider whether making false allegation against other workers of the factory to the police may be held to be an act subversive of the discipline of the factory. It was contended that the complaint made by the female workers to the police against other workmen was not any act done within the factory and as such, it cannot be called an act subversive of the discipline of the factory. The contention, more tersely put is that an act committed outside the working hours or outside the place of work, is not an act subversive of discipline of the factory. In order that an act committed outside the establishment may amount to an act subversvie of discipline it has got to be borne in mind that the employer is not the general custodian of the moralcs of the workmen. Any act, however, reprehensible or criminal it may be, committed by them in the sphere of their private life, cannot be considered as ar act subversive of discipline. In order that an act committed outside the working hours and outside the establishment, may be regarded as an act subversive of discipline, it must be either (i) inconsistent with the fulfilment of the express or implied condition of service or (ii) indirectly linked with the general relationship of employer and employee or (iii) have a direct action with the contentment or comfort of the men at work or (iv) has a material bearing on the smooth and efficient working of the concern, [Vide 1953 (1), L. L. J., 876 and 1955 (1), L. L. J., 164]. The Tribunal will test the facts of these cases in the light of above principles. The only thing that was said in the charge-sheet was that vile allegations caused serious dissatisfaction and unrest amongst those workers. That does not bring the case within any of the four essentials mentioned above. The allegations made by the female workers in their petition to the Deputy Commissioner of Police (Ext. 1), may be termed vile, if false. It is not disputed nor disputable that on the date the charge-sheet was issued, there was no investigation by any authority proving that the allegations in the complaint Ext. 1 were false. The companies in the charge-sheet Ext. C accepted the position that only making false complaints would amount to gross misconduct. So, the falsity of the allegations in Ext. 1, whether vile or not, was the guiding factor to decide whether that was misconduct or not. It is the case of the companies that they did not get a copy of the female workers' complaint to the Police on the date they issued the charge-sheet Ext. C. So, the companies were not in a position to say in the charge-sheet that the statements in Ext. 1 were untrue. Reference was made to the Police report which is part of Ext. K. What Shri D. P. Bakshi, Sub-Inspector of Police, stated there was that the allegations, on the whole, could not be substantiated. He did not conclude that the allegations were false. The allegations are false and the allegations are not substantiated are two different things. In the circumstances, it could not be said that there was a charge in the charge-sheet which could be termed as misconduct within the Model Standing Orders or the Standing Orders in the Appendix to the award of 11th October, 1949.

The union next referred to the report of the enquiring officer to argue that there had been no finding of misconduct in that report. The report is Ext. O. His conclusions were that the allegations made by the female workers before the Police were not true and that the female workers, being members of a rival union, had taken recourse to false allegations to harass the male workers, who are members of another union. He further concluded that the allegations that were made by the female workers were highly reprehensible act from he stand-point of factory peace and discipline. It has already been pointed out that allegation, even if false, made before the police by one set of workers against another set of workers of the same factory, would not by itself, make that a misconduct of the complaining workers. It was a matter of proof whether or not such allegations had affected the factory peace and discipline or tended to affect the factory peace and discipline. Mere comment of the enquiring officer that they so tend to affect the factory peace and discipline would not be just or adequate. Evidence recorded by the enquiring officer is marked Ext. N. It could not be shown from the evidence that there was anything from which the enquiring officer could see that false allegations by the female workers tended to destroy factory discipline or peace. There was no evidence before him that factory discipline or peace was destroyed or affected or that there was any tendency towards that. The witnesses examined by the enquiring officer were the four male workers, who were complained against, that is, Babulal, Sadhucharan, Jadumani and Chandradwip. The other two witnesses examined before him were the mill Manager Shri Ram Niwas and Shri Bhagawandas Joshi. Even the Manager did not say that the lodging of the complaint to the Police by female workers did, in any way, destroy peace or discipline of the factory or tended to destroy it. What he stated was that the male workers, complained against, requested him to take steps against the female workers saying that if steps were not taken against them for such false complaints, it would not be possible for them, that is, those 4 male workers, to work peacefully in the factory. So that even, if accepted as it did not prove that the lodging of the complaint to the Police tended to destroy the discipline or peace of the factory. It is to be again reiterated here that there was no mention in the charge-sheet that the making of the false complaint tended to destroy the discipline of the factory. What was stated was that making of a complaint it false was a gross misconduct from the stand-point of the factory discipline. So, on the charge-sheet, the enquiring officer was not entitled to or could find that the act of the female workers in lodging the complaint to the Police was subversive of discipline of the factory. For dismissal of a workman for misconduct, the charge must be clearly mentioned in the charge-sheet, so that the workman could follow and defend himself properly (Vide L. A. C. 1952, page 399). It was laid down in the case reported in 1956 (II) L. L. J. page 666, that an employer should be confined to the charge-sheet given by him to his employee when an enquiry was held into his misconduct. So it is quite clear that on the charge-sheet, Ext. C, no conclusion that the female workmen were guilty of the act subversive of discipline of the factory, could be made. Necessarily, the dismissal based on such conclusion was unjustified.

It will be appropriate to deal with another contention of the union. It was pleaded that the enquiry was vitiated as workmen were not given opportunity to cross-examine the companies' witnesses or to produce there own witnesses. This contention the Tribunal finds as not acceptable. Admittedly the workmen attended the enquiry on the date it was held. Admittedly, they left the place after some time without participating in the enquiry. In the circumstances, the enquiring officer was fully justified, and had in fact, no other alternative but to proceed with the enquiry in their absence.

If any worker remains absent from the enquiry, necessarily he cannot complain of not being given opportunity of cross-examining company's witnesses or examining his own witnesses. It was further contended that the workmen had to leave the place because the enquiring officer asked them to sign on blank papers and on their refusal, asked them to leave the place. This, even if true, should not justify their not participating in the enquiry. The workmen, on their own case, were strong enough to resist the enquiring officer's attempt to get their signatures on blank sheets. If they resisted that, they should have, thereafter, participated in the enquiry. The enquiry was held on 24th July 1964. On 25th July 1964 by Ext. 9, the union wrote to the Labour Officer stating that the enquiring officer wanted their signatures on blank papers and that he also requested them to join the other union. There also they did not state that they were made to leave the place. The companies by their letter Ext. M (2), dated 24th July 1964 informed the workers that they left the place of enquiry after quarreling with the enquiring officer. The Union's letter to the Labour Officer was sent on 25th July 1964 on the same subject. The Tribunal, on a consideration of the evidences, decides that the enquiry proceeding could not be challenged as vitiated on this ground.

Even if it is taken that the four male workers, against whom the female workers loged their complaints to the Police, found it not possible to work peacefully in the factory because of the complaint, then also, that would not amount to a misconduct as an act subversive of the discipline of the factory. The question was whether the lodging of the complaint destroyed or tended to destroy the discipline of the factory. That had nothing to do with the mental condition of the workers complained against. The company examined seven witnesses before this Tribunal to justify the dismisal on the ground of the female workers' making of the complaint to the Police as an act subversive of discipline of the factory. O. P. W. 1 was the enquiring officer. He had no knoweldge about the incidents which were the subject matters of the charge-sheet. O. P. W. 2 was one of the persons complained against, that is, Chandra Dey. O. P. W. 3 was the Police Officer who held enquiry into the complaint of the female workers. O. P. W. 4, 5 and 6 where the other workers complained against. O. P. W. 7 was the Mill Manager. They were the persons, except Ajit and D. P. Bakshi, who gave evidence before the enquiry committee. None of them proved anything from which it could be said that the logding of the complaint to the Police tended to destroy the discipline of the factory. The Tribunal does not think that on the evidence given before it, any conclusion that the female workers were guilty of misconduct or of committing act subversive of discipline, can be made by it.

The final argument made by the union was that the dismissal ordered by the company had not resulted in dismissal because there were matters pending before the Conciliation Officer when the charge-sheets were issued and enquiry was held and no application under section 33 was made to the said conciliation officer and his permission or approval taken. The companies' objection to this argument being made at the hearing was that this was not taken as a ground in the written statement of the union. True this was not taken as a ground in any of its written statements of the two unions. But the Tribunal allowed this contention to be made as it was more a point based on law and on undisputed facts. Ext. 10 is the letter written by the Assistant Labour Commissioner to the two companies, with copy sent to the union. By letter Ext. 11, he attempted conciliation into the matter. It was during the pendency of that conciliation with those orders of dismissal were issued on 4th August 1964. It is not disputed, nor disputable that the companies made no application under Section 33 to the conciliation officer for permission or approval of the section of dismissal of the workmen. That being so, it was rightly contended by the union that the order of dismissal, which was made by the companies, even if held otherwise justified, had not been effective as an order of dismissal. The order of dismissal remains incomplete and inchoate until the approval is obtained, till then, it does not terminate the relationship of employer and employee. In this view of the matter, also, the termination of employment of these female workers should have been held as not justified.

It was contended by the union that the punishment of dismissal was disproportionate to the charge against the workers and that it proved the companies' mind to victimise them. Reference was made to the case reported in 1963 (I), L. L. J., page 291 and 1965 (I), L. L. J., page 462 in support of the contention. If it is seen that the punishment of dismissal was grossly disproportionate to the offences committed, then the Tribunal would be justified in concluding that the workmen were victimised. What was the charge ? The female workers complained against the male workers of indecent behaviour. The question as to whether the said complaint was false or true is admittedly pending determination before a Magistrate. It is also admitted that the male workers have started a case by lodging a complaint for defamation against the female workers. That is also pending determination before a Magistrate. It has been pointed out that the result of the Police enquiry into the complaint was not such as would justify a conclusion anybody that the complaint was false. Here, the female workers stated that their complaints were true and that the male workers stated that the complaints were false. In this state of evidence, it was not proper to conclude that the complaints were false. It has been pointed out that the statements in Ext. A and in the petition of complaint before the Magistrate had not agreed in details. In the petition to the Deputy Commissioner, allegations were general in nature and were not specific whereas those made before the Police Magistrate were definite as to date, place and nature. From that it is not possible to say that the complaint before the Magistrate or before the Police is false. It is hardly to be expected that the persons complained against would say that the complaints were true. The Police Officer's investigation was confined to asking only the persons complained against. On that it would be quite unjust to say that the complaints were false. The mind of the company is revealed in them the letter Ext. A, dated 21st April 1964. The Manager issued that letter taking it for granted that the complaints were false though admittedly, he did not see the complaints then nor investigated into it. He began the third paragraph of Ext. A saying 'esince yoursuch false complaints.' In those circumstances, it was perhaps right to say that the company passed an extreme punishment of dismissal for such a minor an offence. The offence is nothing more than the complaints against he other workers in the matter of their own morality and decency. So, the union's criticism that the company had victimised them by passing disproportionate punishment is justified. The Tribunal in the result, finds that the termination of employment of these five female workers was not justified on all the grounds stated above. The reliefs that the workers are entitled to are that they should be reinstated and should get all their wages and other benefits as employees from the date of their dismissal that is, 4th August 1964.

Accordingly, the Tribunal answers first part of the issue in both the references in the negative and directs that the company No. 1 reinstate the three female workers' viz., (i) Shrimati Tulsirani Saha, (ii) Shrimati Charubala Saha and (iii) Shrimati Ganga Devi in Case No. VIII-13/1965 and pay each of them her wages and give her other benefits as the employee of the company from 4th August 1964 and direct company No. 2 (Case No. VIII-13/1965) to reinstate the two female workers, viz., (i) Shrimati Dulari Devi and (ii) Shrimati Lakshmi Devi and pay each of them her wages and give other benefits as the employee of the company with effect from 4th August 1964.

Hindusthan Pilkington Glass Works, P.O. Asansol, district Burdwan, and their workmen represented by the Glass Factory Mazdoor Union, P.O.Asansol, district Burdwan, regarding the matter specified in the Schedule, to the Third Industrial Tribunal, constituted under section 7A of the Industrial Disputes Act, by Notification No. 808-I.R./IR/3A-2/57, dated the 11th March 1957, for adjudication.

Issue

1. Is the dismissal of darwan Shiba Prasad justified? To what relief, if any, is he entitled ?

In pursuance of notices from the Tribunal parties appeared and filed written statements.

In the written statement filed on behalf of the Glass Factory Mazdoor Union, it has been stated that the concerned worker Shiba Prasad had been appointed as a durwan by Hindusthan Pilkingtons Glass Works Ltd., Asansol, in the vacancy caused by the absence of the darwan holding clock No. D.U.2. Since the appointment Shiba Prasad had been continuously working as a darwan in the aforesaid vacancy without any blemish whatsoever On 23rd February 1964 as also on subsequent dates Shiba Prasad reported for duty, but was not detailed for any duty on any of those days. On being apprised of the situation by Shiba Prasad, the union contacted the authorities on his behalf, and was informed that the service of Shiba Prasad had been terminated on the ground of surplusage. This ground given by the management for termination of service of Shiba Prasad was wholly baseless as even after the termination of his services a number of durwans have been recruited. The union, therefore, placed the matter before the Assistant Labour Commissioner, Asansol, for his intervention and conciliation. No conciliation, however, could be effected by the Assistant Labour Commissioner and the matter was referred to this Tribunal for adjudication. The union contends that the termination of the services of Shiba Prasad was illlegal and unjustified and pressed for his reinstatement with back wages.

In reply to the union's written statement filed in this case, company filed its own written statement on 26th December 1964 and therein it categorically denied the union's case that Shiba Prasad was in continuous service from his appointment till dismissal and that his services had been terminated on ground of surplusage. The company also stated in its written statement that Shiba Prasad was appointed as a budli durwan on 7th October 1962 to work in the vacancy of durwan No. D.U.2 up to 3rd November 1962. On 5th November 1962 Shiba Prasad was again appointed as a budli durwan to work in the vacancy of D. U. 33 up to 10th November 1962. Thereafter on 11th November 1962 he was appointed as a budli durwan in place of D.U.23 who was on military service. From 11th November 1962 till 11th December 1963 when he was appointed as probationer durwan, Shiba Prasad worked in the leave vacancy of D.U. 23, but his service as a probationer durwan was terminated on 26th February 1964 as on 21st February 1964 he was found sleeping when on duty. Shiba Prasad was a probationer and his service was terminated as the company had found that by his gross negligence of duty he had forfeited his claims to be continued as a probationer or to be made permanent after the expiry of his probationary period. His dismissal was, in the circumstances, justified and he is not entitled to any relief whatsoever.

The concerned worker Shiba Prasad was a durwan under the Hindusthan Pilkington Glass Works, Asansol (hereinafter referred to in the judgement) and it is not disputed that his services under the company as durwan was terminated on 26th February 1966 after he had put in more than one year's service as such durwan. Regarding termination of services of Shiba Prasad company's case was that he was appointed as probationer durwan on 11th December 1963 but his service was discontinued with effect from 26th February 1966 in accordance with the company's certified Standing Orders as he was found sleeping on 21st February 1966 while on duty.

The certified Standing Order of the company is Ext.A in this case and in this Standing Order the workers have been classified in five classes, viz., (1) permanent or regular workmen, (2) probationers, (3) temporary workmen, (4) trade apprentices and (5) casual workmen. Permanent or Regular workmen as defined in the Standing Order means those entered as such in the company's muster-roll whose service has been confirmed in writing after satisfactory completion of the probationary period of six consecutive months in the same or another occupation in the factory or a period of apprenticeship of at least three consecutive years in the occupation to which apprenticed. Probationers under the Standing Orders are those workers employed to fill a vacancy in a regular post and who have not completed six months consecutive service therein.

On materials on record it cannot be disputed that on the date of the termination of service Shiba Prasad was a probationer durwan of the company though in the written statement filed on behalf of the union it has been alleged that Shiba Prasad was rendering continuous service as durwan of the company from 6th October 1962 to 21st February 1964. Shiba Prasad has not in his evidence before this tribunal denied the company's assertion in its written statement filed that on 11th December 1963 he was appointed as a probationer durwan against a regular vacancy and accordingly even it be conceded that Shiba Prasad was in continuous service since 6th December 1962, still there cannot be any escape from the conclusion that he was a probationer durwan when dismissed. A mere continuity of service for more than a year cannot in view of the definition of a permanent worker, as given in the Standing Orders make a worker permanent. He has to satisfy the other tests of a permanent worker as given in the Standing Orders before he can claim that he is a permanent staff of the company. In the instant case there is no evidence indicating that Shiba Prasad's name was entered on the company's muster-roll of workers, whose services have been confirmed in writing after satisfactory completion of a probationary period of 3 consecutive months. Shiba Prasad also has not in his evidence made any statement indicating that when he was appointed as a durwan he was appointed in a permanent capacity. In this view of the matter the question of the validity/legality of the termination of his service as a durwan under the company must be decided on the footing that on the date of termination of his service he was working as a probationer durwan in the company.

Under the Standing Orders, the employment of workmen other than permanent, may be terminated by written notice and may take effect immediately. The order by which Shiba Prasad's service was terminated is Ext. A in this case. It appears from this exhibit that the company had terminated the services of Shiba Prasad without assigning any reason whatsoever Relying on the provision of the Standing Orders relating to the termination of services of probationers, the learned Advocate for the company contended that when under the Standing Orders the management had the contractual right to terminate the services of the respondent without assigning any reason therefor, the dismissal of Shiba Prasad cannot be challenged on the ground that management had not in the order of dismissal, given any reason for termination of service of Shiba Prasad and that this Tribunal has also no jurisdiction to interfere with the order of dismissal. In view of the decision of the Supreme Court in the case of Utkal Machinery Ltd., vs. Santi Patnaik reported in 1966 L.L.J .I at page 398 the company's objection regarding the jurisdiction of this tribunal to interfere with the order of dismissal, of Shiba Prasad, a probationer on the date of of dismissal, cannot be entertained. In this case it was held :

> "In the case of a probationer the management might have the contractual right to terminate the services of the probationer during the probationery period without notice and without assigning any reason. But when the validity of such termination is challenged in an industrial adjudication, it would be competent to the industrial tribunal to enquire whether the order of termination has been effected in the bona fide exercise of its power conferred by the contract. If the discharge of the employee has been ordered by the management in bona fide exercise of its power, the industrial tribunal will not interfere with it, but it is open to the industrial tribunal to consider whether the order of termination is mala fide or whether it amounts to victimisation of the employee or an unfair labour practice or is so capricious or unreasonable as would lead to the inference that it has been passed for ulterior motive and not in bona fide exercise of the power arising out of the contract. In such a case it is open to the industrial tribunal to interfere with the order of the management and to afford proper relief to the employee."

In this view of the matter this tribunal will have to investigate whether the order of termination of services of Shiba Prasad was bona fide or mala fide.

Though the order terminating the services of Shiba Prasad mentions no reason for his dismissal, it is abundantly clear from the written statement filed on behalf of the company that he had been dismissed from service for misconduct, viz., sleeping while on duty on 21st February 1964. If this charge of misconduct against Shiba Prasad is not sustained by the evidence led before this tribunal by the company, the inevitable conclusion will be that the termination must be set aside as mala fide and as an instance of victimisation of the employee. In support of this allegation of misconduct, viz., sleeping during duty, against Shiva Prasad, company relied on the sworn testimony of D.W.2 Shri Krishna Kamal Ghosh and D.W.5 Shri Kalika Singh, respectively, the Security Officer and the Head Jamadar of the company, and a report, said to be the report of Round Jamadar Hari Singh marked Ext. F/13. Ext. F/13 as to the effect that Round Jamadar had found him sleeping when on duty. This Hari Singh was not examined as a witness for the company. His report Ext. F/13 could not accordingly be tested by cross-examination. In these circumstances, this report Ext. F/13 has no evidentiary value in this case. It is true that on the date the case was taken up for hearing the company had filed a petition for adjournment of the case on the ground that Hari Singh was out of town on leave. But as the company had enough time for production of this witness on the date of the hearing, the petition was not allowed and the company directed to proceed with the case. The case was taken up for hearing on 19th April 1966 and company led evidence on 21st April 1966. Arguments were heard on 23rd April 1966. If the company was serious it could have easily produced Hari Singh before arguments were heard In this view of the matter and considering further that the company had at its disposal enough time for production of Hari Singh before this tribunal as a witness in support of its allegation against Shiba Prasad. I am convinced that non-examination of Hari Singh was intentional and not due to circumstances beyond the control of the company. I have already indicated that in the absence of Hari Singh, his report Ext. F/13 has no value, and as this report was, it appears, from the record the only direct evidence on the charge of sleeping against Shiva Prasad it must be held that the company has miserably failed to establish the charge that on 21st February 1964 Shiba Prasad was found sleeping while on duty, D.Ws.2 and 6 were no doubt examined to prove the charge but as their own evidence indicates that none of them had seen Shiba Prasad sleeping while on duty on 21st February 1964 their evidence is of no help to the company so far the charge of sleeping against Shiba Prasad is concerned. Tested in the light of the back ground of the case and other materials on record, their evidence also does not seem reliable.

I have already indicated that company's specific case was that from 7th October 1962 to 10th December 1963, excepting 4th November 1962, Shiba Prasad had worked as a budli durwan in place of durwan D.U.2, D. U. 33 and D.U.23 when they went on leave and was on 11th December 1963 employed as a probationer durwan against a regular vacancy. In paragraph 4 of its written statement the company has listed in stances of negligence of duty by Shiba Prasad during the period he was working as a budli durwan. It was stated in this paragraph that in the month of March 1963 Shiba Prasad had been found guilty of gross negligence of his duty on four occasions. In corroboration of this allegation of negligence of duty against Shiba Prasad we have the evidence of D.W.2 Krishna Kamal Ghosh and three reports marked Exts. F/9, F/11 and F/5. The first two of these reports were by Round Jamadar Hari Singh and the last one was by D.W.2. It will appear from these three exhibits as also from Ext. F. and evidence of D.W.2 that all these reports were reports of negligence of duty by Shiba Prasad. These reports covered the period from 3rd March 1963 to 14th March 1963 and D.W.2 had in his evidence indicated that on 3rd March 1963, 5th March 1963 and 7th March 1963 Hari Singh had reported against Shiba Prasad as he was found sleeping during duty hours on these days. If the evidence of D.W.2 was true his offence on the fourth occasion, viz., on 14th March 1963 was more severe than on the previous three occasions as on this occasion he was found off from his place of duty in drunken condition by D.W.2 himself. But strange to note, though a budli durwan he was allowed to continue in service notwithstanding the serious charge of 14th March 1963 and the charge of sleeping on 3 other previous days in March 1963 It has been suggested by the company through D.W.2 that for all these negligence of duties no severe action was taken against Shiba Prasad as on the second occasion he had given the assurance that he will not sleep again on duty hours, on the 3rd occasion pleaded for mercy and on the 4th occasion given the undertaking that the company would be at liberty to discharge him from service if found sleeping again. This undertaking said to have been given by Shiba Prasad on the 4th occasion was written in English on the report of the Round Jamadar by the Head Jamadar (D.W.5) and is Ext. F/7. Evidence as given with this endorsement of undertaking in English as made by Kalika Singh was thumb-impressed by Shiba Prasad. But this impression as also the impressions said to be of Shiba Prasad, appearing under the endorsements, "I beg to be excused" (Ext. F/4 on report Ext. F/11), "I will not do again" (Ext. F/10 on reports Ext F/2) as also the impression marked 'Y' for identification have all been disowned by Shiba Prasad and bearing the oral testimony of D. Ws. 2 and 6, two employees of the company, we have no evidence to attribute these impressions to Shiba Prasad. This Shiba Prasad is an illiterate man and there is no note indicating that the endorsements above referred to indicating his admission of the charge of sleeping on duty hours had been explained to him. In this view of the matter the endorsements are no evidence of Shiba Prasad's admission of the charge of sleeping as mentioned in the various reports mentioned just now. Under the Standing Order of the company sleeping during duty hours by Watch and Ward Staff is a serious offence and may even lead to dismissal of a permanent staff of the Watch and Ward Department. But though Shiba Prasad was a budli durwan and was, according to the company's witness, found sleeping on three occasions and under the influence of liquor on one occasion in course of a fortnight during March 1963 no action was taken against him by the company for these acts of serious misconduct but was allowed to continue in service and even appointed a probationer few months after namely, on 11th December 1963. Appointment of Shiba Prasad as a probationer on 11th December 1963 militates against the idea of his being guilty of serious misconduct, viz., sleeping duty hours, in March 1963 and I am of opinion that all these reports and evidence regarding misconduct of Shiba Prasad in March 1963 have been manipulated by the company to impress on this tribunal that all along the company was sympathetic towards Shiba Prasad and that it had to take a drastic action against him by way of dismissal as even after being appointed as a probationer he was found continuing his old habit of sleeping during duty hours. No other conclusion regarding these reports and evidence is possible to be made on the materials on record. If these reports were all true, he would have been sacked when found under the influence of liquor and off from the place of duty D.W.2 but the Security Officer (D.W.2) had not only not recommended for his dismissal but also had not given him any warning whatsoever as he himself had done on the first two reports for sleeping during duty hours by the Round Jamadar. This conduct of D.W.2 the Security Officer is inconsistent with his statement that in the afternoon of 15th March 1963 Shiba Prasad was not found in his place of duty but was found sleeping under the influence of liquor, at a different place in the factory yard, and his conduct subsequent to 21st February 1963 belied the company's assertion that it was all along sympathetic towards Shiba Prasad. According to D.W.2 himself, though Shiba Prasad was found guilty of gross misconduct on 21st February 1964, his services were terminated with effect from 26th February 1964, but this intervening period between 21st February 1964 and 26th February 1964, Shiba Prasad was not allowed to join his duties in the factory why neither D.W.2 in his evidence nor the company in its written statement has explained. Under the Standing Orders even a probationer has a right to continue in service till dismissed and there was no reason for the Security Officer for not allowing Shiba Prasad to continue in his service till dismissed bythe authorities on his report over the incident of 21st February 1964. It will appear from Ext. G that necessary order terminating the service of Shiba Prasad with effect from 26th February 1964 was passed on 25th February 1964. In the face of this order the Security Officer should have allowed Shiba Prasad to work at least up to 26th February 1964 and his refusing work to Shiba Prasad during the period in between 21st February 1964 and 26th February 1964 only indicates his bias against Shiba Prasad from before his dismissal. In his evidence D.W. 2 stated that the Personnel Officer had sent to him Shiba Prasad's copy of the order of the dismissal and that under his direction Hari Singh had called Shiba Prasad to his office and had given him the copy but Shiba Prasad had refused to take the same. This Hari Singh, I have already said, was not examined as a witness for the company. But certain endorsement of Hari Singh said to be his endorsement regarding the service of Shiba Prasad's copy has been made an exhibit in this case. Return is Ext H and it appears from this return that the copy if tendered to Shiba Prasad was tendered on 27th February 1964, i.e. a day after his order of dismissal passed on 25th February 1964 had taken effect. Why this order of termination of his service was not communicated to Shiba Prasad before 27th February 1964 the Security Officer has not explained and as evidence has come it can be said unhesitatingly that the order has not at all been communicated to Shiba Prasad as has been alleged in the written statement filed on behalf of the union. Hari Singh was not called to prove his tender of the copy of the order to Shiba Prasad and Security Officer's statement regarding the service was unbelievable. In his cross-examination the Security Officer stated that under his direction Hari Singh had called Shiba Prasad to his office and had there offered to him (Shiba Prasad), the copy of the order but that letter had refused to accept the statement. As all these statements of the Security Officer regarding the tender of the order to Shiba Prasad by Hari Singh and his refusal thereof, were inconsistent with his evidence-in-chief that the copy of the order of discharge (Ext. G) was sent to Shiba Prasad through Hari Singh, Jamadar, on his evidence regarding the tender of the order to Shiba Prasad and the refusal thereof by him I cannot place any reliance, and as his was the only statement regarding the service of the order on Shiba Prasad it must be held that the order of termination of service had never been communicated to Shiba Prasad as has been alleged by the union in its written statement filed. I further conclude on the discrepant statements of the Security Officer regarding the service of the order, and the date of alleged tender of the copy of the order, viz., 27th February 1964 as mentioned in the return marked Ex. H that the company had manipulated the return Ext H. This is not the solitary instance of manipulation of document by the company in the instant case. Several other instances of manipulation of documents by the company to meet the union's case are also available.

I have already stated that the union's specific case was that since his appointment on 6th October 1962 till the termination of his service in February 1964 Shiba Prasad was all along in continuous service. Company denied this case of the union and stated in its written statement filed that Shiba Prasad had worked as a budli durwan from 7th October 1962 to

3rd November 1962 in the leave vacancy of durwan No. D.U.2, from 5th November 1962 to 10th November 1962 in the leave vacancy of D.U.33, from 11th November 1962 to 10th December 1962 in place of D U.23 and as a probationer from 10th December 1962 to 21st February 1964 (inclusive). To prove this case, company exhibited certain slips marked Ext C, C-1, C-2, and C-3 and entries in the attendance registers of October and November 1962 marked Exts, E, E-1, E-2 and E-3 These attendance registers are maintained in the time-keeper's office and D.W.1 Shri Birendranath Bhaduri—Time keeper in Hindusthan Pilkington, has proved the slips and the entries in the attendance registers. In course of his cross-examination this witness admitted that the entries in the attendance registers of November 1962 relating to Shiba Prasad indicate that he had worked as D.U. 33(a) up to and inclusive of 11th November 1962 and not 10th November 1962, and this statement of the time-keeper proves the absurdity of the company's assertion that Shiba Prasad had worked as D.U.33(a) only up to 10th November 1962 and that from 11th November 1962 he had worked in the leave vacancy of D.U.23(a). The entries in the attendance register of Shiba Prasad in November 1962 are not also consistent with the company's case that Shiba Prasad had worked as D.U.33(a) up to 10th November 1962 and as D.U.23(a) up to 11th November 1962 The attendance registers as originally maintained also disproves the company's case that up to 3rd November 1962 Shib Prasad has worked as D.U.2 (a) and as D.U.33(a) from 5th November 1962 to 10th November 1962 and as D.U.23(a) from 11th November 1962. The entries against D.U 2(a) as originally made and marked Ext E-1 indicate that up to 17th November 1962 Shib Prasad has acted as D.U.2(a) without any break from 7th October 1962. Subsequently however, the attendance from 4th November 1962 to 17th November 1962 (inclusive) against D U.2(a) was penned through and it is quite apparent that after those entries of attendance had been penned through, the attendance, against D.U.33(a) and D.U.23(a) have been noted In course of his evidence in cross-examination D W 1 Shri Birendra Nath Bhaduri said that entries in the attendance registers are made on the basis of punch cards maintained in the Labour office On the basis of ths statement it may be presumed that the entries of attendance up to 17th November 1962 against D.U.2 as made in the attendance register of November 1962 were made on the basis of the punch cards of Shiva Prasad received in the Time-keeper's office from the Labour Office. When therefore the company contended that the entries of attendance against D.U.2 from 4th November 1962 to 17th November 1962 inclusive were wrong. It should have produced the punch cards and other documents relating to attendance of workers to justify this contention and it not having done so, it must be held that Shiba Prasad was working in place of D.U.2 even after 12th November 1962 as shown in attendance registers and not as D.U.33(a) from 5th November 1962 or D.U.23(a) from 12th November 1962. Against D.U.33(a) in the attendance register there is the endorsement "stopped from 11th November 1962" meaning that Shiba Prasad's office as budli durwan in place of D.U.33(a) had terminated with effect from 12th November 1962. But I have already said that the Company's positive case was that from 11th November 1962 he was working as D.U.23(a). In this view of the matter no reliance on the entries of attendance of Shiba Prasad marked Exts. E/1, E/2, E/32 can be placed. Rather inconsistencies in between these entries and the company's specific case regarding the service of Shiva Prasad and the interpollations in the entries against D.U.2(a), in Ext. E-1, indicate that they have been hurriedly manipulated only to substantiate the company's assertion that Shiva Prasad was not in continuous service from the date of his appointment. As regards the actual date of Shiva Prasad's appointment we have two versions, one from Shiba Prasad and the other from the company. Shiva Prasad's asserting that he was appointed on 6th October 1962 and the company stating that he was appointed on 7th October 1962. In support of its case company relied on the engagement slip marked Ext. C. But this Exhibit itself contains intrinsic evidence supporting Shiva Prasad's statement that he was appointed on 6th October 1962 This engagement slip was signed on 6th October 1962 and the figure "7" in the date "7th October 1962" against the cloumn DATE APPTD. in this slip appears to have been interpollated. if really Shiva Prasad was appointed on 7th October 1962 and not on 6th October 1962 as has been contended by him, we would have got these date "7th October 1962" in place of 6th October 1962 under the signature of K. Basak for Labour Officer in this slip. Moreover, during his cross-examination the learned Advocate for the company has put the following question to Shiba Prasad "I put it to you that after your appointment on 6th October 1962 you had worked only up to 3rd November 1962". The very nature of this question also suggests that the company itself knew that Shiva Prasad was appointed on 6th October 1962 and not on 7th October 1962. Throughout Shiba Prasad was cross-examined at length by the company's Advocate, but to him it was never suggested that he had been appointed on 7th October 1962 and not on 6th October 1962. In this view of the matter I have not the slightest hesitation to conclude that Shiva Prasad was appointed on 6th October 1962 and not as 7th October 1962 as has been averred by the company in its written statement filed and that with a view to defeat the union's case on behalf of Shiva Prasad, the company has through its employees manipulated the engagement slip Ext C in such a manner as to give the impression that Shiva Prasad was appointed on 6th October 1962. Of course, in view of the scoe of the reference it is not very necessary for me to decide the exact date of Shiva Prasad's appointment but I am discussing this question at length only to indicate the mala fide tactics adopted by the company to defeat his claim for reinstatement. Ext C as also the attendance registers discussed above have all been manipulated by the company with the held of its officers to disprove the union's case that Shiva Prasad was in continuous service from the date of his employment till 22nd February 1964 when he was refused work in the factory yeard and the reports of misconduct as submitted against him by the Round Jamadar Hari Sihgh and the Securiy Officer himself, have all been found unreliable for reasons already stated. Of these reports Ext F-13 was the report relating to the misconduct viz., sleeping duty hours resulting in the termination of service of Shiva Prasad. The report as already stated above was submitted by Hari Singh. but he was not examined as a witness for the company even though the company had enough time and opportunity to produce him as a witness in support of its case. On this report the Security Officer endorsed "Action taken", on 22nd February 1964 but it appears from his own evidence that the action taken by him was only an oral report to the Personnel Officer of the company regarding the incident. It seems that on this oral report the company has taken the drastic step of terminating the service of Shiva Prasad, but as the evidence adduced by the company before this tribunal cannot in any way justify the company's allegation that Shiva Prasad a Watch and Ward Staff was found sleeping during duty hours on 21st February 1964, this Tribunal cannot uphold the termination of service of Shiva Prasad and must order his reinstatement to the post he was holding on the date of his dismissal, with back wages. It has been suggested in the written statement filed on behalf of the union that Shiva Prasad had been dismissed from service for his joining the Glass Factory Majdur Union against the desire of his superiors, who had been in favour of the rival union in the establishment. Though no evidence in suport of this suggestion is forthcoming, company's refusing him work even before his dismissal, the manipulations made by the company in several documents already referred to above to substantiate its case against Shiva Prasad and absence of any evidence worth the name, indicating that Shiva Prasad was found sleeping during duty hours, all sufficiently indicate that he has been victimised by the company for no fault of his own and that the order of termination of his service was mala fide.

In view of the foregoing discussions Shiva Prasad must be reinstated to the post he was holding on the date of the termination of his service, with back wages.

This is my award which must be implemented within a month from the date of its publication in the "Calcutta Gazette."

PUBLIC SERVICE COMMISSION, WEST BENGAL

General information relating to age concession, fixation of initial pay, etc., in respect of posts advertised by the Commission and instructions to candidates applying in response thereto.

General concession in age

(1) (a) For political sufferers: A candidate who before 15th August 1947 was detained, imprisoned, interned or externed on account of his/her activities in connection with the country's struggle for independence, not being convicted of an offence indicating moral turpitude, shall be entitled to a concession in respect of the upper age limit. The concession granted will be equal to the exact period of detention, imprisonment, internment or externment suffered up to a maximum of four years.

(b) For Scheduled Caste/Tribe candidates: The upper age limit is relaxable by five years for candidates belonging to Scheduled Castes/Scheduled Tribes.

(c) For Displaced Persons: The upper age limit is relaxable up to 45 years for displaced persons who have migrated to India from East Pakistan on or after January 1, 1964. This concession in age shall remain in force up to December 31, 1967.

The bona fide of the displaced persons will have to be certified by the Camp Commandant of the Transit Centre of the Dandakaranya Project or the Camp Commandant of the Relief Camp in various States or the District Magistrate of the area where the candidate may for the time being be resident.

Fixation of Pay

(2) (a) For persons already in permanent Government service: If a permanent Government servant is permitted to apply and is selected for a post in open competition with outsiders, the initial pay will be fixed under rule 42 or 55 of the West Bengal Service Rules, Part I, as the case may be. If, however, such a recruit is prepared to resign his appointment under Government, before applying, he will be eligible to the grant of higher initial pay on the same basis as an outsider.

(b) For a temporary Government servant having no lien on any post under the West Bengal Government when appointed to a post carrying higher scale of pay: Such an officer shall be eligible to draw as initial pay at the stage of the time-scale in the higher post which is equal to his pay in the lower post, or if there is no such stage, the stage next below that pay plus personal pay equal to the difference, to be absorbed in future increments in the higher scale provided that he has already rendered at least three years' continuous and satisfactory service in the lower post. The aforesaid benefit of fixation of pay will not, however, be available in the following cases:

(i) when the Commission has made a specific recommendation regarding the pay to be allowed to the Officer;

(ii) when under any specific rule such an officer is allowed a higher initial pay.

(c) For Outsiders: Unless otherwise specified in a particular advertisement, higher initial pay on the basis of age, qualifications and experience (including experience outside Government service) may be allowed to a person not already in Government service, if the relevant advertisement contains a provision to that effect.

Instructions regarding submission of application

(3) Applications are to be made on the prescribed form which will be available from the office of the Public Service Commission, West Bengal, Anderson House (ground floor), Alipore, Calcutta-27, personally or on sending a large self-addressed envelope with stamps sufficient to cover the postage affixed to it. Candidates who are unable to obtain copies of the prescribed form may apply on any similar typed (not handwritten) form showing exactly the wording and spacing of the sample form published in the "Calcutta Gazette" of the 1st September 1955, provided the blanks are filled up in the candidates' own handwriting.

Particulars and certificates required

(4) Candidates should furnish evidence of their age, qualifications and previous experience together with certificates written not more than one year prior to the date of their applications, from responsible persons, testifying to their private character.

The Commission accepts only the age of a candidate as recorded in the Matriculation or the Secondary School Final/Leaving Certificate. In the case of a female candidate whose age is not recorded in the Matriculation or School Final Certificate, any of the following evidence of age is accepted by the Commission:

(2) An affidavit regarding her age sworn by her father or mother or some other person in a position to know by having been present or heard of her birth at the time of occurrence.

(3) A certificate regarding her age, from a Member of the Legislature or a gazetted officer, who must have known the candidate and her family, indicating clearly the evidence on the basis of which he/she satisfied himself/herself on the point.

Fee

(5) Candidates must enclose with their applications a fee of Rs. 5 in the form of a receipted chalan from a Government Treasury or the Reserve Bank of India under the head "XXI—Miscellaneous—Receipts of the Public Service Commission, West Bengal". Money orders, cheques, etc., in lieu of treasury chalans are not accepted. Postal Order, however, may be accepted from candidates. They should be crossed and made payable to "The Deputy Secretary, Public Service Commission, West Bengal". No application will be considered unless accompanied with the requisite application fee, except as provided below.

Candidates abroad may deposit their application fees with the High Commission of India or the Embassy, as the case may be, and obtain receipts for the same, which will have to be attached to their applications to be submitted to the Commission.

Candidates in Government service should make sure before depositing fee that their applications will be forwarded by their superior officers.

In no case will the fee paid with the application be refunded, except as provided below.

The Commission may remit application fee in respect of genuinely indigent displaced persons from East Pakistan who have migrated to India on or after January 1, 1964 This concession in fee shall remain in force up to December 31, 1967.

A candidate claiming such exemption must furnish besides evidence required under para.(1)(c) above, a certificate (in original) from a District Magistrate or a Gazetted Officer or a Member of Parliament or State Legislature to show that he is not in a position to pay the prescribed fee.

For a gazetted post, an indigent displaced person shall, in the first instance, pay the prescribed application fee, but if he/she is selected for and appears at the interview, the fee paid by him/her will be refunded afterwards. For a non-gazetted post, such candidates will not be required to pay the application fee.

Note: A member of the Scheduled Caste or Scheduled Tribe claiming age concession must furnish with his application a certificate in original from a Gazetted Officer or a Member of Parliament or State Legislature belonging to the Scheduled Caste or Scheduled Tribe, specifying the particular caste or tribe to which he claims to belong.

Address

(6) Candidates should give their present address and should communicate at once any subsequent change of address.

Canvassing

(7) Any attempt on the part of candidates to enlist support of their applications through persons of influence or officials of Government will disqualify them for appointment. Spontaneous recommendations from person interested in the candidates or otherwise known to them will be disregarded.

Forwarding of applications and submission of advance copies

(8) Applications from candidates who are in permanent or temporary employment under any Government, a Local or Statutory Body (e.g., Damodar Valley Corporation), in India will be rejected unless they are submitted through the appointing authority of their posts or service.

Candidates serving under Government or a Local or Statutory Body should submit an advance copy in the prescribed form. The application fee should in such cases be attached to the advance copy and not to the original. The candidature of such applicants may not however be considered if the original applications do not reach the Commission's office within a fortnight from the closing date. Unless applications in original or advance copies with application fees are received within the closing date, late applications may be rejected.

15. Cancellation of appointment of non-official visitors.—The appointment of any non-official visitor may be cancelled by the authority appointing him within the period of his term for failure to visit the jail for a continuous period of three months or non-attendance at two consecutive quarterly meetings of the Board of Visitors or for other sufficient reasons.

In this book every visitor shall record the date and hour of his visit and any remarks he may desire to make. Such remarks should be limited to a statement and fair criticism of the actual facts which come to his knowledge, and to any suggestions he may wish the Superintendent or the Inspector-General to consider. The entries shall be made on the left-hand page. The Superintendent shall note the action taken by him in the column provided for the purpose and shall forward copies in half margin of all such entries in the Visitors' Book (in West Bengal Jail Form No. 84) to the Inspector-General for such further orders as may be required; and when explanation is necessary, such explanation shall invariably accompany the copy. Whenever a visitor records the long detention of an undertrial prisoner, a copy of his remarks relating to such matter shall be forwarded to the Magistrate of the district, and, if the prisoner be under trial in the Court of Session, shall also be forwarded to the District Judge. The Inspector-General may, if necessary, forward a copy of any visitor's remarks to Government.

19. Functions of a lady visitor.—A lady visitor shall normally visit the female prisoners and the female yard only, but she may pass through the male yard if it is necessary to do so to reach the female yard. If, however, she so desires, she may visit the male prisoners and the male yard.

On the right hand page the Jailor or other officer to whom such orders have been given shall report how they have been carried out

25. Appointment of Warders and Head Warders.—A Superintendent of a Circle Jail may appoint or dismiss the Head Warders and Warders of his circle or any subordinate of his jail whose appointment does not rest with Government or the Inspector-General or the Director of Health Services. The Superintendent of any jail may suspend any subordinate officer in case of serious misconduct, and, if necessary, appoint any person temporarily to perform the duties of any such officer or of any officer who from illness or any other cause is unable to perform them. Subject to the procedure laid down in rules published under Notification No. 1817-HJ/10R-11/52, dated the 16th June 1960, all such proceedings shall, except where the Superintendent is himself the appointing authority of the officer, be at once reported through the Inspector-General to the authority in whom the power of appointment of the officer is vested.

26. Punishment awarded by the Superintendent to prisoners.—The Superintendent of every jail shall hold an enquiry touching every offence reported to have been committed by a prisoner, and award punishment where necessary in accordance with the rules framed for the purpose. He shall record with his own hand all orders for punishment, and shall see that the punishment is carried into effect, provided that, when required by these rules, the Medical Officer shall have previously certified that the prisoner to be punished is fit to undergo it.

27. Entries in the Punishment Register.—In respect of every punishment inflicted (including formal warning) entries shall be made in the Punishment Register No. 19 furnishing all particulars required by section 51(1) of Act IX of 1894. In the case of every serious jail offence the names of the witnesses proving the offence shall be recorded. All orders for punishment for any offence shall be entered by the Superintendent in the prisoner's history ticket; but the entries may be copied by a subordinate from the prisoner's history ticket into the Punishment Register. Against the entries in the Punishment Register relating to each punishment the Superintendent and the Jailer shall affix their initials as evidence of the correctness of the entries.

The Punishment Register (Register No. 19) shall be maintained in two Parts, Part I for convicts and Part II for undertrial prisoners.

Section II.—The Medical Officer

28. Medical Officer to be in charge of sanitary administration of the jail.—Subject to the control of the Superintendent in all matters except the medical treatment of the sick, the Medical Officer shall have charge of the sanitary administration of the prison, and shall perform such duties as are detailed in the rules or as are prescribed from time to time by proper authority. His duties shall embrace every matter affecting the health of the prisoners and the general hygiene of the jail. The Medical Officer shall be under the general control of the Inspector-General.

In a jail where there is an Assistant Medical Officer, he shall exercise generally the powers and functions of the Medical Officer subject to the control of the latter.

29. Senior Medical Subordinate to act as M.O. during the latter's absence.—Whenever the Medical Officer of a District Jail is temporarily absent from the station, his duties shall be performed by the senior Medical Subordinate of the station.

30. Medical examination of labouring prisoners.—The Medical Officer shall inspect all the prisoners once a week at a general parade and shall from time to time examine the labouring prisoners while they are employed; he shall at least once a fortnight cause to be recorded upon the history ticket of each prisoner employed on labour the weight of such prisoner at the time, and shall cause prisoners losing weight to be paraded apart for the special attention both of himself and of the Superintendent. When the Medical Officer is of opinion that the health of any prisoner suffers from employment in any kind or class of labour, he shall record such opinion in the prisoner's history ticket and such prisoner shall not be employed in that work, but shall be placed on such other kind or class of labour as the Medical Officer may consider suited for him.

31. Alteration or suspension of ordinary rules of discipline and treatment to prevent injury to prisoner's health or mind.—Whenever the Medical Officer shall have reason to believe that either the mind or the body of a prisoner is likely to be injuriously affected by the discipline or treatment observed in the prison he shall, after careful scrutiny (as convicts are prone to feign insanity), report the case in writing to the Superintendent, accompanied by such suggestions as he may think the case requires.

The Superintendent shall thereupon submit his recommendations to the Inspector-General suggesting the manner in which he proposes to alter or suspend the ordinary rules of discipline and treatment with regard to the prisoner. The Inspector-General shall then pass the necessary orders on the Superintendent's recommendations. A report on every such case with sufficient detail shall forthwith be submitted to the Government for information.

In case of extreme urgency, the Superintendent may, in anticipation of the Inspector-General's sanction, take all such remedial measures as have been recommended by him.

Note.—Under the powers conferred by this rule it will be possible, whenever in the opinion of the Medical Officer the usual diet scale in force in a prison or the usual scale of clothing or bedding is so unsuitable to a prisoner as to impair or likely to impair his health, to recommend the issue of such special dietary or such special clothing or bedding as may seem best suited to meet the needs of the case. Similarly, in regard to labour, if any form of labour is found to be injuriously affecting a prisoner it should be changed.

32. Medical Officer to exercise general supervision over the diet of prisoners.—The Medical Officer shall exercise a general supervision over the supplies and preparation of food and shall reject any article that he considers unfit for consumption. 33. Medical Officer to hold post-mortem examination in case of unnatural death or where the cause of death is unknown.—In the event of the death of a prisoner in the jail, if death is suspected to have been due to causes other than natural causes, or if the cause of death is not known, the Medical Officer shall make a complete post-mortem examination of the body. In other cases, he shall see the body and shall satisfy himself as to the cause of death; if he is also the Superintendent of the Jail, he shall then pass orders for disposing of the body in accordance with the religion or custom of the community or caste to which the deceased prisoner belonged; if he is not the Superintendent he shall report the cause of death to the Superintendent, who shall then pass orders for disposing of the body.

If necessary he will send them immediately to hospital, but if he thinks this unnecessary he will bring them to the notice of the Medical Officer on his arrival. He shall keep in book form a register or list of all prisoners kept under medical observation from day to day. He shall also see that medicines are distributed to prisoners of extramural gangs who need them, and shall then go round the hospital visiting each patient and doing whatever is needful for him, at the same time making notes of the condition or progress of the cases on the bed-head tickets for the information of the Medical Officer.

36. He shall every morning visit the "convalescent" and "special" gangs and prisoners kept under observation and see that medicines are distributed to those requiring them, and that they get the special food, clothing, bedding, and rest ordered for them. If any prisoner is removed from the "convalescent" or "special" gangs without the authority of the Medical Officer, he shall report the matter to the Medical Officer.

37. He shall visit all prisoners confined in cells daily, and report to the Medical Officer any complaints that may have been made to him.

38. Appointment of convicted prisoner as sick attendant.—When any prisoner is so seriously ill as to need the services of a special sick attendant, the Medical Subordinate shall take the orders of the Medical Officer, who shall apply to the Superintendent for the services of a convicted prisoner for this duty. If the Medical Officer is himself the Superintendent, he shall select and appoint a convict for this duty, and shall cause the fact to be entered in the convict's history ticket.

No sick attendant should be changed without the written order of the Superintendent. The names of convicted prisoners who are selected as general hospital or sick attendants shall be recorded, and the fact of such duty entered on their history tickets, and they shall not be changed without the written order of the Superintendent.

39. Examination of prisoners suspected to be insane.—The Medical Subordinate shall carefully watch all prisoners who may possibly be malingering, and bring such cases to the notice of the Medical Officer. All prisoners who are suspected to be insane shall be examined by him daily, and a report of their mental condition submitted to the Medical Officer.

41. Examination and record of particulars in cases of new admissions.—He shall carefully examine all new admissions to the jail, and under the Medical Officer's supervision record in the admission register their state of health, weight, personal marks, including marks of wounds, vaccination or inoculation. Undertrial prisoners should be specially examined for marks of wounds, bruises, etc., and any other thing which may be useful to the courts, the result being reported to the Medical Officer and duly recorded. If a prisoner is received from the police bearing marks of injury not mentioned in the Police Report, he shall at once bring the fact to the notice of the Superintendent who shall forthwith send a report to the District Magistrate. He will satisfy himself that the private clothing of newly admitted prisoners is cleansed and disinfected, if necessary, before removal to the godown.

42. Vaccination of prisoners after admission.—Under instructions of the Medical Officer, he shall see that all the prisoners and infants are vaccinated as soon as possible after admission to the jail.

In case of serious injury from accident, or where a major operation is necessary, he shall at once communicate with the Medical Officer; and every factory accident or serious injury to a prisoner from any accident shall at once be reported to the Superintendent.

45. Examination of food before distribution.—He shall examine all food before it is distributed. He shall see that it is properly cooked, and that the proper quantities of oil, salt and antiscorbutics have been added to each ration. He should bring to the notice of the Medical Officer any prisoner who frequently leaves a considerable portion of the food supplied to him, especially cases in which it appears that this is caused by failing health or is purposely done in order to cause reduction of weight on the day of weighment.

46. Medical subordinate to record weight of every prisoner in his history ticket.—The fortnightly weighment of all prisoners as well as the weekly weighment of those who are infirm or losing weight, shall be made under the immediate superintendence of the Medical Subordinate, who shall record with his own hand the weight of each prisoner in his history ticket. In Central Jails he may be assisted by another Medical Subordinate (if there is one), or by the Compounder or by a Jail Clerk deputed by the Superintendent. All prisoners steadily losing weight shall be reported to the Medical Officer not later than the day after weighment.

47. Medical subordinate to report death of prisoner to Jailor and Medical Officer and assist in post-mortem examination.—He shall report all deaths at once to the Jailor and the Medical Officer; see that a dead body is decently removed to the dead-house; make the necessary preparations for post-mortem examination; assist the Medical Officer in making such examination, and be responsible that the body is afterwards properly stitched up and covered.

If a Warder is found unsuitable for the post during this period, he may be discharged as per provision of Rule 55. No Warder shall be confirmed in his appointment until he becomes efficient in military drill, and every Warder who is not efficient in this or other branches of his duties shall be passed over for promotion, although his name may head the list. Frequent misconduct shall also defer promotion either in the case of Warders or Head Warders.

111. Substantive appointment of a Head Warder.—Whenever for any reason the appointment of a Head Warder in any jail or subsidiary jail is necessary in his Circle, the Superintendent of the Circle Jail shall promote to the vacancy a Warder of his circle who has qualified in the Head Wardership Examination according to the instructions issued by the Inspector-General in this regard.

112. Promotion of a Warder.—No Warder shall be promoted to the grade of Head Warder unless he qualifies himself in the Head Wardership Examination, which shall be conducted according to the instructions of the Inspector-General issued in this regard.

He is not, except in fourth class District Jails, concerned with the administration of the Warder guard or its discipline except in matters affecting the internal economy of the jail.

116. Duties of Head Warder.—In addition to the duties elsewhere prescribed in these rules, it shall be the duty of every Head Warder to—

(a) superintend the Warders subordinate to him in the discharge of their duties;

(b) be responsible for their appearance and discipline. Any Warder found to be improperly dressed whilst on duty shall be reported by the Head Warder;

(c) enforce strict compliance on the part of both Warders and prisoners with all the rules of the Code, and report every breach thereof that comes to his knowledge to the Superintendent or Jailor. (m) superintend the use of the latrines and all bathing and feeding parades;

(n) check the prisoners at each change of guard and report promptly to the Jailor in case of any discrepancy;

(o) see that no dirt or litter is allowed to be about the jail and that the drains are kept clean;

(p) see that the wards are cleaned and ventilated during the daytime, that the beddings are properly folded and arranged, and that the bedding and clothings are well aired according to instructions;

(q) cause all gratings, doors and the like to be secured and satisfy himself from time to time that they are secure;

(r) cause all bamboos, scantlings, poles, ladders, ropes, well gear and other articles likely to be used for, or to facilitate the escape of any prisoner, to be removed and placed beyond the reach of the prisoners and kept in the places prescribed for storing and keeping the same;

(s) keep constantly moving about amongst the prisoners while on day duty, supervising the work, security and discipline of the jail; similarly, visit every part of the jail while on night duty and also visit frequently both by day and night the prisoners in condemned and other cells, so that the Warders and convict officers are always kept on the alert; and

(t) count, in the presence of the Jailor, search and lock up the prisoners in their respective wards, cells and other compartments at the prescribed time each evening.

117. The relieved and relieving Head Warder or gate-keeper to inquire about the safe custody of female prisoners at each change of watch.—At each change of watch the relieved and relieving Head Warder or Gate-keeper on duty shall, without entering the female ward enclosure, ascertain by calling out to the female Warder, or in her absence, the convict watch-woman whether all the female prisoners are in safe custody.

118. Responsibility of Head Warders for escapes.—In the event of an escape taking place, the Head Warders shall be held primarily responsible unless they can satisfactorily prove that the escape was due to no laxity of duty on their part.

Gate-keepers

119. Selection of Gate-keeper.—Two senior Warders shall perform the duties of Gate-keeper but when the senior Warders are acting for absent Head Warders or are themselves absent, and at fourth class District Jails, the most efficient Warders may be posted to this duty. Superintendents of Central Jails shall exercise great care in selecting the best men for this responsible duty.

In a Central Jail a Deputy Jailor or a Discipline Officer or any other superior officer of any rank as may be available may be posted for gate duty. When such a superior officer is posted at the gate, he shall be responsible for seeing that the Gate-keeper does his duties, as prescribed in the Code, properly.

120. Duties of the Gate-keeper.—The Gate-keeper shall keep two gate registers (Nos. 24 and 25); in one he shall record the names of all Jail Officers, prisoners and other persons who pass out of or into the jail, and in the other he shall make notes of all goods, tools, or stores passed either into the jail or out of it through the gate. He shall record the hour and minute of the entry and exit of every person and thing as they actually occur and in consecutive order. He shall, to the best of his ability, prevent the improper removal of any property from within the jail or the introduction into it of any prohibited article.

He shall also assist in effecting petty sales at the gate, recording, in regard to each item, the article sold, quantity, rate, value received, and name and residence of purchaser. At the end of his turn of duty he shall enter in writing the total of sums of money received by him and shall sign his name thereto, or if nothing has been received shall make an entry to that effect; the relieving Gate-keeper shall receive and verify the amount, and also sign the entry. The Jailor on receiving from the gate Warder cash for articles sold at the gate shall enter in red ink at the end of the Gate-keeper's entries, the amount received, with initials and date. In Central jails and in large District Jails a convict able to read the vernacular and to write in it, and selected under Rule 434 for the appointment of convict writers, may be employed to assist the Gate-Keeper in his work of keeping these books with the Inspector-General's sanction but he shall not be allowed to make any entries in the gate registers.

121. Jails to have double gate at the main entrance.—The main entrance of every Central and District Jail shall have a double gate with a space between the gates; in each gate there shall be a wicket; all these should have secure fastenings that can be easily closed and made fast from between the gates. The inner gate should be a batten door provided with eye-holes to enable the Gate-keeper to observe any person who wishes to leave the jail, and to see that there is no large gathering of prisoners inside preparing for a rush to force open the gate. The outer gate will be an iron barred gate. All ingress and egress for ordinary purposes shall take place through the wicket doors.

122. Only one gate to be opened at a time.—The Gate-keeper shall open only one gate at a time, and shall never under any circumstances have both gates open at once. Whether the person who has to pass through the gates is a high official or a prisoner, the first gate through which he passes shall invariably be both carefully bolted and securely locked before the second gate is opened. Neglect of this rule shall render the offending Gate-keeper liable for the first offence to a fine of half a month's pay, and for the second offence to dismissal. The Jailor shall also be held responsible if this rule is not strictly observed.

123. Custody of gate keys.—The main gate keys shall be kept in a bunch with eight other keys somewhat similar to, though not exactly resembling them, and shall be attached by a stout chain to the waist of the Gate-keeper. This will add materially to the security of the jail by making it difficult for prisoners to obtain the keys and to ascertain which of them will fit the locks of the gate.

124. Articles which should be kept in the passage between the main gates.—In the passage between the main gates the following articles shall be kept:—

The jail clock.

A locked key box fixed to the wall.

Fetters and handcuffs hung on the wall ready for use.

A standing desk for the Gate Register (No. 46) and writing materials.

Weighing scale.

Notice Board.

Fire Extinguishing Apparatus.

Reprint of the duties of Gate-keepers and Gate Sentries.

A reprint of Chapter IV for the use of visitors.

125. Procedure during entrance and exit of prisoners.—When prisoners have to be passed out of or into the jail the following procedure shall invariably be followed:

The Gate-keeper shall first let them in through the inner gate, and having done so he shall lock it; he shall then write in full in the Gate Register the name of every prisoner of a gang leaving the jail, the name of the Warder who is in charge, and the name of the convict overseer who is assisting him and shall obtain under these entries the signature of the Warder concerned. These entries having been carefully made he shall open the outer gate and count the prisoners out one by one in order to see that there is no mistake in the total number entered in his register. The list of the gang having once been made in the Gate Register need not be re-written on each occassion of the passage of these prisoners through the main gate, but every change in the gang must be noted. On the prisoners of the gang returning he shall open the outer gate, the inner one being carefully locked first, and admit them to the passage between the gates. He shall then lock the outer gate, and call out the name of each prisoner, the convict overseer, and the Warder, each man answering as his name is called out. The gang having been found correct, he shall open the inner gate and count each man into the jail one by one, to see that there is no mistake in the total number. Under no circumstances whatever shall this procedure be departed from, and no prisoner shall be allowed to leave the jail unless he is in charge of a paid official.

126. Prisoners passing out of jail to be specially selected.—Prisoners who are allowed to go outside the jail gate shall be specially selected by the Jailor with the sanction of the Superintendent. Should it come to the knowledge of the Gate-keeper that any prisoner is being or has been taken out of the jail contrary to rule, he shall make a note of the fact in his book, report it to the Jailor at once, and subsequently to the Superintendent at the first opportunity.

127. Gate-keeper to be furnished with a list of officials and visitors entitled to enter the jail.—The Gate-keeper shall be furnished with a list of all official and non-official visitors who are entitled to enter the jail. On their presenting themselves at the gate he shall at once admit them, but shall not admit outsiders without a pass from the Superintendent.

128. Search of person passing into or out of the jail.—He shall have authority to search all persons passing into or out of the jail, except those whose names are included in the list of official and non-official visitors with which he is furnished, or such persons as may be exempted by the special order of the Superintendent. All official and non-official visitors, casual visitors admitted by special order of the Superintendent, and the higher officer of the jail, including Head Warders, shall ordinarily be exempt from being searched. Should he have reason to suspect that any person exempted from search is introducing or removing articles which ought not to be taken into or out of the jail, he may detain the person between the gates and give immediate notice to the Jailor who will himself search the person, but this search shall not be made in the presence of any prisoner or of another visitor. He shall search all prisoners who pass through the gates. When the number of prisoners passing through the gates is large, the Jailor may specially depute one or more Warders to assist him. If on searching an officer or outsider any article is found which ought not to be taken into or out of the jail he shall send immediate notice to the Jailor. If such article is found with a prisoner he shall report it to the Jailor at the first opportunity.

The search of a female shall be conducted only by a female; it shall be done in private inside a room and without the presence of a male person.

Note.—The search shall be conducted with tact and prudence so as not to offend unnecessarily the feelings of the persons searched.

Gate Sentries

129. Gate Sentry.—The reserve guard shall, except at fourth class District Jails, furnish one sentry at the main gate both by day and by night; the turn of duty may be 2 or 3 hours according to the number of men available. The day sentry at the main gate shall be posted immediately outside the iron-barred gate, and shall carry his rifle with bayonet fixed.

130. Duties of the Gate Sentry at night.—The night sentry at the main gate shall be posted betwen the gates as a precaution against surprise either from within or without, and he shall keep in his possession the key of the second lock on the inner gate wicket as well as those of the outer gate. He shall not permit any person to enter or leave the jail until he has satisfied himself by examination with his lantern that the person is an official duly authorised to visit or leave the jail at night, and he shall not permit any Warder to enter or leave the jail except in company with the Head Warder on duty. The officers authorised to visit the jail at night are the Superintendent, Magistrate, official and non-official visitors, Deputy Superintendent, Jailor, Deputy Jailors, Discipline Officers, Head Warders on duty, and the patrolling Warders in the charge of the Head Warders; also the Medical Officer and his subordinates. He shall not loudly challenge any person presenting himself at the main gate, or give notice to the Head Warder or Warders within of the approach of any visiting officer; being posted behind a barred gate he can ascertain in safety whether the person has any business at the jail or not; a duplicate key of the inner gate wicket shall be kept by the Head Warder in charge of the reserve guard for the use of any inspecting officer at night.

The posts and duties of Warders shall be frequently exchanged, so as to prevent the Warders from forming permanent relations with any of the prisoners. 140. Employment of prisoners as convict officers.—(1) No prisoner shall be employed as a convict officer who—

(a) has been convicted of drugging, unnatural offence, kidnapping or abduction for immoral purposes or rape;

(b) is physically unfit to perform the duties of the office;

(c) if on the remission system, has not earned or maintained three-fourths of the possible (ordinary) remission.

(1A) The maximum number of convict officers in a jail shall in no case exceed ten per cent. of the daily average population thereof.

(2) Convict officers required for employment in yards or barracks reserved for prisoners sentenced to simple imprisonment shall, as far as possible, be drawn from the ranks of simple imprisonment prisoners.

In case it is not possible to recruit convict officers for such employment from the ranks of simple imprisonment prisoners, they may be recruited from the "A" (or non-habitual) class of prisoners sentenced to rigorous imprisonment.

(2A) Prisoners sentenced to a term of simple imprisonment are not eligible for appointment as convict officers, unless they elect to labour throughout their terms of imprisonment.

(3) Except in the case of a non-habitual prisoner/first offender of means and status, who has been sentenced to imprisonment for a serious crime against the person committed in a passion and who but for this lapse was a respectable member of society and who through his position of authority over habituals is not likely to be contaminated, no non-habitual prisoner/first offender shall be employed as a convict officer in charge of habitual prisoners.

(4) Convict overseers recruited from the habitual class of prisoners may be associated with the warders in watch and ward duty over the habitual gangs during the day time.

Note.—The employment of B Class convicts as instructors of A Class convicts is strictly prohibited.

141. Order appointing convict officer should be recorded in prisoner's history ticket.—Every order appointing a prisoner a convict officer shall be written by the Superintendent on the prisoner's history ticket and shall also be entered in the Superintendent's minute book. This order shall be invariably quoted in all official references to such a prisoner in the following manner:

$$\frac{250\ A}{26.\ 12.\ 62}$$ —Ramdeo Kurmi, C.W.M./C.O./C.N.G.*

*Strike out the letters not required. C.W.M., C.O. and C.N.G. denote convict watchman, convict overseer and convict night-guard respectively.

142. Convict Officers prohibited from striking prisoners.—No convict officer shall on any pretext strike a prisoner except in self-defence or in defence of a Jail Officer, or in the repression of a disturbance (in which case no more than necessary force shall be used), or use any violence except when absolutely necessary. Any convict officer proved to have infringed this rule shall be permanently degraded to the position of an ordinary convict.

143. Circumstances in which convict officers are liable to be prosecuted.—Any convict officer detected in introducing or conniving at the introduction of prohibited articles shall be liable to be prosecuted before a Magistrate under section 42 of Act IX of 1894: and whenever guilty of wilfully or negligently permitting a prisoner to escape, he shall invariably be prosecuted under sections 222 and 223 of the Indian Penal Code. Convict officers are bound to do all in their power to prevent escapes.

144. Removal from office of convict officer on being permanently incapacitated.—Should any convict officer become permanently incapacitated to perform all or any of the duties required of him, the Superintendent may reduce or remove him from office.

Convict Watchmen

145. Eligibility for appointment as convict watchman.—Any prisoner eligible under Rule 140 may be appointed by the Superintendent to be a convict watchman provided—

(a) that he has been sentenced to not less than three months' imprisonment (six months in case of habitual prisoners); and

(b) that he has completed one-fourth of his sentence (exclusive of remission).

Prisoners sentenced to less than a year's imprisonment should be appointed only if a sufficient number of prisoners with longer terms are not available.

Habitual prisoners may be employed as convict night watchmen in barracks reserved for habitual prisoners, but shall not be promoted to any higher grade without the sanction of the Inspector-General.

Provided that no habitual prisoner with more than two convictions shall be appointed as night watchman in the habitual barracks.

Note 1.—Habitual prisoners with more than two convictions may be appointed as night watchmen provided their conduct in jail has been uniformly good.

Note 2.—For the purpose only of calculating the eligibility of a prisoner for appointment as a convict watchman, a sentence of imprisonment for life should be interpreted as one of 14 years' rigorous imprisonment.

146. Duties of convict watchman.—In addition to the duties elsewhere prescribed in these rules, it shall be the duty of every convict watchman—

(a) to comply with Rules 76, 77 and 195;
(b) to patrol the inside of wards and maintain or assist in maintaining discipline and order at night;
(c) to prevent prisoners leaving their berths except with permission and for a necessary purpose;
(d) to count the prisoners in his charge frequently, satisfy himself that all are present, and reply when challenged by the outside patrol;
(e) to prevent, as far as lies in his power, any breach of jail rules by any prisoner in his charge and to report the same;
(f) to assist in quelling any disturbance and, in case of necessity, defend any official;

(j) to watch the jail walls and prevent prisoners from lurking near them;
(k) to take charge, if necessary, of part of a gang inside the jail; and

147. Privileges allowed to convict night watchmen.—Convict watchmen shall wear kurtas with sleeves and shall have a band of blue cloth sewn on to the right sleeve. Those appointed as messengers should have a red band to distinguish them from others. They are exempted from wearing ankle rings. They shall not be put to hard labour except as a punishment, but shall otherwise be in the position of ordinary prisoners as regards labour and discipline by day and shall for any irregularities or short work be punished in accordance with the rules. They shall receive remission as laid down if they have carried out their duties thoroughly well. For offences committed while on duty as watchman they shall be liable to the same punishments as convict overseers.

Convict Overseers

148. Appointment of convict overseers.—A convict watchman may be promoted by the Superintendent to be a convict overseer, provided—

(a) that he is literate or has become so by attending the jail school;
(b) that he has served as a convict watchman for three months; and
(c) that he has served half of his sentence or seven years (exclusive of remission) whichever shall be less.

Note.—For the purpose only of calculating the eligibility of a prisoner for promotion to the rank of convict overseer, a sentence of imprisonment for life should be interpreted as one of 14 years' rigorous imprisonment.

149. No appointment of overseer against rules without Inspector-General's sanction.—No prisoner shall be appointed an overseer, permanently or temporarily, in contravention of the above rules, without the sanction of the Inspector-General.

150. Duties of convict overseers.—In addition to the duties elsewhere prescribed in these rules, it shall be the duty of convict overseers—

(a) specially to comply with Rules 76, 77 and 195;

(b) to obey the Superintendent, Deputy Superintendent, Jailor, or any jail official, or officer of the Public Works Department under whom they may be placed, unless they are ordered to do anything contrary to Jail Rules, in which case they shall report at the earliest opportunity to the Superintendent or Jailor;

(c) to assist the Warders of their gangs in superintending the prisoners at work, conducting them to parades, maintaining discipline and silence and keeping them in safe custody;

(d) to share with the watchmen the duty of guarding the wards by inside patrol at night, and to be responsible for the efficiency of the watch, the safe custody of the prisoners, and the maintenance of discipline in the ward at night;

(e) to escort individual prisoners about the jail, and to take them to the hospital when necessary;

(f) to keep the history tickets of the prisoners of their gangs;

(g) to count frequently the prisoners made over to them, to see that the number is correct and to search them and to prevent their receiving or retaining prohibited articles. In the event of prohibited articles being found upon any prisoner, the convict overseer in charge of the gang to which such prisoner belongs, shall, unless he has reported the fact, be punished;

(h) to give notice of any breaches of Jail Rules, plots, or conspiracies that may come to their knowledge, whether amongst prisoners of their own or of other gangs;

(i) to see that the prisoners under them diligently perform their tasks, do not leave their proper places or communicate with each other in an irregular manner, and that they keep in file when moving from place to place;

(j) to report every prisoner who uses the latrine (except for the purpose of urinating) out of regular hours; and to report all cases of diarrhoea and other sickness, especially during the prevalence of epidemics;

(k) to see that every prisoner properly folds up and arranges his bedding in the morning before the wards are opened;

(l) to see that the prisoners in their charge wash themselves and their clothes and keep their leg-irons clean and bright, and that they do not barter, alter, or damage their clothing;

(m) to assist in quelling any outbreak, and to defend any jail official in case of assault;

(n) to take charge, if necessary, of a gang or part of a gang of prisoners inside the jail.

151. Uniform of convict overseer.—Convict overseers will be supplied with a special uniform consisting of one cotton coat, one woollen coat, one kurta, one pair of trousers, one jungeah, one cap, one gumcha, a pair of shoes and a leather belt with a brass badge. The cotton clothing and shoes should last a year, and the woollen coat three years. The badges shall be engraved with the words "Convict Overseer" and be serially numbered from 1 upwards, and shall be worn by overseers in their order of merit, the badge bearing the No. 1 being given to the most deserving man. They shall not carry any cane or weapon. When required to do duty in any position exposing them to sun or rain, they shall be provided with an umbrella.

Note.—Kurtas and coats of convict overseers should have a red chevron with each bar of 38 millimetres in length and 6.35 millimetres in width printed on the left arm.

152. Privileges of convict overseers. The privileges of overseers, besides their freedom from hard labour, shall consist in the power of earning remission of sentence as laid down in Rule 398: exemption from wearing ankle rings; wearing distinctive clothing, and having shoes.

153. Punishment of convict overseer.—Minor offences or negligence on the part of the convict overseers may be punished by loss of privileges, reduction of standing with change of number of badge or any other minor punishment mentioned in Rule 360. For serious offences, the convict overseers should be treated at par with other prisoners for purposes of punishment. When a major punishment, as mentioned in Rule 360, is awarded and the offence is grave the convict overseer should be reduced to the rank of a convict night watchman or an ordinary prisoner.

Convict Night Guards

154. Employment of convict overseers as night guards.—Convict overseers may, with the special sanction of the Inspector-General, be employed as night guards in jail where, owing to the arrangement of the buildings or the number of wards to be guarded, the number of Warders is insufficient for the secure guarding of the jail.

155. Qualifications for eligibility of a convict overseer for appointment as a night guard.—A convict overseer may be appointed to be a night guard provided—

(a) that he has served as a convict overseer for three months;

(b) that he does not belong to any class that may have a strong natural tendency to escape, such as men of wandering tribes and those whose homes are outside India; and

(c) that his antecedents have been verified through the Superintendent of Police.

156. Duties of night guards.—The duties of night guards shall be to assist the warders at night in patrolling round the wards in which prisoners are located, as laid down in rules. In the day time they shall perform the ordinay duties of convict overseers.

157. Uniform and privileges of a night guard.—They shall have the same uniform as convict overseers, with the addition of a blanket great-coat for night work, and shall have the same privileges except that they may be granted seven days' remission per month instead of six.

CHAPTER VII

Guarding

158. Charge of prisoners.—The main principle to be observed in guarding a jail shall be that every prisoner shall, at all times, both by day and night, be in charge of some responsible officer whose responsibility for an escape resulting from negligence can be proved in a Criminal Court. To effect this, it shall be a strict rule that a record of the names of the prisoners made over to each officer shall be kept in a gang book, and that every subsequent change of a prisoner from one gang to another shall be recorded therein; also that at every change of guard a Head Warder shall be present to witness and verify the number of prisoners made over to the relieving officer.

159. Division of prisoners into gangs.—The prisoners of every jail shall be divided into gangs. Every prisoner shall, throughout the whole period of his imprisonment, be a member of one or other of these gangs, and no prisoner shall, except under the orders of the competent authority, be changed from one gang to another, and no prisoner shall, except for release, be removed from his gang unless he is formally transferred to another gang and his name is entered in the gang-book of the other gang under the initial of the competent authority.

160. Division of gangs.—Gangs shall be divided into two main classes—

(1) Extramural or those employed outside the jail walls; and

(2) Intramural or those employed inside the jail walls.

161. Strength of gangs of prisoners.—The strength of a gang including convict officers shall not exceed—

(1) if extramural and employed—

(a) beyond the jail precincts—21 prisoners.

(b) within the jail precincts—25 prisoners.

(2) if intramural—42 prisoners.

162. Charge of extramural and intramural gangs.—An extramural gang shall invariably be in the charge of a Warder, assisted by a convict overseer and watchmen in the proportion of one watchman to every ten prisoners. An intramural gang may be in the charge of a convict overseer or under certain circumstances of a convict watchman.

163. Entry of names, numbers, etc., of prisoners in the gang book.—The convict overseer of every gang shall be provided with a gang book (W.B.J. Form No. 38), in which the names, numbers and dates of joining of all the prisoners of the gang shall be entered under the orders and initials of the Head Warder on duty.

164. Responsibility of the officer in charge of a gang.—The officer in charge of a gang shall be solely responsible for his gang throughout the day and shall be prepared to account for the number of men placed in his charge when required. When, however, Warders are also required to take charge of gangs, in addition to convict overseers, they shall be put in charge over the convict overseers and the responsibility for the charge of a gang shall never be divided between two or more officers.

165. Members of a gang to remain together.—The members of each gang shall, except as hereinafter provided, always remain together; they shall sleep in the same yard and shall eat and work in specially allotted places. The convict overseer should not remain with his gang at night.

166. Convict overseer to be in charge of his gang till locking up.—The convict overseer shall be present before unlocking at the door of the ward in which his gang has passed the night and shall take over his gang from the Head Warder on unlocking duty. He shall remain with his gang throughout the day and shall not leave it except as hereinafter provided. He shall maintain discipline and shall observe the other rules of this Code, and his responsibility shall not cease until he has made over his gang to the locking-up Head Warder or until he has been otherwise relieved of his charge by competent authority.

167. Warder or convict overseer to make over charge of the gang to a relieving officer even during temporary absence.—If it be necessary for the Warder or convict overseer to leave (even temporarily) his gang, he shall under the orders and supervision of a Head Warder make it over to a Warder or convict overseer or to the senior convict watchman of the gang. The relieving officer shall verify the number of prisoners made over to him and shall be held responsible for them during the absence of the officer originally in charge.

168. Charge of prisoner detached from the gang.—If for any reason it be necessary temporarily to detach one or more prisoners from an intramural gang, e.g., for latrine purposes or to go to hospital, the senior convict watchman (who shall be also a messenger) shall, with the permission of the Head Warder, be detailed to take charge of the prisoner or prisoners so detached and shall remain with them until they are again made over to the officer in charge of the same or some other gang.

169. Watch over extramural gangs.—Warders in charge of, and convict overseers attached to, extramural gangs must be specially careful to keep their prisoners as much together as possible, and should be warned that they are on no account to let the prisoners wander about or go out of their sight on any pretence whatever. Any prisoner temporarily detached from such a gang for a special purpose shall be under the charge of a convict overseer of the gang. When prisoners are kept working all day at any distance from the jail a temporary latrine shall be provided, the entrance to which shall be distinctly visible to the Warder, and the convict overseer shall take charge of prisoners who have to go there. Warders shall always accompany any of the prisoners (mehters for instance) when they go outside the jail leaving the convict overseers in charge of the prisoners left inside. The mehters who are to go outside should be distinctly specified in the gang book.

170. Precautionary measures for extramural gangs.—When more than 42 prisoners are taken beyond jail precincts two of the reserve guard armed with muskets and buckshot cartridges shall be told off to follow the gangs and station themselves in a suitable position for rendering assistance, if required.

171. Charge of prinsoner separated from the gang at night.—When any portion of a gang is for any reason separated at night from the rest of the gang, a convict overseer or the senior convict watchman shall be detailed by the Head Warder on duty to march the prisoners so detached to or from their several destinations. The names of prisoners so detached shall be recorded on slips or note-books. The receiving officer shall initial the slip or note-book and return it to the issuing officer.

172. Division of extramural and intramural gangs.—Gangs may conveniently be divided as follows:

(1) Extramural gangs—

(a) Garden.
(b) Jail servants.
(c) Employed under the Public Works Department.

(2) Intramural gangs—

(a) Civil prisoners.
(b) Undertrial prisoners.
(c) Segregation.
(d) Simple imprisonment.
(e) Hospital.
(f) Wall guards.
(g) Door-keepers and other isolated prisoners.
(h) Jail servants.
(i) Manufactory.
(j) Emplōyed under the Public Works Department.

173. Roster for guarding staff.—A roster showing the turns of duty of each Head Warder, Warder and convict night guard shall be prepared every week by the Jailor, or under his orders, and posted up in the guard room. If it should be necessary to change any Warder's turn of duty in the course of the week, the change must be noted in the roster. Each Warder's beat should be changed every night, and no Warder should be informed beforehand to what beat he will be put. A record shall be kept in the lock-up report book of the officer put on each beat in each watch. A roster of day and night duties of Warders and convict officers shall be kept in West Bengal Form No. 5095. Of the Warders off duty at least half shall always be in the jail premises ready for any emergent duty. Any Warder not present during his turn of duty shall be liable to fine or dismissal.

174. Jailor with Warders on morning duty to enter the jail together before wards are oponed.—Immediately before the opening of the wards the Jailor (and Deputy Jailors, if necessary) and all the Head Warders with the Warders who are to be on duty in the morning shall enter the jail together.

175. Convict overseers and watchman to be let out of wards first.—The Jailor (or in circle jails the Chief Head Warder) shall then let out of their wards the convict overseers and the gang of watchmen who are to watch the jail walls during the first turn of duty. One of the Head Warders shall take these convict watchmen to the latrine and then post them round the jail walls.

176. Opening of wards.—When the Head Warder has reports that the wall guards have been posted, the wards shall be opened and the prisoners counted out in pairs in the presence of the Warders and convict watchmen of the last watch, and of the relieving day Warders and day convict overseers. The prisoners who, under Rule 171 were on the previous evening escorted by messengers to different parts of the jail, shall now be escorted back to their day-gangs, the slip or note-book on which their names were recorded at lock-up on the previous evening being again used for checking their return to the day gang. After the total number of prisoners locked up the previous evening has been found correct, the prisoners shall be made over to the convict overseers of the day-gangs in which they shall remain throughout the day. When this is done, the relieved Warders of the last watch shall be marched out of the jail.

177. Roll call of prisoners.—When the morning parades are completed the Head Warders shall send the several gangs in pairs to their respective places of work, after calling out the names of the prisoners from the rolls, in order to make sure that all prisoners who should be present in each gang are actually present, the convict overseers placed in charge of the gang at the opening of the jail continuing to be responsible for the whole day.

178. Counting of the gangs.—Each gang shall be counted in the presence of the Warder or convict officer receiving charge of it whose name shall then be recorded in the gang book. At each subsequent change of guard during the day the same procedure shall be followed, whether the change is made in the ordinary course or on account of sickness or other cause. The rolls of gangs made over to the independent charge of convict overseers need not be called at noon, if these officers are not changed during the day; but these gangs shall be counted and verified at the time the Warder guard is changed. In Central Jails there shall be several gang books for different sections of the jails, so that the rolls may be called simultaneously by several Head Warders to save time, and convict writers will be allowed to assist in writing up the gang books. In Central Jails in the cold season, when only one hour is allowed for the midday stoppage of work and parades, there is not sufficient time to call the roll at the midday change of guard; the gangs, therefore, shall then only be counted.

179. Change of wall guards.—The convict watchmen who watch the walls shall also be changed at noon by a Head Warder, who shall at the same time examine the walls and report if he finds any marks or indication of a prisoner having escaped or tried to escape over the wall. Arrangements shall be made temporarily to relieve the watchmen who guard the walls to enable them to have their meals, bath, etc.

180. In the evening after the bell is sounded each gang to proceed to the allotted place for bathing, feeding, etc.—In the evening when the bell is sounded to stop work, each gang with the Warder or convict overseer in charge shall, after being checked, proceed to the spot where the usual bathing, feeding and latrine parades are carried out, and the officer in charge shall remain in charge till all prisoners have been locked up in their respective wards.

181. After the parade, gang to be filed in front of its sleeping ward.—At the conclusion of the parades the gangs shall be marched to and filed in front of their sleeping wards by the respective Warders or convict officers.

182. Locking up prisoners during night.—The prisoners shall then be locked up (their names being recorded in and called from the gang book) and placed in charge of the first night watchman of the watch inside the ward and subsequently made over to each succeeding night watchman, the numbers in the ward being carefully verified by counting at each change of night-watchmen.

183. Cells, sleeping barracks and prisoners to be searched before lock-up.—Before the prisoners are locked-up for the night, the cells and sleeping barracks shall be thoroughly searched; every prisoner shall also be searched before lock-up. The officer making the search shall see that all bolts, bars and fastenings are in order, and that no contraband article or article likely to facilitate escape, is left in any barrack or cell or with any prisoner.

184. Prisoners to be counted before lock-up.—After completion of the afternoon parades the first night patrol shall be brought in by the Head Warder of the reserve, and the Jailor (in Central Jails, Deputy Jailors and Head Warders) shall count the prisoners into their wards, in the presence of the Warder or convict officer who is to take charge of each ward for the first watch. When all are locked up except the convict watchmen at the walls and convict night guards who are to take part in the first watch, the total number of prisoners shall be verified. If found correct, a Head Warder shall then collect the convict watchmen from the wall, take them to the latrine and ablution platform, and then count and lock them up after seeing that the number is correct.

185. Extra Warders.—When extra warders are entertained, unless required for night duty, they shall be on duty both morning and afternoon during work hours. They shall receive charge of their gangs at the same time as other Warders in the early morning and after the midday parades and rest, but after stopping work in the morning and afternoon they shall deliver up their gangs in the presence of the senior Head Warder inside the jail, and shall then be allowed to go off duty. The convict overseers will remain in independent charge of these gangs inside the jail. Extra warders shall not be required to do night duty except in case of emergency, such as overcrowding, sickness, epidemics, escape or outbreak. Selected Warders of the permanent establishment should be put to guard the outside gangs in two shifts as prescribed above and the extra men should be put to other less important work.

186. Collection and counting of keys after lock-up.—After lock-up, the keys of the wards shall be collected and counted in the presence of the Jailor; the numbers of prisoners and of keys shall be noted in the lock-up report (W. B. J. Form No. 24) so that the officer in charge of each watch may satisfy himself that he receives the correct number of both.

187. Record of prisoners locked-up in each ward.—After the wards are locked-up the total number of prisoners confined in each separate place shall be recorded in the Lock-up Register No. 12. This register is intended to show whether the wards are overcrowded or not. There shall be a page for every month and a line for every day. On the head line shall be shown the number or designation of each ward, as "Female Ward," "Juvenile Ward," "Convict Ward No. 1" etc., and the class of prisoners, A or B, for which each convict ward is set apart, and below this the capacity of each ward at the sanctioned superficial and cubical allowance of space per prisoner, or in the hospital ward the number of beds. The Head Warder or other officer shall take a note of the number in each ward at the lock-up time, and the Deputy Jailor or Jail Clerk shall afterwards enter the numbers in the book.

188. Employment of convict night guards.—When it is necessary to appoint convict night guards, they shall be employed in guarding those buildings for which there are no Warders available, but they must be so distributed that every convict night guard shall be under the eye of a Warder, who shall be held responsible for seeing that he patrols properly. Convict officers shall not be employed to guard prisoners condemned to death, or prisoners in huts outside the jail walls. There should be at least two Warders for every convict officer on night guard duty.

189. Watch by convict watchmen.—There shall be a special system of watch by convict watchmen in each ward, the changes of watch to correspond with the change of the Warder watch. In wards which require exceptional precautions, or are of unusual length, there shall be two or more watchmen on duty at one time. These convict officers whilst on watch shall keep moving inside the wards, and shall prevent any prisoner from leaving his place or committing any breach of prison discipline, and also satisfy themselves, by counting, that all the prisoners in their charge are there. On change of watch both the relieving and the relieved convict officer shall report to the patrol or other duly authorised official the number of prisoners made over, and the name of any prisoner who has used the night latrine or who has been removed to hospital. In case of any important occurrence the convict officer on watch shall give immediate notice to the patrol, who shall summon the Head Warder in order that he may make inquiry into the matter and take such action as he considers necessary.

190. Night lamps to be kept burning brightly.—It is the duty of the patrolling officers and of both the Warders and convict watchmen to see that all the night lamps are kept burning brightly. Any prisoner wishing to visit the night latrine must obtain the permission of the convict watchman, who will next morning report any prisoner who uses the latrine for defecation. In case of apparently serious sickness the matter shall be at once reported to the Warder patrol and to the Head Warder on duty.

191. Patrols at night.—During the night the watch shall patrol round the outside of the barrack or barracks of which they respectively have charge at a smart pace and shall on no account sit down or quit their beat. They shall always be on the alert. In wet weather, Warders on exposed duties shall each have a waterproof complete with hood, and no Warder shall seek any other shelter from the weather either by day or night; Warders on other duties may, at the discretion of the Superintendent, be allowed to have with them their own umbrellas during the rainy season. (No sentry boxes shall be allowed inside the jail.) They shall each be armed with a baton or lathi when considered necessary by the Suprintendent and carry a lighted lantern; they shall frequently examine the gratings and doors and see that they have not been tampered with. They shall look inside the wards, if possible, to see that prisoners are in their proper places and that the convict watchmen are alert, not sitting down, and shall frequently challenge them and make them report the number of prisoners.

192. Duty of Head Warder on patrol duty at night.—The Head Warder, or senior Warder on patrol duty at night, shall move about inside the jail visiting the patrolling Warders, convict night guards, and convict watchmen during the whole time of his watch. He shall keep the lock-up report book with him, and both on taking over and giving over charge shall see that the wards and cells are secure, and that the correct number of prisoners is reported to be in custody in each ward. It follows, therefore, that when changing guard at night both the relieving Head Warder and the one to be relieved (or senior Warder, as the case may be) shall verify the numbers, see to the security of the wards and change the guards in company. He shall keep the key of the wards and of one of the locks of the inner main gate wicket attached to his person by a chain. In case of serious sickness he hall give notice at once to the Medical Subordinate and if ordered by him to do so, shall remove the sick prisoner to hospital. Should any irregularity either on the part of Warders or of prisoners occur, he shall at once enter the circumstances in the lock-up report book for report to the Superintendent or Jailor next morning. Immediate notice to the Jailor shall be given of any occurrence requiring prompt action on the part of a higher authority, such as attempt at escape, riot, fire, or serious sickness. A quarter of an hour before the expiry of his term of watch he shall go to the guard house and awaken the Head Warder who is to relieve him, and having done so shall at once return to his duty inside the jail. He shall see that the main gate sentry is standing at his post between the gates, that he is on the alert, and that both gates are kept closed. Punctually at the hour for change of watch the Head warder who is to take the next watch shall bring in the relieving Warders The Head Warders on duty shall frequently search the Warders between the gates on entering and leaving the jail. In Central Jails the Superintendent may arrange that the Head Warders shall be assisted in performing the change of guard by senior Warders, the Head Warders taking one half of the jail and the senior Warders the other half; but in every such case two Warders—the relieving and the one to be relieved—shall go round together and shall verify the number of prisoners and see to the security of the wards.

193. Head Warder to let out the prisoner cook before dawn for preparation of morning meal.—When it is necessary to let out some of the cooks before dawn to prepare the early morning meal, the Head Warder shall let out the necessary number and put them in charge of a Warder. Only prisoners with short unexpired sentences should be selected for this work.

194. Night visits by Jail Officers.—The Jailor, and Deputy Jailor at Central Jails shall go round the jail on different nights and at different hours at least once a week, and at District Jails twice a week, each on different nights and at different hours, and see that convict watchmen and guards are on the alert, that the patrol is properly maintained and that the prisoners are quiet. The night and hour of visit should not be known beforehand, but should be subsequently recorded in the Jailor's report book. The Superintendents of Central Jails shall also visit the jail after lock-up at least twice a month (of District Jails once a month) to see that these rules are carried out, and shall note the visit in the Superintendent's minute-book.

Note.—Officers visiting the jail at night should occasionally do so shortly before the time for change of watch to ascertain that the patrolling Head Warder does not leave the jail sooner, and remain out longer, than is necessary, on pretence of going to wake-up the next watch.

CHAPTER VIII

Alarms, Outbreaks and Escapes

195. Rules to regulate the use of arms against prisoners in case of outbreaks.—The following rules shall regulate the use of arms against any prisoners, body of prisoners or other persons in the case of an outbreak, attempt to escape or attack from within or without:

(1) Any officer of the prison may use a sword, bayonet, firearm or any other weapon against any prisoner escaping or attempting to escape: provided that resort shall not be had to the use of any such weapon unless such officer has reasonable ground to believe that he cannot otherwise prevent the escape.

(2) Any officer of the prison may use a sword, bayonet, firearm or any other weapon on any prisoner or other person engaged in any combined outbreak or in any attempt to force or break open the outer gate or enclosure wall of the prison from within or without and may continue to use such weapon so long as such combined outbreak or attempt is being actually prosecuted.

(3) Any officer of the prison may use a sword, bayonet, firearm or any other weapon against any prisoner using violence to any officer of the prison or other person: provided that such officer has reasonable grounds to believe that the officer of the prison or other person is in danger of life or limb, or that other grievous hurt is likely to be caused to him .

(4) Before using firearms against a prisoner under the authority conveyed in sub-rule (1) the officer of the prison shall give a warning to the prisoner that he is about to fire on him.

(5) No officer of the prison shall, in the presence of his superior officer, use arms of any sort against a prisoner in the case of an outbreak or attempt to escape, except under the orders of such superior officer.

Note 1.—See also Chapter V, Criminal Procedure Code, on "Arrest, Escape and Re-taking" and section 99, I. P. Code, on the right of private defence.

Note 2.—In case of an attack on the jail from outside, the senior Jail officer present shall make arrangements for defence against outsiders, as he would do for defence against a rising inside the jail. Provisions of this Rule and of Rules 199, 200, and 202 should be followed in such cases until the arrival of a superior authority.

196. The alarm.—In every jail there shall be a prearranged signal to be known as "The Alarm," by means of which information may be conveyed to all officers of the jail and to the police of the occurrence of an outbreak, escape, or other untoward event. This signal should, as a rule, be the continued ringing of one or more bells or gongs at the main gate building or other prominent part of the jail, or the beat of a drum placed near the gate sentry, or the blowing of a steam whistle or sounding of electric or hand siren. If a bell or gong is used it shall be of a different tone to that used for conducting parades, so that there may be no doubt as to its meaning. When more than one bell or gong is provided, the ringing of the second bell or gong shall be started by the sentry in charge immediately on his hearing the sound of the first alarm and both signals shall, if possible, be continued until an order to cease is given by the senior officer present.

197. Signal for help or alarm.—In the event of any serious emergency one long blast on the Warder's whistle signifies that "help is needed", three short blasts signify "sound the Alarm".

198. Gate sentry to load musket at alarm.—At the alarm the gate sentry shall load his musket with buckshot. If posted outside he shall not enter within the two gates. He shall at all risk and subject to the provisions of Rule 195 prevent the outer gate from being forced and the Gate Keeper or other persons from being attacked.

199. Reserve guard to fall in fully armed.—The reserve guard shall fall in fully armed and shall assist the gate sentry to defend the outer gate; two Warders with loaded muskets shall be posted on the roof of the main gate to observe the movement of the prisoners and to order any prisoner who may be about the inner gate to disperse. Should they consider it necessary in order to save the life of any person, they shall open fire as provided in Rule 195.

200. Jail Officers to be armed and to fall in at the main gate.—Every Jail Officer belonging to the executive rank or the cadre of Warder guards (not in immediate charge of prisoners), whether in uniform or not, shall proceed immediately to the armoury, arm himself, fix his bayonet and fall in at the main gate under the orders of the senior officer present. He shall not load without direct orders. Information shall be sent to the Superintendent; two squads of men shall be despatched to the opposite angles of the jail enclosure outside the walls with a view to preventing any attempt on the part of the prisoners to scale the walls. A shot (fired in the air) shall be the signal that assistance is needed or that prisoners are breaking over the wall in the direction whence the sound came. When this signal is heard the senior Head Warder shall run with the rest of the guard to the spot indicated and shall act as circumstances require subject to the provisions of Rule 195.

Note.—A certain number of Warders shall be armed with lathis instead of muskets, the proportion being fixed by the Superintendent.

201. Prisoners to be locked-up during emergency.—At the alarm, Warders in charge of extramural gangs shall collect their prisoners and shall cause them to sit down in file at some spot not in the immediate vicinity of the main gate. Such prisoners shall not be passed into the jail without the orders of the senior officer present until the disturbance has subsided. All prisoners inside the jail shall, with the exception of convict overseers, be locked into the nearest and most convenient ward, workshop or other building. The convict overseers may be employed to guard the walls, patrol outside the barracks, or in such other ways as they may be directed. The other convict officers, namely convict watchmen, who are locked in with the prisoners shall be required to maintain order in the building in which they happen to be confined.

202. Firing on prisoners to quell disturbances.—After the sentries are posted and the Jail Staff and Warder guards are assembled, the Superintendent or, in his absence, the Jailor or oher most senior officer present, shall with the whole available staff enter within the two gates. The outer gate shall then be locked and the inner gate, if clear, opened, and the guard passed into the jail to act as circumstances may necessitate, subject always to the provisions of Rule 195. The senior officer present, or the Head Warder of the reserve guard, on arriving at the scene of disturbance, shall, in a loud tone of voice, give notice to the prisoners that if they do not immediately submit they will be fired upon. If circumstances permit, this warning shall be repeated thrice, and then, if there appears to be no other means of quelling the disturbance, he may open fire upon the refractory prisoners but he shall be careful to stop it the moment they fly or submit. On the arrival of the Superintendent or other superior officer of the jail the guard shall act under his orders. Warders shall not fire upon a prisoner attempting to escape by stealth without using or attempting to use criminal force, nor shall they fire unless threatened, or actual violence on the part of the prisoners renders the use of firearms absolutely necessary, or unless they are called upon to fire in the case of general outbreak.

203. Procedure to be followed during quelling of disturbances.—The procedure to be followed must necessarily depend on the character of the occurrence. Absolute silence shall be preserved and the proceedings shall be carried out in an orderly and systematic manner. Every officer shall be instructed about his duties beforehand so that he may know exactly what to do and where to go. When the alarm sounds, a number of handcuffs should be taken by the guard for securing refractory prisoners.

204. Every Jail Officer to arrest a prisoner trying to escape.—It shall be the duty of every Jail Officer to arrest any prisoner detected in the act of escaping or attempting to escape. Should such officer be a Warder in charge of a gang he shall make over the charge of his gang to another Warder or to the senior convict officer of his gang and shall pursue the prisoner who is escaping or attempting to escape.

205. Action to be taken when a prisoner is found to be missing.—When a prisoner is found to be missing, immediate notice shall be sent to the Jailor and by him to the Superintendent. If the prisoner is missing from a gang working beyond jail precincts all the gangs working in the same place shall at once be collected by the Warders in charge and marched back to the jail gate, and if there are reserve Warders with them one shall proceed with all speed, in advance, to inform the Jailor. The same procedure shall be followed if the prisoner missing is one of an outside gang working within the jail precincts, but in this case a convict overseer should be sent in advance to the jail gate. If the prisoner escaped over the wall or from near the jail and appears to be lurking in the vicinity, the Jailor shall despatch as many of the Warders off duty as can be spared to search for him and shall at the same time send notice to the nearest police-station, to the District Magistrate, and to the Superintendent of Police with full descriptive rolls of the missing prisoner sufficient for his identification, and stating his usual place of residence. If the prisoner is found missing from a ward at night, or after all the gangs are inside the jail, the alarm should at once be sounded, the walls shall be guarded as in an alarm parade, and the Jailor shall then take in the reserve guard and spare Warders unarmed to search for the prisoner. If it appears probable that the prisoner is still lurking within the jail walls, the convict night guards off duty shall also be taken out and posted round the outer walls inside. They should be furnished with lighted torches and be ordered to give notice if any prisoner approaches the walls. (Torches ready for use should be kept in stock.) If it is found that the prisoner has scaled the wall and got away, notice to the police and Magistrate should be sent without delay, as stated above. If the prisoner belongs to a district other than the one in which he was confined, a report in the same form shall be made to the Magistrate of the district in which the prisoner resides, and to the Magistrates of all districts which he is likely to traverse on his way to his own district and a report shall also be furnished to the Superintendent of Railway Police, if the prisoner is likely to travel by train. In regard to Calcutta such a report shall be addressed to the Commissioner of Police. If it appears expedient, information shall be sent by telegraph or by radiogram to the police of other districts.

206. Prosecution for escape.—Every prisoner who escapes, or attempts to escape, shall be prosecuted. On no pretext shall these offences be treated as breaches of jail rules.

207. Extra remission for preventing an escape.—All cases where prisoners prevent an escape or apprehend a prisoner in the act of escaping, or give such information as may lead to the prevention of an escape or to the apprehension of a prisoner attempting to escape, shall be brought to the notice of the Inspector-General; and if the prisoner comes under the remission rules, extra remission may be given or recommended, as the case may be.

208. Imposition of fetters.—Prisoners who escaped from jail or while in transit from one jail to another, or attempted or conspired to escape may be placed in fetters under section 56 of Act IX of 1894 with the sanction of the Inspector-General. No prisoner inside a jail, other than a camp jail or temporary jail, shall be fettered as a means of restraint except on the ground that the prisoner is violent, or dangerous, or unless he has escaped or has attempted to escape or has made preparation to escape. Immediately on the imposition of fetters a detailed report shall be submitted to the Inspector-General for his sanction. Reports shall thereafter be submitted to the Inspector-General every fortnight until the fetters are removed. Fetters shall be removed as soon as it is safe to do so.

209. Forfeiture of remission.—Every prisoner who escaped or attempted to escape from jail or who escaped from the police shall be distinguished from all other prisoners by a red cap. The Superintendent may, with the previous sanction of the Inspector-General, allow an escaped prisoner to use an ordinary cap when by good behaviour he has shown himself deserving of consideration. Prisoners who had escaped from jail or while in transit from one jail to another may, with the sanction of the Inspector-General, forfeit all remissions they have earned up to the date of conviction under section 224 of the Indian Penal Code but a prisoner who escapes from police custody before conviction should not be debarred from privileges which are earned by actual conduct while in jail.

210. Periodical checking of fetters.—The fetters of prisoners fettered for safe custody under Rule 208 should be examined daily by the senior Head Warder and once a week by the Jailor, who should certify in his report book that he has complied with this rule on each occasion. Leather gaiters shall be provided for and worn by each prisoner wearing fetters.

CHAPTER IX

The Admission of Prisoners

211. Warrant.—The term "warrant" in this chapter means any order of a court directing the detention of, or containing any other direction in respect of, any person.

212. Except on the written order of a court, the Jailor to admit prisoners into the jail only after the opening of the jail and up to the hours of lock-up.—The Jailor shall ordinarily admit new prisoners into the jail at any time after the opening of the jail up to the hour of lock-up, which takes place at sunset. After lock-up he shall not receive any prisoner except on the special written order (in addition to the warrant) of a Judge or a Magistrate, and in the case of the Presidency Jail also of an officer of the High Court acting under the direction of a judge of that Court. No newly convicted prisoner shall be admittad into the convict wards after lock-up. A prisoner brought to the jail upon conviction after lock-up shall be confined in a cell for the night or in the undertrial ward.

213. Jailor to verify identity of prisoner before admission.—Before admitting a prisoner, the Jailor shall question him and ascertain that his name and other particulars correspond with those entered in his warrant. In the event of a prisoner refusing to answer to the name or denying the accuracy of the particulars entered on the warrant, the Jailor shall request the officer in charge of the police escort to identify the prisoner as the person named in the warrant. If the police officer cannot do this the Jailor shall refuse to admit the prisoner.

214. Prisoners to be admitted only on warrant of court.—No prisoner shall be admitted into any jail except on a writ, warrant or order signed by competent authority. All warrants shall be examined to ascertain whether they are apparently correct and complete. There should be a separate writ, warrant or order for every prisoner even if two or more prisoners have been jointly charged or convicted. If a prisoner is brought to jail without a writ, warrant or order the Jailor shall refuse to admit the prisoner, and shall report the matter to the Superintendent at his next visit.

215. (1) Procedure for dealing with warrants which appear to be defective.—If any error or omission, which is, in the opinion of the Superintendent, due to mere oversight or mistake, is found in any writ, warrant or order of commitment or, if the sentence or order passed, though within the competency of the tribunal or authority which passed it, is in any way defective in form or otherwise irregular, he may receive the prisoner, subject to reference to such tribunal or authority, as the case may be, for orders.

(2) Any case of importance in which the Superintendent's representations have not been attended to, or any case of neglect to furnish a fine realization statement, or of serious mistake in such statement, shall be reported by the Superintendent to the Inspector-General who may refer it to Government, if necessary.

216. Warrants to be arranged according to dates of release.—The date of prisoner's admission into jail and the serial number given him shall be endorsed on his warrant and signed by the Jailor; the warrants shall be arranged according to the dates of release and put together in the monthly bundles, docketed outside with the month and year, all the warrants of prisoners to be released in the same month being placed in the same bundle. Each bundle shall occupy a separate receptacle or pigeon-hole in the warrant almirah which shall be kept locked, and of which the Jailor or Deputy Jailor shall keep the key. In any subsequent reference to a prisoner the spelling of his name shall be that given in the committal warrant, even if the spelling be incorrect. In all jail records and documents both the name of the crime and the section of the relevant statute shall invariably be given.

217. Search of prisoners on admission.—Either the Jailor or a Deputy Jailor shall invariably be present at the time of reception of a prisoner in the prison. On admission into jail all prisoners shall be thoroughly searched for prohibited articles. The search shall be made with due regard to decency and self-respect so far as is consistent with the necessity of discovering articles which may be kept concealed. All private properties shall be taken charge of and be properly brought into account. If prisoners are received late or after lock-up their clothing should be left with them until next morning. Prisoners sentenced to simple imprisonment shall be allowed to retain their clothes. Under-trial prisoners and civil prisoners should be allowed to retain their clothes, beddings and shoes. The caste threads of Brahmins or other thread-wearing castes shall in no case be removed. The civil prisoners shall not be searched in the presence of other prisoners. The search of female prisoners shall be made by the Matron or female Warder and only in the presence of females. All properties taken from prisoners shall be dealt with as provided in Chapter X.

218. Medical examination.—All prisoners shall be seen immediately after admission by the Medical Subordinate, who shall send those who are sick to the hospital for treatment. If there is an observation or segregation ward for new admissions, the new arrivals shall be located there until the Medical Officer directs that they may be placed with other prisoners. If any epidemic is prevalent and accommodation for new admissions is provided outside the jail, prisoners shall not be admitted within the jail till orders have been given by the Medical Officer, or, in his absence, by the Medical Subordinate, for their admission. They shall at once be provided with necessary bedding and protection from cold. Prisoners on first admission to jail shall, at the discretion of the Medical Officer, be kept in quarantine for such period as may, in his opinion, be necessary.

219. Prisoners to wash on admission.—Immediately after admission (or, in the case of prisoners received late or after lock-up, early next morning) all prisoners shall be made to wash themselves and their clothing thoroughly. Convicted prisoners shall each be furnished with the full jail equipment as prescribed in Chapter XXXVI. Such of the private clothing received with convicted prisoners as can be boiled without damage shall be boiled before it is stored.

220. Production of prisoners before Medical Officer.—All newly admitted prisoners shall be brought before the Medical Officer usually on the morning following their admission, and he shall then make, or cause to be made, in the admission register and prisoner's history ticket, a record in respect of each prisoner, of his or her age, health on admission, with such particulars of previous illness as may be known to him, weight on admission, marks of wounds if any on the person, and (in the case of a prisoner sentenced to rigorous imprisonment) the class of labour for which the prisoner is fit, with any other observations he may think necessary. If a prisoner is in bad or indifferent health, the Medical Officer should enter the general cause, such as enlarged spleen, anaemia, etc. He shall also record whether a prisoner has been vaccinated or inoculated or has had small-pox.

221. Juvenile undertrial prisoners to be sent back to court.—When in any jail a newly admitted undertrial prisoner, received from a court which exercises jurisdiction in any area in which the West Bengal Children Act, 1959 (West Bengal Act XXX of 1959), is in force, is found after medical examination to be under eighteen years of age, he shall be sent back to the trying court along with the commitment warrant and the Medical Officer's report about his age for necessary orders of the court remanding him to a Reception Home, instead of to the jail.

222. Vaccination of prisoners.—Every prisoner should be vaccinated against small pox and inoculated against cholera and typhoid immediately after admission. Inoculation against cholera should be repeated after every six months and against typhoid once a year and vaccination should be repeated at least once in five years of successful vaccination or revaccination. The Medical Officer may, however, dispense with such vaccination or inoculation in any case for sufficient reason which must be immediately entered in the history ticket of the prisoner concerned under the initial of the Medical Officer.

223. Every prisoner to have a number.—Every prisoner shall receive a serial number corresponding with the entry relating to him in the Admission Register; and this register number shall be his distinguishing mark whilst in the jail. The series in each jail shall run from 1 to 10,000. The prisoner's number and a letter signifying his class shall invariably precede his name when he is referred to in any official communication thus; "Prisoner No. 236A, Rup Ram." In descriptive rolls the father's name shall invariably be added. A prisoner's descriptive roll shall always be sent to the Inspector-General with any reference concerning him.

224. Particulars to be recorded in the Admission Register.—In the Admission Register shall be recorded, for the purpose of identification, a full personal description of every prisoner, giving a general account of his physiognomy, complexion and habit of body, and a note of any special marks on his person. The personal description shall be entered by the Medical Subordinate or, at Central Jails, by a Deputy Jailor, when the Medical Subordinate cannot be spared for this duty.

225. Conduct rules to be read over to newly admitted prisoners.—An abstract of the rules relating to the conduct of prisoners shall be read over to all newly admitted prisoners; and a copy of this abstract in the vernacular language of the district shall be hung up in every ward.

226. Superintendent to initial the entries in the Admission Register, Release Diary and Property Statement.—(1) On completion of the necessary entries in the admission registers and release diaries, and of the procedure laid down in the foregoing rules, which must ordinarily be effected within the day following the admission of the prisoners, the Jailor shall bring these registers and the prisoners with their warrants before the Superintendent, who shall satisfy himself that the entries (which he shall initial) are correct and that the rules have been carried out.

(2) The list of every prisoner's property noted in the Property Statement (West Bengal Form No. 5158) and other relevant registers (West Bengal Jail Registers Nos. 48 and 48A) shall be read over to him in the Superintendent's presence, and if the prisoner acknowledges it to be correct, the Superintendent shall initial the entry. The Superintendent shall also at the same time write in the prisoner's history ticket any special order regarding the treatment of the prisoner that may be necessary.

227. No prisoner shall be detained in jail beyond the period indicated in his warrant.—Save as otherwise provided in section 26 of the Prisons Act, 1894, no prisoner shall be detained in jail beyond the period indicated by the terms of the warrant of commitment.

228. Imprisonment in default of furnishing security.—If any person who is sentenced to, or is undergoing a sentence of, imprisonment is imprisoned in default of furnishing security under section 123 of the Criminal Procedure Code, 1898, the term of such imprisonment for which such security is required shall commence on the expiry of the substantive sentence, unless the court directs that it shall run concurrently with such sentence.

As imprisonment in default of furnishing security for good behaviour is a precaution for the safety of the public, and not a punishment for an offence, the case of a prisoner who is detained after the expiration of a substantive sentence in order to undergo such imprisonment should be brought by the Superintendent to the notice of the Magistrate of the district in order that, if he think fit, he may take action under section 124 of the Criminal Procedure Code, 1898, for the discharge of the prisoner.

229. Date from which a sentence of imprisonment should be deemed to run.—(1) The term of imprisonment or imprisonment for life to which an accused person is sentenced under the original sentence of a trial court or under any sentence or substituted sentence of the Appellate or Revisional Court, shall, unless that court otherwise orders, be deemed to run, if the accused is not in custody, from the day on which he is received into prison under the sentence.

(2) If the accused is in custody, the sentence shall, unless the court otherwise orders, be deemed to run in a reference under section 307, Criminal Procedure Code, from the day on which the reference is determined by the High Court, and in other cases from the first day of imprisonment under the original sentence.

230 The Superintendent shall personally check entries in the Release Dairy and Admission Register.—The date on which a prisoner is entitled to be released shall be calculated by the Superintendent and Jailor, and an entry shall be made in the Release Diary under that date, giving the name and serial number of the prisoner It is not the duty of the committing officer to note the date of release on the warrant. If the date of release is stated on the warrant incorrectly or omitted, the warrant shall not be returned for correction on that account The entry in the Release Diary shall be made either by the Jailor personally or by the Deputy Jailor; in case the term of imprisonment be changed, either by the judicial imposition of additional imprisonment, or by remission of any part of the sentence, or by absence from the jail on bail or after escape, the fact shall be noted opposite such entry and a reference made to the date of release under the new order, under which date a new entry shall be made. The Superintendent shall himself check each entry in the Release Diary and Admission Register, and shall be personally responsible for the correctness of such entries, and for any illegal detention of a prisoner or failure to execute a sentence due to neglect of this rule.

231. Method of calculating duration of prisoner's sentence.—The duration of a prisoner's sentence shall be calculated by the calendar year or month, unless stated in weeks or days When a prisoner's sentence contains a fraction of a month, the date of his release shall be calculated by reducing the fraction to days, the whole month being, for this purpose, taken to consist of 30 days. The day on which the sentence is passed and the day of release shall both be included and considered as days of imprisonment. For example, a prisoner sentenced to one year's imprisonment on the 15th January 1962 shall be released on the 14th January 1963; a prisoner sentenced on the 1st January to one month's imprisonment shall be released on the 31st January and not on the 1st February following; a prisoner sentenced to one day's imprisonment must be released on the same day; but if he be sentenced to imprisonment for 24 hours he shall be kept in confinement for that period. In such a case, however, the committing court should be required to specify the hour from which the sentence should begin. If the month in which the sentence expires has no date corresponding to the date of sentence, then the last day of the said month must be taken to be the date of expiration of sentence. This rule shall also apply to civil prisoners.

Illustration.—A and B are sentenced respectively to one month's imprisonment on the 30th and 31st January, 1962; both sentences will expire on the morning of the last day of February, and the prisoners will be released accordingly.

232 Calculation of the date of release of prisoner released on bail and afterwards remanded to serve out his sentence or who escapes and is at large and finally surrenders.—The following method shall be adopted in calculating the date of release of a prisoner who after conviction is released on bail pending the hearing of his appeal, and is afterwards remanded to jail to serve out his sentence, or who escapes and is at large for a certain period:

Add the period the prisoner has been on bail or at large, in years, calendar months, and days, to the term of his sentence; the date on which the sum of these periods will elapse, counting from the date of conviction, is the date of expiration of sentence. The court to which a prisoner surrenders after being at large on bail should note in the prisoner's warrant the date on which the prisoner was released on bail and the date of his recommitment to jail.

Note.—A prisoner released on bail in court on the day he is sentenced without having been sent to jail shall not be deemed to have served any part of his sentence.

233. Calculation of date of release of a prisoner sentenced to two or more sentences.—When a prisoner is sentenced, either on the same day or on following dates, to two or more sentences to be served consecutively, the date of release shall be calculated as if the sum of the terms was awarded in one sentence.

Illustration.—A prisoner sentenced on the 21st June 1962 to one year's imprisonment is, for another offence, subsequently sentenced to a further term of one year, the period to commence from the expiration of the first sentence; he will be released on the 20th June 1964, not on 19th June 1964.

234. Imprisonment in default of payment of fine.—If a prisoner be sentenced to imprisonment of which the whole or any portion is in default of the payment of any fine, and if the fine be not immediately paid, the date of release shall be fixed and entered in the Release Diaries on such dates as shall correspond to the date of release (a) if the fine is subsequently paid, (b) if the fine is not paid. When any portion of the fine is paid, the date of release shall be altered accordingly.

Illustration.—If a prisoner be sentenced on 1st January to six months' imprisonment and to a fine of Rs. 300, and it be ordered that if the fine be not paid he be imprisoned for a further period of six months, then, supposing that the prisoner, immediately on conviction, pays Rs. 100, the date of release shall be fixed at 31st October (viz., six months plus four months, the equivalent of the fine unpaid), and entries shall be made in the Release Diary on the 30th June and 31st October; if he afterwards pays another Rs. 100, the latter date will be changed to 31st August; and on his paying the whole, the fact shall be noted opposite the entry on the 30th June.

235. Calculation of the remission of imprisonment on part payment of fine.—If a prisoner who is sentenced to a fine and in default to imprisonment for a certain number of months, pays any part of his fine, the remission for the payment shall be calculated in calendar months and not in days. Any fraction of a month obtained by such calculation shall be reduced to days. A fraction of a day shall not be counted.

Illustration.—If a prisoner be sentenced on the 15th July to six months' imprisonment and to pay a fine of Rs. 300 or in default of payment to serve six months' further imprisonment and he pays Rs. 63, the calculation shall be made as follows:

Rs. $\frac{63}{300} \times 6$ months $= \frac{126}{100}$ months, The date of release deducting one month, would fall on the 14th June. As the month preceding June has 31 days, $\frac{26}{100}$ of a month will be calculated on 31 days:

$\frac{26}{100} \times 31 = \frac{806}{100} = 8\frac{6}{100}$ days. Here the remission for payment of Rs. 63 is one month and eight days.

If the prisoner had been sentenced on the 15th June instead of 15th July, the calculation of the $\frac{26}{100}$ of a month would have to be made on a 30 days' month, because from any date in April to the day preceding the same date in May is 30 days, as follows :

$\frac{26}{100} \times 30 = \frac{78}{10} = 7\frac{8}{10}$ days, so that in that case the remission would be only one month and 7 days.

236. Procedure when any prisoner transferred from one jail to another pays any portion of the fine.—When a prisoner whose sentence includes an order of imprisonment in default of payment of fine is received in any jail by transfer from some other jail, intimation shall forthwith be given by the receiving jail to the jail where he was first confined after conviction. A record of receipt of every such intimation of transfer shall be made in red ink in the convicts' Admission Register in the place where the prisoner's admission is entered. The Superintendent of the District Jail in which a prisoner was first confined after conviction shall be held personally responsible for seeing that duplicates of the fine realisation statements are forwarded on the day succeeding that on which the originals were despatched to the jail in which the prisoner is confined at the time, and his responsibility in this matter shall not cease until he receives an acknowledgment on the duplicate statement from the Superintendent to whom the statement has been forwarded. This acknowledgment he shall pass on to the court issuing the fine realization statement.

237. Jail officers not authorised to receive fines.—The Superintendent or Jailor is not authorised to receive fines offered at the jail, and will refer any persons tendering them to the court which imposed the fine; or, in sessions cases, to the Magistrate of the district where the fine was imposed.

238. Police registered prisoners.—Police-registered prisoners are divided into two classes. The first class consists of prisoners who are to be transferred before release to the jails of the districts in which their homes are situated This class shall be described in the admission registers and release diaries as $\frac{\text{P.R.}}{\text{T}}$ prisoners the letters P.R. standing for "police-registered" and the letter T. signifying "transfer".

The second class consists of prisoners who are not to be transferred, but are to be released from the jails in which they are confined at the time of the expiry of their sentences. This class shall be described in the admission registers and release diaries as P.R. ('Police-registered') prisoners.

All prisoners in respect of whom the sentencing court may have recorded an order under section 565, Criminal Procedure Code, shall be described in the admission registers and release diaries as P.R.T./565 and released from the jails of the districts in which their homes are situated. When intimation respecting a prisoner's police registration is received from the police after his name has been entered in the admission registers and release diaries, the letters P.R., P.R./T. and P.R.T /565 as the case may be, shall be added in red ink. Entries on the back of the P.R. form relating to finger impression, viz., "F.I. taken" or "Tested" shall be similarly added. The police P.R. form intimating the fact that a prisoner is on the police register shall be attached to, and kept with, the warrant, and sent with him to the jail to which he may be transferred. On the death or escape of a P.R. prisoner of either class, the police P.R. form attached to his warrant shall be returned to the Superintendent of Police of his district with an endorsement showing the date of his death or escape. All other P.R. slips shall be sent to the Superintendent of Police of the district, a fortnight before the release is due.

Note.—The number and names of P.R.T. and P.R.T./565 prisoners should be noted in red ink in the release diaries three months before the date of probable release, any remission likely to be earned being taken into account.

239. Registers to be maintained in respect of newly admitted convicted prisoners.—The following registers shall be maintained in respect of the newly admitted convicted prisoners in any jail:

(1) No. 6.—Register of convicts admitted.—The entries in all the columns, except 16, 22, 24 and 25 shall be made on the reception of the convict. The entry of "age" column 4, "personal appearance and peculiarities," column 8, "health on admission, etc.", column 21, and " health and weight on discharge", column 22, shall be made as directed in Rules 41, 220, and 224. If the prisoner is received from the undertrial ward, the entries giving detail of personal appearance, wounds or marks and health shall be copied from the undertrial register.

(a) The entries in column 20 shall be made, in respect of previous character, on the admission of the convict or at any time during his imprisonment, when any particulars regarding previous convictions or previous character shall have been ascertained either from the Magistrate trying the case or from the police; that of character in jail should be entered at the time of his discharge.

(b) Height shall be measured by means of an upright bar graded in millimetres from one metre to two metres and five decimetres, with a small horizontal bar sliding on it.

(c) Every sentence of imprisonment awarded to a prisoner and every period ordered in default of payment of fine, shall be entered separately in columns 13 and 14. A single entry showing the sum total of several sentences is not sufficient.

(d) In the descriptive rolls of prisoners submitted to the Inspector-General extracts of the entries in this register referring to such prisoners shall be made. On the receipt of a prisoner in another jail, the entries contained in the descriptive roll shall, after verification, be copied into the register of the new jail, in which the prisoner shall receive a new serial number.

(e) In case of prisoners received into a jail in course of transfer from some other jail to a third jail, entries shall not be made in this register; but entries shall invariably be made in respect of prisoners received on conviction, although it is the intention of the authorities to transfer them immediately.

(f) When a prisoner escapes or is transferred or is released on bail, and is recaptured or retransferred or remanded to the jail during the same calendar year, he shall not have a new serial number or a new entry in the register; but if he be re-captured or retransferred or remanded in a different calendar year, he shall have a new number, and be entered again in the register as a new admission. In such cases a reference to the new number shall be made in the old register.

(g) In case of a further conviction during any sentence the prisoner shall not have a new number or page of the register, but on every such conviction an entry shall be inserted containing the particulars relating to the new sentence.

(2) No. 7—Alphabetical index of convicted prisoners.—The register should be subdivided alphabetically, a large number of pages being set apart for letters with which the largest proportion of names commences. If the pages set apart for any letter become filled up, new pages may be opened for names beginning with this letter further on in the book, or in a new book: but at the end of the filled section a reference should be made to the page of the same or other book in which the list of names commencing with that letter is continued. The index should be arranged, if possible, to last for ten years.

(a) The family names or surnames shall precede the personal names in all cases and determine the position in the index, viz., Sen Kali Prosanna, Smith John, Saikh Burhan, etc. Except as directed above, the names need not be arranged alphabetically according to the letters succeeding the initial letters, but should be inserted in order of admission.

(b) A new entry need not be made in the case of a prisoner who is known to have been in jail before, and whose name is found in the index. The index should be posted up regularly as prisoners are received.

(c) All aliases shall also be entered in this register.

(3) No. 10—Release Diary.—A page shall be set apart for every day. As a rule volumes for 10 years in advance should be kept up. Names of prisoners to be released after ten years should be entered on the last page of the last volume, and when new volumes are opened, their names should be carefully transferred to the proper place in them. The particulars of uncaptured escaped prisoners shall be entered inside the cover of the current diary.

(a) On conviction, a prisoner's name shall be entered on the page devoted to the day on which he is to be released: thus, if he is sentenced on 4th August 1962 to a year's imprisonment, his name shall be entered on the page headed 3rd August 1963.

(b) If a prisoner be entitled to be released before the expiration of his sentence, the fact should be noted opposite the original entry, and a reference made to the day on which he is to be released, under which day a new entry shall be made. The same procedure shall be followed when a prisoner receives a further sentence.

(c) If a prisoner receives a sentence of imprisonment and also of fine, with additional imprisonment in default of payment, entries shall be made in the Release Diary in accordance with the instructions in rule 234 and the illustraiton there given.

(d) The names of civil prisoners shall be entered on the day on which they are to be released.

(e) The last columns of the Release Diary are to be used to give the information relating to prisoners on their discharge. Whenever cash is given to a prisoner as subsistence allowance or to pay his way on his journey to his home, the amount shall be entered in the column provided for the purpose. When a prisoner is transferred or dies before the expiry of his sentence, full particulars shall be entered regarding him under the date on which he died or was transferred.

(4) Register No. 14—Daily Abstract.—This record shall be an abstract of the statistics of registers Nos. 6, 8, 9 and 10 and include particulars of all classes of prisoners. The daily abstract shall always be written up on the morning after the day to which it refers. Non-criminal lunatics sent to the jail for observation, recovered criminal lunatics detained during the pleasure of Government, and female prisoner's children should be entered separately below in the lines reserved for statistics regarding them. The number of simple imprisonment prisoners should be shown separately, but will also be included in the figures relating to convicts generally.

CHAPTER X

Prisoners' Property

240. Custody and record of prisoners' property.—All money or other articles in respect whereof no order of a competent court has been made, and which may with proper authority be brought into the prison by any prisoner or sent to the prison for his use, shall be placed in the custody of the Jailor. A list of all property of a prisoner taken from him under Rule 217 or delivered with him, or afterwards received on his account, shall in the case of a civil prisoner be endorsed on his warrant and in the case of a convicted or undertrial prisoner in the Property Statement (West Bengal Form No. 5158) and signed by the Superintendent and the Jailor. These statements should be maintained in the form of personal ledger accounts in bound volumes, class by class, serially according to the date of admission with an alphabetical index in each for facility of reference.

It will be advantageous for Central and District Jails to open two such registers for convicts according to the length of sentence, viz., one for those with sentence up to one year and the other for those with sentence for more than a year.

A record of all private properties except cash of a prisoner shall also be kept in W.B.J Registers Nos. 48 and 48A (West Bengal Form Nos. 5156 and 5157). There shall be two separate registers, one for valuable property and the other for ordinary property, in every jail. The entries in these registers should tally with those in the Property Statements maintained in bound volumes. Any property or money belonging to a prisoner may at any time during his imprisonment be delivered to his relatives or friends, with the approval of the Superintendent under an authority signed by the prisoner; but no prisoner shall be allowed to make over any of his clothing, if he will thereby on his discharge leave himself with insufficient clothing; and no prisoner shall be permitted to make over any of his property to any other prisoner, either during imprisonment or on release.

241. Procedure for dealing with prisoners' property.—Subject to the provisions of Rule 240, prisoners' property shall be dealt with by the Jailor as follows:

(a) Prohibited articles such as opium, ganja, narcotics, intoxicating drugs, liquor, etc., the unauthorised possession of which is an offence under the law should be taken charge of and appropriate action under the law started against the prisoner. The article should be disposed of according to the orders of the court. If the article is of trifling value and it is decided not to take any legal action in respect of its possession, it may be destroyed under the orders of the Superintendent. If there is reason to believe that the article is stolen property, information should be sent to the Police authorities.

(b) Perishable articles such as grain or food, if of any value, shall be sold and the proceeds shall be dealt with under clause (g).

(c) If the Medical Officer considers that there are objections to the retention of the clothing of any prisoner, or if a prisoner is suffering on admission from any infectious or contagious disease, the clothing shall, under the written order of the Medical Officer, be destroyed.

(d) If the clothing of a prisoner is ragged and absolutely worthless it shall be destroyed, and the Superintendent shall enter his order for destroying it opposite the item on the back of the warrant.

(e) In the case of every prisoner sentenced to rigorous imprisonment for two years and upwards (not including imprisonment in default of payment of fine) his clothes shall be sold on confirmation of sentence on appeal, or on expiration of the time allowed for appeal, if no appeal is made, and the proceeds shall be dealt with under clause (g). This shall invariably be done before the prisoner is transferred to a central jail if sentence has been confirmed. In other cases the clothing of a prisoner sentenced to rigorous imprisonment shall, after being cleansed, etc., be tied in a bundle and stored. Lotahs and other non-perishable articles capable of storage shall be included in the clothing bundle. Every such bundle shall be labelled with the number and name of the prisoner and date of release. The bundles shall be arranged in the storage godown according to the month of release for the current year and according to the year of release for subsequent years.

(f) Valuable jewellery shall be folded in a separate paper packet for each prisoner, on which shall be inscribed the prisoner's number, name, and date of release, and it should be sealed either by the Jailor or the Deputy Jailor in presence of the Superintendent. The packet shall be kept in a secure box in the Jailor's office under lock and key.

(g) Cash belonging to prisoners (including sale proceeds of their articles) shall be kept in the Jailor's cash chests. Should, however, any prisoner desire to invest his money in any of the small savings securities issued by the Government of India or other Government securities, he shall be permitted to do so. The small savings securities shall be treated as prisoners' property and dealt with by the Jailor under clause (f). Government securities in the case of a prisoner whose period of detention exceeds five years shall be deposited for safe custody with the Manager, Reserve Bank of India, Securities Department, Calcutta, and in the case of a prisoner whose period of detention is less than five years these shall be sent to the Treasury Officer of the nearest Treasury for safe custody.

After such investment, the amount kept in hand by the Superintendent for payment to prisoners shall not exceed Rs. 1,500 in a Central Jail (Rs. 1,000 in Berhampore Central Jail) and Rs. 300 in a District Jail. The excess amount, if any, shall be kept in a Personal Ledger Account at the Treasury in the name of the Superintendent who shall keep a record of the amounts deposited and withdrawn on the first page of the Cash Book and maintain a detailed account of the money belonging to each prisoner in the Prisoners' Private Cash Statements. Withdrawals may be made from the Personal Ledger Account according to requirements.

Any money meant for a prisoner shall be acknowledged by him by putting his signature or thumb impression on the back of the Money Order Form or on the formal receipt, according as the money is received by a Postal Money Order or by other means, and his signature or thumb impression shall be attested by a Deputy Jailor or other Superior Officer. The receipt and disposal of all such money shall be recorded in the Gate Register, Cash Book and the Private Cash Statement of the prisoner and also noted in his History Ticket under the initials of the Superintendent.

242. Verification of prisoner's property.—The Jailor shall, during the first week of January and of July every year, verify the valuable porperties of prisoners held by him with those as recorded in the Valuable Property Register. He shall also once every year in the month of April compare the amount of private cash of prisoners held in cash and in Personal Ledger Account in the Treasury, with the amount which should be held according to the warrants or cash statements. A certificate showing the result of the verification of valuable properties shall be entered in the Valuable Property Register and that relating to the verification of private cash in the first page of the Cash Book. Any discrepancy should be at once reported to the Superintendent who shall, in case of a deficit, take steps for fixing responsibility and recovering it from the officer responsibile.

In case of any excess, steps should be taken to return the prisoners' property and cash which may not have been taken by them on release.

243. Prisoner to be informed about the price realised in case of sale of any of his properties.—If a prisoner's property is sold under the above rules, he shall promptly be told how much money was realised by the sale and the fact that this has been done shall be noted in his history ticket. Purchase of a prisoner's property at such sales by the jail staff either directly or indirectly is strictly forbidden.

244. Kind of property that can be kept in jail for prisoners.—Only such property shall be kept as can be stored in the jail godowns other than food godowns. If livestock or cumbrous articles, such as large boxes, charpoys, etc., are received with or for a prisoner, they shall be handed over to his friends, if he so desire, or shall be sold and the proceeds dealt with under Rule 241(g). At the Presidency Jail only cash, valuables and sufficient clothes for the prisoner's use on release should be taken charge of by the Jail Department; other articles of a bulky nature, such as boxes, trunks, beds, etc., should, in accordance with the wishes of each prisoner, be either sold or made over to his friends by the police, the proceeds in case of sale being paid to the Superintendent of the jail to hold as deposit on the prisoner's account.

245. Prisoner convicted in a criminal case found after admission in possession of money or any prohibited article guilty of prison offence.—If a prisoner, other than a civil prisoner, after being searched on admission, is found in possession of any money or other prohibited article he should be deemed to have committed a prison offence under section 45 of the Prisons Act, 1894, and dealt with accordingly. The money or article which is the subject-matter of the offence shall be disposed of as provided under Rule 241.

246. Prisoner's property to be sent with him on transfer to another jail.—On transfer of a prisoner from one jail to another all his property shall be sent with him.

247. Disposal of unclaimed properties of released prisoner.—On the release of a prisoner his property shall be delivered to him as provided in Rules 273 and 274.

Any unclaimed property of a released prisoner shall be retained in the jail for one year from the date of his release. If no claim is put forward within that period, the property shall be sold and the proceeds shall be paid into the treasury as unclaimed prisoners' property. With the exception of currency notes and coins, unserviceable articles, which fail to attract any customer through auction should be disposed of according to the discretion of the Inspector-General.

248. Disposal of properties of deceased, escaped or released prisoner.—In the event of a prisoner dying in a jail his property shall be made over to the officer in charge of the nearest police-station (in Calcutta to the Commissioner of Police), and the Superintendent shall forward, with the property, the prisoner's descriptive roll, and a certified copy of the record relating to the prisoner's property. The wishes of any dying prisoner about his property should be mentioned to the police in the letter. The Jailor is responsible that, on the prisoner's leaving the jail or dying, the property made over to him or sent with him, or made over to the police, as the case may be, corresponds with the record of what has been taken charge of. The property of an escaped prisoner shall be retained for one year from the date of his escape. If he is not recaptured within that period, his property shall be sold and the proceeds with any cash belonging to the prisoner shall be paid into the Treasury as unclaimed prisoner's property.

CHAPTER XI

Prisoners' History Tickets

249. Every prisoner shall be provided with a history ticket.—Every prisoner shall immediately on his reception in jail be provided with a "History Ticket" (W.B.J. Form No. 20, 21 or 22) in which, beside the information required by the heading, shall be recorded at the time, and in chronological sequence every occurrence of importance in the jail life of such prisoner, and every order specially relating to him.

250. Jailor responsible for history tickets.—The duty of providing, preparing and maintaining history tickets correctly shall devolve on the Jailor (or other officer specially deputed by the Superintendent) who shall be responsible for seeing that all entries, other than those to be made by the Superintendent and medical authorities, are duly and correctly made under the initial of the entering officer. Every entry in every ticket shall be made at the time of, or as soon as possible after, the occurrence of the event to which it relates and shall be dated and initialled by the officer making the entry.

252. Superintendent to record special orders in history ticket.—The Superintendent shall record or certify on a prisoner's history ticket—

(a) any special order he may have to give as to the treatment of the prisoner, e.g., location in juvenile ward, separation at night in cubicles or cells, any particular work or duty, etc.;

He shall also subsequently enter or cause to be entered on the ticket the fact of vaccination having been performed in jail and the result, admission into and discharge from hospital on every occasion, with the disease for which admitted and any special instructions for the treatment of the prisoner, change of work or food, etc., other than matters for which either he himself or his Medical Subordinate is solely responsible. On discharge of a prisoner from hospital or the convalescent or special gangs he shall invariably enter on the ticket whether the prisoner may revert to his original work and task, or whether some other work and task should be allotted to him: He shall also see that the fortnightly weighments are duly recorded on the history tickets. He shall record the existence of leprosy and the necessity or otherwise for segregation, the physical fitness for labour of every simple imprisonment prisoner who volunteers to labour, the physical fitness for punishment of any prisoner awarded a punishment requiring a preliminary medical certificate; fitness for judicial solitary confinement; fitness for transfer; every order for cutting the hair of any female or other prisoner on account of vermin or disease, etc.

254. Entries to be recorded by Medical Subordinate.—The Medical Subordinate shall, in addition to any entries made by him under the foregoing rule, record every visit to, and detention under observation in hospital of any prisoner, together with the nature of the complaint and the fact of the administration of medicine. He shall also enter in a prisoner's ticket any special recommendation regarding his treatment he may have to make, but unless the matter is urgent, he shall submit it to the Medical Officer for confirmation. He shall, together with the Jail Clerk or Compounder if deputed to assist him in weighing the prisoners, enter the fortnightly weighment of every prisoner in his history ticket.

255. Entries by Jailor.—The Jailor shall record on every prisoner's history ticket—

(a) the particular work and task in weight, number or measurement to which the prisoner is put;

257. Custody and production of the history ticket.—The history ticket of each prisoner shall be kept in a proper receptacle by the Warder or the convict officer in whose charge he is placed, to be produced by him whenever required. It shall go with the prisoner whenever he is changed to another gang or work or sent to hospital. At the weekly parades each prisoner shall hold his ticket in his left hand for the Superintendent's inspection; and it shall invariably be produced with the prisoner when he is reported for an offence or brought before the Superintendent or Medical Officer for any reason, or when remission is awarded.

When a prisoner is transferred to another jail, his history ticket shall be sent with him.

CHAPTER XII

Judicial Solitary Confinement

259. Reference in case of irregularity in the order of solitary confinement.—If any warrant contains an order relating to solitary confinement, which is contrary to section 73 or 74 of the Indian Penal Code, the matter shall be referred to the Inspector-General, or the Tribunal or the authority passing the sentence, as the case may be. For example, such action will be necessary if a prisoner sentenced to seven months' imprisonment be ordered two months' solitary confinement.

260. Procedure for execution of judicial sentence of solitary confinement.—(1) No prisoner shall be placed in solitary confinement until the Medical Officer certifies that he is fit to undergo it.

(2) Prisoners sentenced to solitary confinement should ordinarily be divided into four gangs; each gang should be placed in cells for a week at a time, so as to utilise the cells to the fullest extent and at the same time comply with the requirements of sections 73 and 74 of the Indian Penal Code. It will be convenient to fix the 1st, 8th, 15th and 22nd of each month as days on which to commit batches to solitary confinement.

(3) A prisoner, who is unfit at the time he would ordinarily be confined, should be placed in a cell at a subsequent date if the conditions imposed by section 74 of the Indian Penal Code allow.

(4) The execution of a sentence of solitary confinement need not be postponed on account of an appeal.

(5) Every prisoner undergoing solitary confinement shall be visited daily by the Medical Officer or Medical Subordinate and the Jailor.

(6) If prior to any period of solitary confinement a prisoner is declared by the Medical Officer to be unfit to undergo such confinement, or if during any period of solitary confinement it becomes necessary, under the Medical Officer's orders, to remove a prisoner on the ground of injury to mind or body, the fact shall be reported to the Inspector-General and to the court by which the sentence was passed.

(7) If a prisoner sentenced to solitary confinement be declared by the Medical Officer to be permanently unfit to undergo such confinement, the matter shall be reported to the court which awarded the sentence and the order of solitary confinement shall not be carried out.

261. Prisoners in solitary confinement may take open air exercise.—Prisoners in solitary confinement shall be permitted to take such exercise in the open air as the Medical Officer may consider to be necessary for their health.

262. Time when solitary confinement can be given effect to if a prisoner is undergoing sentence on more than one warrant.—If a prisoner is sentenced under two or more separate warrants, any period of solitary confinement awarded can only be given effect to during the time the sentence of which it forms a part, is being executed.

263. Record of solitary confinement.—On each occasion on which a prisoner undergoes solitary confinement, the Jailor shall note on the history ticket of the prisoner the date on which the prisoner was placed in the cell, the date on which he was removed and the number of days passed in such confinement. The entries shall be initialled by the Jailor and the Superintendent.

When a convict who has partially served a sentence of solitary confinement in a jail is transferred to another jail, the period of solitary confinement undergone by him up to the date of his transfer, shall be entered on the back of his warrant under the signature of the Superintendent.

264. Restriction of jail punishment of cellular confinement to a prisoner undergoing judicial solitary confinement.—No prisoner who has undergone a period of solitary confinement shall be punished with separate or cellular confinement for a jail offence within a period equal to the period of solitary confinement he has undergone after the expiration of such confinement.

CHAPTER XIII

Release of Prisoners

265. Check of warrants of convicts due for Release.—The warrants of all convicts whose release becomes due in any month shall be examined on the 25th day of the month preceding to ascertain their correctness.

266. Superintendent to sign orders for final discharge of prisoners.—When the sentence of a prisoner expires, the Jailor shall bring him before the Superintendent, together with his warrant and he shall be released in the presence of the Superintendent and at the jail gate. All orders for the final discharge of prisoners are to be signed by the Superintendent of the jail. In cases of release on appeal, payment of fine, furnishing security, giving bail, etc., in which the power of legal detention ceases as soon as the order of the court is delivered at the jail, the Jailor shall release the prisoner on his own responsibility, provided always that an immediate reference to the Superintendent is, from the distance of the jail or other causes, impracticable. The warrant of a prisoner released by the Jailor shall be signed by the Superintendent as if the prisoner was released before himself. The warrant for the release of a prisoner who has been transferred to another jail shall immediately on receipt be forwarded under a registered cover to the jail in which the prisoner is confined.

267. Verification of personal description of prisoner before release.—The identity of each prisoner shall, before being released, be carefully examined with reference to his personal description in the Admission Register, and the Superintendent or Jailor, as the case may be, shall satisfy himself that the proper prisoner has been brought forward and that his sentence has been duly executed taking into consideration the remission earned under the remission rules.

268. Jail from which a prisoner is to be released.—Prisoners shall ordinarily be released from the jail in which they are confined at the time of release; but the Inspector-General may give special orders directing that prisoners confined in any jail shall be transferred to the jail of the district in which their homes are situated and released from there.

269. No prisoner to be released after lock-up.—No prisoner shall on any account be released after lock-up. Warrants for release should not be despatched by a court after sunset, or, if so despatched, should be endorsed with instructions for release as early as possible next morning. Ordinarily prisoners shall be released after they have partaken of their morning meal, and as soon after sunrise as possible. All prisoners shall, before they are released, be required to bring to the office and deliver up their jail kits. All the articles of the kits shall be clean and fit for use. Any prisoner who gives up his kits in dirty state shall be made to wash and clean it before he is released. The clothing and bedding of released prisoners shall be immediately washed again by prison dhobies, after which they shall be stored in the clothing godown for re-issue in turn; the passing on of kits from released to newly admitted prisoners is prohibited.

270. Day of release of prisoner.—If the date of release falls on a Sunday, the prisoner shall be released on the preceding Saturday; but a judgment-debtor entitled to his discharge on the omission by the person, on whose application he has been detained to pay subsistence allowance must be released on a Sunday if the 1st of the month falls on that day.

271. Telegram, radiogram or telephone message no authority for release of prisoners.—No prisoner shall be released on the authority of a telegram, radiogram or a telephonic message.

272. Certificate on completion of term of imprisonment.—Every prisoner sentenced to imprisonment for 6 months or upwards shall, on release, be furnished with a certificate (W.B.J. Form No. 31) signed by the Superintendent to the effect that he has completed his term of imprisonment. In case any remission of sentence has been granted the amount should be stated.

273. Delivery of prisoner's property on release.—On releasing a prisoner the Superintendent or the Jailor as the case may be, shall deliver to him any property of which he may have been in possession and which is entered in the Property Statement and in other relevant registers, or the value of such property if it has been sold. An acknowledgment of the receipt of the property will be taken from the prisoner on the Property Statement and in other registers as necessary. In any case the prisoner shall be called upon to declare, in presence of a witness, if he has received his property in full, or to claim at the time anything not delivered to him. If any part of a prisoner's property is not found and delivered to him, a note of it shall be made opposite the item in the warrant, and also in the Property Statement and the relevant registers and the Superintendent shall decide what compensation is to be given to the prisoner and what officer is to be held responsible provided that no prisoner shall be entitled to receive any compensation other than the sale proceeds (if any) in respect of any property at any time destroyed or sold in accordance with the provisions of Rule 241.

274. Clothings to be given to a prisoner on release.—Prisoners will ordinarily be released in the clothing in which they came to jail; but if this has been destroyed or sold, or appears insufficient for decency the following clothings, which should be kept in store for this purpose, and fully washed, if old, may be given to Division III prisoners:

(i) Those with sentences of less than two months—A plain cloth.

(ii) Others—One piece of dhuti 4.11 Metres in length and one nima or one piece of sari 4.57 Metres in length and one blouse, according as the prisoner is a male or a female.

In addition, an old blanket may be given to such prisoners in cold weather. When prisoners have been credited with the sale-proceeds of their own clothing, the cost of the new clothing given them on release shall, to such extent as funds are available be met from the sums so credited. All prisoners should be carefully searched immediately before release. Care should be taken to see that no prisoner takes away any jail property with him.

Juvenile and adolescent prisoners on release should be supplied with the following outfit of clothes:

(1) A piece of dhuti 4.57 Metres in length and with a coloured border 6.35 milimetres wide.

(2) One pair of khaki shorts (old).

(3) One khaki jacket (old).

(4) One gamcha or towel (old).

(5) One belt.

275. Diet and travelling allowance to prisoners on release.—(i) Every convict being a resident of this State whose home is situated more than 8.046 Kilometres from the jail from which he is to be released and who is not in possession of more than three rupees, shall at the time of his release be provided with subsistence allowance for every 24.14 Kilometres or part thereof to be travelled by road, and also in respect of every day's or part of a day's journey by rail, motor bus, steamer or boat, to his home at the following rates:

Division I—Re. 1.87 P.

Division II—Re. 1.12 P.

Division III—Re. 0.75 P.

(2) Every prisoner whose home is on or near any railway or steamer line shall be supplied with a free pass of the lowest class on the Credit Note System to the station nearest to his destination. In other cases he shall be paid necessary motor bus fare for journey to the place nearest to his destination, provided there is a bus service on the route. Free Railway Pass on the Credit Note System may, also, be issued in respect of the child above the age of 3 and up to the age of 6 at half 3rd class or 2nd class rate, as the case may be, in the event of a female prisoner being released or transferred from jail along with such a child.

Subsistence allowance for such children at half rate may be provided for.

(3) Released prisoners sent to their home by boat shall be provided with necessary boat hire.

(4) Prisoners whose homes are situated less than 8.046 Kilometres from the jail shall usually be granted no subsistence allowance. A copy of the Official Manual of Distances in West Bengal shall be kept in every jail. The distance of each thana from the jail shall be taken as the distance of every village within the thana jurisdiction. No prisoner whose home is more than 8.046 Kilometres from the jail shall, however, be refused subsistence allowance by reason of the thana within the jurisdiction of which it is situated being within 8.046 Kilometres of the jail.

(5) Released prisoners, who are certified by the Medical Officer to be unfit to travel on foot owing to illness or physical infirmity, shall be furnished with gharry or motor omnibus hire for the journey they will have to perform by road.

(6) This rule shall not apply to the cases of male prisoners who are residents of other States, unless they have been transferred from such States, or unless they are in bad health, or, owing to age or infirmity, are unable to work their way home. Such prisoners shall be furnished with subsistence allowance and Railway Passes (if necessary) to the places where they were respectively convicted and sentenced, or to their homes whichever may be nearer, or if they do not desire to return to such places, they may be granted three days' subsistence allowance in order that they may not be left entirely destitute.

(7) Any female prisoner who is a resident of a district other than that in which she is confined, shall be transferred, at least six weeks before her release is due, to the jail of her own district for release. When the home of a female prisoner, about to be released, is at a distance of more than 8.046 Kilometres from the jail, a notice will be sent one month before her release to the Magistrate of the district in which her home lies asking him to intimate to the woman's relatives the date of such release and to urge them to come and receive her, at the jail gate; and when this distance is 8.046 Kilometres or less, the intimation of release shall be sent to the woman's relatives by the Superintendent of the jail. In the event of no relative appearing to receive her, and if she be under 25 years of age or likely to be led astray, she should be sent to her home in charge of the female Warder, if there is one attached to the jail, or of a respectable woman entertained to escort her. If the escort is not considered necessary, the prisoner shall be given a Railway Pass (if she can travel by rail) and full and liberal means of subsistence to enable her to reach her home in comfort.

(8) Clauses (1) and (2) of this rule shall not apply to undertrial prisoners released on bail, or to prisoners sentenced to less than one month's imprisonment under the Indian Railways Act. The latter class of prisoners should be treated in the same way as prisoners from other States.

(9) The allowances granted by this and the next rule shall be given in presence of the Superintendent when the prisoner is released by him. Receipt of the allowances shall be acknowledged by the prisoner in the Release Diary under his signature or thumb impression.

276. Release of juvenile prisoners.—Any juvenile prisoner who is a resident of a district other than that in which he is confined shall be transferred except when his term of imprisonment is less than three months, at least one month before his release is due to the jail of his own district for release. At least two weeks before the due date of release of a juvenile prisoner the Superintendent shall inform the parent or the guardian of the juvenile convict and ask him to meet and receive the prisoner at the jail gate. If a parent or any other relation about whose relationship with the prisoner the Superintendent is satisfied comes to the jail gate to receive him the prisoner shall be made over to him. If no body appears or the Superintendent has doubts he shall contact the police authorities and arrange to hand-over the prisoner to the police for escorting him to his home. The subsistence allowance granted to the convict shall be made over to the policemen who escort him home.

Note.—For purpose of this rule a juvenile convict means a convict under 18 years of age.

277. Warrant of imprisonment to be returned to the issuing court on death or release of a prisoner, and ten years after the date of escape or expiry of sentence of a fugitive prisoner not recaptured.—On the death of a prisoner or his release upon the expiry of his sentence or on bail, his warrant of imprisonment shall be immediately returned to the court which (and not by name to the officer who) issued it, with an endorsement showing the date of death, or date and cause of release, and the date on which the warrant is returned.

Warrants issued by courts mentioned in column 1 below should be returned to courts indicated in column 2 for transmission to the issuing court.

Column 1.	Column 2.
Presidency Magistrate. .	Chief Presidency Magistrate.
Magistrates at Headquarters of a district ...	District Magistrate.
Magistrates at outlying subdivisions.	Subdivisional Magistrate.

If any prisoner is required to undergo two or more sentences under separate warrants, such warrants shall be returned when the combined sentences have been executed.

The warrant of every prisoner who has escaped and has not been recaptured shall be returned to the court of issue after a period of ten years from the date of escape or after expiry of the period of sentence as indicated in the warrant, whichever is later.

278. Release on prisoner's own recognizance.—If a warrant is received from a court directing that a prisoner shall be released on his own recognisance, the Superintendent shall cause a bond to be prepared in proper form and after the prisoner signs it in his presence, shall release him. If the warrant requires the recognisance of any other person, the Superintendent shall not release the prisoner until he receives from the Magistrate a warrant setting forth that such recognisance has been given and ordering the prisoner's discharge. Immediately on release of the prisoner the release warrant shall be returned to the court which issued it with an endorsement thereon that it has been duly executed, and with the prisoner's recognisance bond, if any. The warrant of imprisonment shall be returned to the court which issued it with an endorsement stating the fact and date of release, the name of the court which issued the order of release and the date of such order.

279. Military authorities to be notified regarding release of military prisoner.—(1) Whenever the Superintendent has reason to believe that any person in his custody for any offence is a member of the Defence Services liable to serve the President on the expiration of his imprisonment, he shall notify the facts of the case to the nearest military authorities.

(2) The Superintendent shall notify to the military authorities at least three days previous to the day and hour on which any military prisoner is to be released in order that they may arrange to receive him on release.

CHAPTER XIV

Appeals and Petitions

280. All facilities should be given to prisoners desiring to appeal.—A convict desiring to appeal, and entitled to do so, shall be granted every reasonable facility for the purpose, and his request shall be promptly attended to, whether the appeal can reach the appellate court within the period specified or not. In cases where a petition for appeal is made so late as to render it unlikely or impossible for it to reach the appellate court within the allotted time, the officer in charge shall endorse on the appeal the convict's reason for not submitting it earlier, together with his own views (if any) on the reason so given.

281. Interview for preparation of appeal.—(1) Every convict shall be allowed reasonable opportunity of personally interviewing his relatives, friends and legal advisers for the purpose of preparing his appeal; provided that every such interview shall be held within sight, but out of the hearing, of the jail official in whose charge the prisoner is placed for the purpose of such interview.

(2) The convict shall be allowed to sign a power-of-attorney authorising any one to act for him; the power must bear the proper stamp under the Indian Stamp Act of 1899 and the prisoner's signature must be attested by the Jailor or Deputy Jailor.

282. Preparation and presentation of appeal by convict.—(1) If a prisoner desires to appeal and declares that he has no relative, friend or agent who is willing to make an appeal for him, the Superintendent shall forthwith apply (W.B.J. Form No. 27) for a copy of the judgment or order relating to such prisoner from which he desires to appeal.

(2) On receipt of the copy of judgment or order, the prisoner shall, if he is able to write, be allowed to write his own appeal. If the prisoner is not able to write, the Superintendent shall cause his appeal to be written for him by another prisoner or by a jail official.

(3) If the copy of the judgment is not received within seven days the Superintendent shall send a reminder for it and if there is any excessive delay shall report the matter to the Inspector-General.

(4) A prisoner, or official deputed to write an appeal, shall do so at the appellant's dictation and shall neither make any suggestions to the prisoner as to what should be stated, nor add anything to what the prisoner himself desires to have stated in the appeal.

(5) The Superintendent shall forward the appeal without delay with the copy of the judgment or order appealed from to the appellate court.

(6) If after the receipt of the copy of the judgment or order a relative, friend or agent of the prisoner undertakes to make the appeal on his behalf and the prisoner consents to that course, the copy of the judgment shall be delivered to such relative, friend or agent, as the case may be.

(7) If several prisoners sentenced in the same case petition at one time to the same court one copy of judgment will suffice for all. But it must be noted that orders issued on the appeal of one prisoner do not necessarily apply to others who were sentenced in the same case and who appealed along with such prisoner.

(8) If a convict has been transferred to another jail before the receipt of the copy of the judgment, the copy of the judgment shall, on receipt, be forwarded without delay to the Superintendent of the jail in which the prisoner is confined and an acknowledgment obtained.

(9) Appeals from military prisoners against sentences passed on them by court-martial must be forwarded with a copy of the warrant to the General Officer commanding the district in which the jail is situated for transmission to Command Headquarters.

283. Form of petition of appeal.—Every appeal shall be made in the form of a petition [High Court Criminal Form (M)12] in writing, and if the appellant is in jail such petition is exempt from stamp duty. Care shall be taken to see that the appeal has been duly signed by the appellant. The signature shall be witnessed and attested by the Jailor or Deputy Jailor. All petitions of appeal shall be endorsed and forwarded by the Superintendent, High Court Criminal Form No. M. 19 being used in the case of appeal to the High Court. Prisoners convicted in the same case may appeal or apply for revision either jointly in one petition or separately.

284 Superintendent to explain the procedure for petition for special leave to appeal to the Supreme Court.—Before forwarding petitions for special leave to appeal to the Supreme Court, the Superintendent shall explain to the intending convict-petitioners the procedure governing the presentation of such petitions and afford them all facilities that the jail rules permit.

285. History ticket to show prisoner's wishes in regard to appeal.—If any prisoner states that he desires or does not desire to appeal, the fact shall be recorded on his history ticket.

286. Custody of prisoner when re-trial is ordered.—When an appellate court annuls a sentence and directs that the prisoner shall be retried, and a warrant for the prisoner's release on bail is not received, the prisoner shall be remanded to the undertrial ward (unless he be undergoing some other sentence), and the Superintendent shall apply to the trial court for a warrant for his custody pending trial if such warrant is not at the same time furnished. Such warrant should set forth the court by which the prisoner is to be tried and the date on which he is to be produced before the court.

287. Appeal petitions to High Court by a prisoner from the judgment of an appellate court not to be forwarded.—(1) Petitions of appeal from prisoners shall not be forwarded to the High Court in cases in which sentences or orders have already been passed by an appellate court on appeal (as for example, by a court of session on an appeal from a conviction before a Magistrate), such sentences or orders being final under the Code of Criminal Procedure.

(2) Procedure to be adopted where the prisoner wishes to move a revision application from jail.—If the prisoner wishes to move a higher court for the revision of the proceedings in his case, where no appeal lies, or where an appeal lies and has failed, all facilities for the purpose shall be given to him by the jail authorities. The Superintendent shall forward the prisoner's application for revision to the court concerned for orders.

Where the application is addressed to the High Court, the Superintendent shall forward it to the Registrar, Appellate Side, for orders of the High Court.

(3) Procedure for dealing with prisoner's petition of appeal to the Supreme Court.—In the case of a petition for special leave to appeal or of a petition of appeal to be presented by a prisoner to the Supreme Court in pursuance of the provisions of the Constitution, the Superintendent of the jail shall forward the same to the Registrar of the Supreme Court in accordance with rules 8 and 14 respectively, of Order XXI of the Supreme Court Rules, 1950.

CHAPTER XV

Classification

288. Classification of prisoners convicted by Courts-material.—Recommendations for classification of prisoners convicted by Courts-Martial and committed to any jail of this State for serving out their sentences will be made to the State Government by the appropriate authority in the warrants of commitment of the prisoners. In confirming or revising the classification so recommended, the State Government shall have due regard to the principles laid down in the relevant rule for classification of convicts.

Pending issue of orders by the State Government the prisoners shall be treated in jail as belonging to the class recommended by the appropriate authority.

Explanation.—In this rule, the expression "appropriate authority" means in cases of persons convicted by a General, Summary General or District Court Martial, the confirming officer and in cases of persons convicted by a Summary Court Martial or a Court Martial, the Court concerned.

Note.—A recommendation of the appropriate authority to place a prisoner in Division A, Division B or Division C shall be treated as a recommendation for placing him in Division I, Division II or Division III.

289. Habitual criminals.—I. The following persons shall be liable to be classified as habitual criminals, namely:

(i) any person convicted of an offence punishable under Chapters XII, XVI, XVII and XVIII of the Indian Penal Code or under the Suppression of Immoral Traffic in Women and Girls Act whose previous conviction or convictions taken in conjunction with the facts of the present case show that he habitually commits an offence or offences referred to above; or against whom an order had previously been passed under section 118 read with section 109 or 110 of the Criminal Procedure Code;

(ii) any person committed to or detained in prison under section 123 (read with section 109 or section 110) of the Code of Criminal Procedure.

(iii) any person convicted of any of the offences specified in clause (i) above when it appears from the facts of the case, even though no previous conviction has been proved, that he is by habit a cheat, a member of a gang of dacoits or of thieves or a dealer in stolen property or a trafficker in women or children for immoral purposes.

II. The classification of a convicted person as a habitual criminal should ordinarily be made by the convicting court, but if the convicting court omits to do so, such classification may be made by the District Magistrate, or in the absence of an order by the convicting court or the DistrictMagistrate, and pending the result of a reference to the District Magistrate, by the officer-in-charge of the jail where such convicted person is confined;

Provided that any person classed as a habitual criminal may apply for a revision of the order.

III. Convicting courts or District Magistrates, as the case may be, may revise their own classifications, and the District Magistrate may alter any classification of a prisoner made by a convicting court or any other authority provided that the alteration is made on the basis of facts which were not before such court or authority.

Note.—The expression "District Magistrate" wherever it occurs in paragraphs II and III above means the District Magistrate of the district in which the criminal was convicted, committed or detained. The expression includes a Presidency Magistrate.

IV. Habitual criminals shall, as far as possible, be confined in a special jail in which no prisoner other than habitual criminals shall normally be kept;

Provided that the Inspector-General may transfer to this special jail any prisoner, not classified as a habitual criminal, whom, for reasons to be recorded in writing, he believes to be of so vicious or depraved a character and so likely to exercise evil influence on his fellow-prisoners, that he ought not to be confined with other non-habitual prisoners. But a prisoner so transferred shall not otherwise be subject to the special rules affecting habitual criminals.

V. "B" Class prisoner. All prisoners classified as habitual criminals under this rule shall be termed as 'B class' prisoners.

VI. The expression "District Magistrate" in sub-rules II and III shall be deemed to include an Additional District Magistrate.

290. Star class and ordinary prisoner.—A casual prisoner means a convicted prisoner who has not been classified as a habitual criminal. He is termed as 'A' class prisoner.

Casual prisoners in division III shall be divided into two classes, viz.—

(a) "Star" class, and

The "star class" consists of such prisoners as may be selected by the Superintendent (subject to the control of the Inspector-General) on the ground that their previous character has been good, their antecedents are not criminal, and their crime does not indicate grave cruelty or gross moral turpitude or depravity of mind.

One or more previous convictions would not exclude a prisoner from the "star" class if these were for petty offences. Even a conviction for serious crime should not be regarded as a bar, if it was committed several years before and if, during the intervening period, the prisoner has led generally an honest life.

The age of the offender on the date of any previous conviction and on the date of his present offence should, of course, be taken into account. All the circumstances of the case should be considered with a view to determining whether the prisoner is already of so corrupt a mind or disposition that he may contaminate others and cannot be much further corrupted himself.

"Star" class prisoners, except when appointed as convict officers, should, as far as possible, be segregated from "ordinary class" prisoners at night parades and at work. When separate cells can be provided and the prisoner who is placed in the "star" class prefers to be thus separated, his wishes should, if possible, be complied with. Where only association wards exist every endeavour should be made to keep "star" class prisoners segregated from others.

291. Previous character of prisoner to be ascertained.—In ascertaining a prisoner's character the Superintendent shall be guided by any particulars regarding the nature and circumstances of the crime, or the previous character of the prisoner, furnished to him by the convicting court in the High Court form. If such particulars be insufficient he may place himself in communication with the police officers of the district. It is of great importance that the Superintendent should know as much as possible about the previous careers of his prisoners.

292. Police to be permitted to see the Admission Registers and Release Diary and prepare lists and to attend weekly parade of prisoners convicted of certain offences.—To afford the police the opportunity of recognizing old offenders the Superintendent shall permit a police officer deputed by the Superintendent of Police (or in Calcutta by the Inspector-General of Police or the Commissioner of Police) on the day preceding the weekly parade of prisoners, to have access to the Admission Registers and Release Diary. From these the police officers will prepare lists of prisoners admitted during the preceding week, of prisoners who will be discharged in the following week, and of any unidentified prisoners still under police enquiry, whom the police will have to inspect on parade. The prisoners named in these lists shall be paraded next morning at 8 a.m. separately from others, at the general parade, and the police (not more than 20 in number), who shall be conducted by the Deputy Jailor, shall be permitted to inspect all these prisoners. They shall not be permitted to hold any communication with a prisoner except such communication as is necessary for the purpose of identification. The Superintendent shall inform the Superintendent of Police (or in Calcutta, the Assistant Inspector-General of Police and the Deputy Commissioner of Police) on what day the weekly parade of prisoners will be held and at what hour the police officer can have access to the Jail Office. Only prisoners convicted under Chapters XII and XVII of the Indian Penal Code of offences punishable with three years, or attempts at the same, under sections 328, 363 to 369, persons bound down under sections 109 and 110 of the Criminal Procedure Code, and undertrial prisoners need be paraded for the inspection of the police. Any police officer duly deputed to photograph, or measure a prisoner, or to take his finger-impressions or footprints shall be allowed to do so. Prisoners should be photographed in ordinary everyday attire and not in prison dress. In the case of prisoners impersonating others the dress to be worn by them when being photographed should be the usual attire of the persons or class of persons impersonated.

Note.—Unidentified undertrial prisoners who are required to be placed in Test Identification Parade for identification by police officer should not be put to weekly parade until the Test Identification Parade is over.

293. Record of the convictions of prisoners.—Particulars of all reconvictions shall be recorded in column 20 of the Admission Register of convicted criminal prisoners. When the particulars noted in this column are obtained from jail records or from the admissions of the prisoner and do not appear in the High Court Form, the circumstances should be brought to the notice of the Magistrate in W.B.J. Form No. 23.

294. Casuals to be kept separate from habituals.—Male prisoners of A class in Division III shall be distinguished from such prisoners in B class by the letter "C" enclosed in a red circle with a diameter of 5 centimetres printed on the left side of the chest of kurtas of A class prisoners only, the width of the lines of the letter and the circle being about 4 millimetres. The distinction in the clothing of A and B class female prisoners is laid down in Rules 602. Each of these classes shall have, wherever possible, a separate sleeping ward or wards, and during the day shall be kept separate as much as possible. If there are no separate feeding platforms, latrines, and bathing platforms for each class, suitable arrangements shall be made to prevent the mixing of the two classes at the different parades. No squad of prisoners working together or employed upon any one machine, such as a dhenki, shall on any account include prisoners of both the classes.

295. "B" class prisoners to occupy vacant cells.—If all the cells of a jail are not in use for purposes of punishment or otherwise, the vacant cells shall be occupied by prisoners of the "B" class as far as the circumstances of the jail will permit. But care should be taken that the prisoners who occupy the cells in this way and not as a punishment for breach of jail rules are not kept in solitary confinement. They should be allowed to take their meals, bath, etc., with the rest of their class and they must be able to communicate at any time with an officer of the jail. This system shall be applied in rotation to all the habitual convicts. Where there are cubicles in the adult prisoners' wards the same principle shall be followed in selecting prisoners to occupy them at night.

296. Class system to be explained to prisoners.—The class system shall be explained to all prisoners on admission and they shall be cautioned that they will be liable to punishment if they converse with a prisoner of a class different from that in which they are put (specially a male adult convict associating or holding communication with any female, juvenile, civil or under-trial prisoner), or if they are found in any part of the jail set apart for the prisoners of some other class.

297. Punishment for allowing a prisoner to communicate with a prisoner of another class.—Any jail official or convict officer wilfully or negligently allowing a prisoner to communicate with a prisoner of another class, or to enter any enclosure set apart for another class shall be liable to punishment, and a convict officer repeatedly offending under this rule must be degraded.

298. Classification of female prisoners.—Classification cannot in its entirety be applied in all jails to female prisoners, but every female prisoner shall be classified, and, whenever practicable, prisoners of the A class shall be kept separate from prisoners of the B class.

299. B class prisoners not to be transferred to A class.—Prisoners of the B class shall, under no circumstances, be transferred to the A class. With reference to Rule 238, the fact of a prisoner being police-registered shall make no difference in his classification or treatment in a jail.

CHAPTER XVI

Discipline and Daily Routine

300. Opening of barracks.—The barracks and cells shall be unlocked at dawn throughout the year. Twenty minutes before the opening of the barracks and cells the rising bell or gong shall be sounded and the watchmen shall then rouse the prisoners and make them shake out and fold up their beddings neatly. The watchmen of gangs shall see that the beddings are properly folded and arranged in line on the beds. Thereafter Division III prisoners in gangs shall sit in file down the centre of the barracks, the leading pair sitting at the gate. Prisoners in cells shall arrange their beddings and clothing similarly and shall then stand at attention in front of the cell gate till the opening of the cell. At the same time the convict officers will ascertain if any prisoner is sick or wishes to see the Medical Subordinate.

301. Latrine Parade.—After the barracks have been opened and the prisoners counted out, they shall be marched to the latrine and be made to sit in file at a short distance therefrom, and those who wish to do so should be allowed to visit the latrine in turn. During this parade prisoners who are sick shall be made to sit a little apart from the rest, and shall be inspected by the Medical Subordinate, who shall see that they get such treatment as is necessary; but if any prisoner appears to be seriously ill he shall be sent to the Medical Subordinate at once.

302. Alteration of gang and change of work.—On completion of the latrine parade, the prisoners shall be marched to the bathing platform where tooth-sticks or suitable dentifrice shall be given for the purpose of cleansing their teeth. Then they shall wash their faces and hands. After the washing parade the early morning meal shall be distributed. At this time the Jailor shall arrange any alterations of the gangs that may be necessary, noting any change of work he may order in the prisoners' history tickets, or causing such entries to be made under his initials, and having the alteration entered in the gang books.

303. Roll call.—On completion of the early morning meal the prisoners shall be allowed to wash their hands and feeding utensils after which the rolls shall be called, and the gangs shall be marched to their working places.

304. Call to attention during the rounds of higher officers.—Whenever prisoners in Division III are marched from one part of the jail to another, or are sitting or standing in gangs except when actually taking meals or at work, or when paraded for inspection, they shall be arranged in files of pairs, and shall rise, move forward stop or sit down at the word of command or signal. This method shall be followed in carrying out the parades prescribed in the following rules. At these parades the signal shall usually be the stroke of a bell or gong. At central jails the parades can be carried out simultaneously in all divisions by signal from the central tower or some central place. Whenever a Jailor or any officer of a rank superior to him visits a gang of prisoners, the prisoners shall carry out the words of command as follows:

"SQUAD, ATTENTION"—If prisoners are marching, they shall stand still at attention, with their feet together and arms hanging down by their sides with the fingers extended, the palms facing inwards; if they are working, they shall stop work and remain in their places: if otherwise, they shall stand up.

"AS YOU WERE"—They shall resume work or continue marching, or sit.

The word of command will be given by the officer in charge of the gang. To drill the prisoners, it shall be practised daily, at lock-up and unlock parades.

A Division III prisoner when brought before the Superintendent for report or verification or petition or when addressing or addressed by a jail officer or by a visitor shall stand to attention in the position described above, and will salute or pay proper compliments as is the custom of his community.

If a prisoner's history ticket is required to be examined, it shall be held open in the prisoner's left hand.

305. Prisoner to carry his kit always.—Every prisoner shall at all times carry with him his complete kit (except bedding and blankets not in use). At the working places each prisoner's clothing not in use shall be carefully folded and arranged in line with that of others, the blanket kurta being placed below the other articles. If the prisoners are allowed under Rule 627 to use blankets to protect them from the cold during the morning parades, each of them shall carry a blanket with him; it shall not be used after the morning parades are completed, but shall be folded up neatly and kept with the clothing being placed under the blanket kurta when the kit is arranged in line. In front of each pile of clothing shall be placed the prisoner's aluminium plate, cup and mug, all of which must at all times be clean and bright. The Head Warder shall be held responsible if any articles, except the beddings and blankets not in use, are found in the wards after the prisoners have left.

306. Midday meal.—When the bell for the midday meal rings, the gangs shall stop work. The prisoners shall then be taken to the respective yards and those who so desire should be allowed to use the latrine. The prisoners shall thereafter have their bath. When the bath is finished they shall be marched to their feeding places. The midday meals shall then be served. If any prisoner makes any complaint regarding the food the Head Warder on duty shall immediately attend to it. When the meal is finished the prisoners shall stand up together, form double file and march to the bathing platform, at the end of which shall be placed two tubs into which each prisoner shall throw any refuse food left in his plate, separating rice or chappaties from curried food. On the platform they shall wash their plates and mouth. When the process is completed the Warder-guards will be changed.

Waste food, when not required for other purposes, is to be disposed of by inviting tenders for their purchase on an annual basis.

307. Prisoners to be supplied with mustard oil.—All classes of prisoners shall be allowed 7.25 grams of mustard oil per head per day from 1st October to 31st March, and 3.63 grammes from 1st April to 30th September for inunction. Females, Sikhs and others who are allowed, under Rule 315, to keep long hair shall also in addition be given 8 grammes of cocoanut oil per head per day and ¼th cake of soap or soap-nut of suitable quantity, whichever they prefer, per head per week.

308. Afternoon work.—When the bell or gong is sounded for resuming work in the afternoon the gangs shall be marched to their places of work. The work shall be resumed and continued until the evening bell rings for cessation of work. The gangs shall then be marched back to their respective wards or appointed places where they shall be counted and the number compared with the gang books. They shall then be allowed to use the latrine and to wash after which the evening meals shall be served. The prisoners shall only wash their faces and hands. But, if prisoners are put to exceptionally dirty work, such as carrying earth in the hot weather, cleaning wool, etc., they may be allowed to have full bath. If necessary, the gangs shall then be broken up and the prisoners should be arranged according to their location in the sleeping barracks. But, as far as possible, prisoners who work together shall sleep together. They shall then be marched to their barrack gates and sit in file there until counted in and locked up.

309. Outside bathing and feeding prohibited.—The bathing and feeding of prisoners outside the jail is prohibited. All prisoners working in gangs outside the jail shall be brought inside for the purpose.

310. Superintendent to hold weekly parade of prisoners.—The Superintendent shall hold a parade of all the prisoners on one morning in the week, when all prisoners will have the opportunity of making any complaint to him. In the winter months, this parade may be held in the open air in the sun, but in the hot weather and the rainy season, the prisoners shall be paraded under shelter. At this parade the prisoners shall be arranged in line, each class in its own division. Before each prisoner shall be spread in neat order his tat bed, blankets, blanket coat and spare clothing, cup, plates, aluminium mug and history ticket. All prisoners losing weight shall be paraded separately for the inspection of the Superintendent and the Medical Officer. On arrival of the Superintendent, at the word of command all prisoners shall stand up, take off their caps, take up their history tickets in the left hand and keep the right hand at the side of the body with fingers extended, palms facing inwards. The Superintendent shall then pass down the line, listen to complaints and requests of every description and pass orders thereon; satisfy himself that remission has been duly awarded and communicated to the prisoners, and that the prisoners know what remission they have earned; see that the classification rules are carried out; note that history tickets are supplied to all prisoners and written up; that weighments have been duly made and recorded on the tickets; that the weighments are carefully considered by his subordinates in the distribution of labour, and that prisoners losing weight are duly set apart for medical inspection; see that prisoners' clothing, bedding and kit are duly provided in full and are clean and in good order, properly marked with prisoners' numbers, see that the prisoners are cleanly in person and pick out any sickly looking prisoners who he thinks should be placed under observation. Petitions regarding the removal of fetters, letter writing, etc., should as a rule be made at the Superintendent's parade.

311. No prisoner to leave his work or line to make complaint.—No prisoner shall leave his work or his line to make any representation to the Superintendent or Jailor. The Jailor shall at least once in the day visit all the prisoners and give them the opportunity of making representations and complaints on any urgent matter, such as appealing, assault or ill treatment. Any prisoner wishing to appeal or complaining of assault or ill-treatment, shall be brought by the Jailor before the Superintendent, but minor complaints and petitions should as a rule await the Superintendent's general parade.

312. Silence to be observed.—Silence shall be maintained at all times except for any enquiry or instructions relating to work. Loud talking or quarrelling in the wards at night, as well as all talking after 9 p.m., is prohibited. No prisoner shall leave his bed for any purpose without first obtaining the permission of the watchman or sit or lie on any other prisoner's bed.

The singing of non-denominational or patriotic songs chosen by the Superintendent may be authorised by him every evening for a short period to be fixed by him. Joining in these songs will be optional.

313. Instructions to be given to prisoners on admission into jail.—As soon as possible after admission prisoners shall be told by a responsible Jail Officer that the object of the jail administration is to help them to get rehabilitated in society as useful citizens and for this purpose they should co-operate in all possible ways with the jail administration. The acts or omissions which constitute prison offences, the punishments which may be awarded for such offences and the advantages to be secured by good behaviour shall also be explained to them.

314. Washing of prisoner's clothes.—All prisoners shall wash their own clothing at the bathing parade on the day preceding the Superintendent's weekly parade. For this purpose in each division in the jail, at the bathing place a tub shall be placed filled with a solution of washing soda and soap of sufficient strength. Into this solution the Division III prisoners, as well as the under-trials in Division II as they pass in file, shall dip their clothes so as to saturate them. Dry soap or soda shall not be given to the prisoners. The washing should be carried out before the midday meal. A prisoner washerman may be employed in washing the clothes and bedding of those sick in hospital. Blanket, kurtas and bedding shall also be washed.

Note.—The solution of washing soda shall be mixed with washing soap in the scale of 29 grammes of soap and 29 grammes of soda per prisoner per week.

Note.—Except under the orders of the Medical Officer no convict shall have his hair shaved.

(2) Under-trial prisoners shall not be allowed to crop their hair or in any way alter their personal appearance, so as to make it difficult to recognise them. To prevent this, scissors and similar implements shall not be allowed in the ward. Prisoners who have been more than a month in the jail shall have their hair cut to the length it was when they were admitted into the jail and kept at this length as far as possible in order to maintain their original appearance. When the Medical Officer deems it necessary on the ground of dirt, vermin or disease, the hair of an under-trial prisoner shall be cut, but it shall not be cut closer than is necessary for the purpose of health and cleanliness.

(3) A barber's shop shall be established in each Central and District Jail for use of prisoners. The benefits of the shop shall be confined to convict officers and under-trial prisoners and convicts used to a daily shave. The privilege may be extended to other well-behaved prisoners at the discretion of the Superintendent. The razors, clippers and nail cutters shall be taken over by the Jailor every evening and the mid-day rest hour.

316. Sundays and jail holidays.—The daily routine prescribed in the foregoing rules shall be observed also on Sundays and on gazetted holidays observed in jails except that no prisoner shall be required to work on those days otherwise than in performing menial offices and other necessary work, including cleaning up and tidying the jail premises. The pages shall on no account be used for writing letters.

318. Certain classes of prisoners to take regular class room lessons.—Prisoners sentenced to rigorous imprisonment for three months and above and not over 50 years of age will be required to take regular class-room lessons. Those who are physically or mentally incapacitated or debarred for any other reason and those who already have an education above the standard of what is imparted by the jail will be excluded from these classes. (2) Every prisoner committed to prison in default of payment of fine or of finding security under Chapter VIII of the Code of Criminal Procedure, 1898, shall be allowed to communicate by letter and to have interviews at any reasonable time with his relations or friends for the purpose of arranging for the payment of fine or the furnishing of security.

326. Facilities of interviews and communications in special cases.—The Superintendent may at his discretion grant interviews or allow the despatch of letters at shorter intervals than provided for in Rule 325 or in spite of the prisoner's misconduct if he considers that special or urgent grounds exist for such concession, as, for example, in the event of the prisoner being seriously ill or on the occurrence of the death of a near relative, or if the friends or relatives have come from a distance to see the prisoner and it would inflict an undue hardship on them to refuse an interview, or if, the prisoner is nearing release and wishes to secure employment, or for other sufficient cause. In similar circumstances the Superintendent may allow a prisoner to receive letters inspite of misconduct. Matters of importance, such as the death of a relative, may also be communicated at any time by the relatives or friends of a prisoner to the Superintendent who will, if he thinks it expedient, inform the prisoner of the substance of the communication.

If the visitor is a female, the search shall be made only by a female. If the visitor, refuse to be searched, the Jailor may disallow the interview. 338. (1) Censorship of leters.—No letter shall be delivered to or sent by a convicted prisoner until it has been examined and initialled by the Superintendent or by the Jailor or other officer under the Superintendent's orders, but no unnecessary delay should be allowed to occur in delivery or despatch. If a letter is written in a language unknown to the Superintendent, he shall take steps to procure a translation before forwarding it. No letter written in cipher shall be allowed. The subject matter of all letters must be limited to private affairs and there must be no reference to jail administration and discipline, to other prisoners or to politics. The Superintendent may withhold any letter which seems to him to be in any way improper or objectionable, or may erase any improper or objectionable passage.

(2) If the Superintendent has any doubts regarding any letter of a convicted prisoner he may forward it to the Deputy Commissioner of Police, Special Branch, Calcutta or the Deputy Inspector-General of Police, Intelligence Branch, West Bengal, as the case may be, for scrutiny. (2) It shall be lawful for such Magistrate, while allowing the application, to direct that the interview shall take place subject to such conditions as may be imposed, provided that the prisoner is afforded reasonable opportunity for full consultation with the legal practitioner of his choice and that if any police or jail official or other person be allowed to be present at the interview, such official or person must remain at a distance, so that, though within sight, he may not hear the conversation. The Superintendent shall carry out the directions so given.

Religious Observances

349. Fast on religious grounds.—Hindu prisoners who so desire may be allowed to fast on the 2nd day of the Durga Puja, the Janmastami day, the Siva-Chaturdashi, the Ramnavami, the Sayana Ekadasi, the Parsva Ekadasi, the Utthan Ekadasi and the Bhim Ekadasi. Prisoners employed on hard labour should be given medium labour and those who are put on medium labour should be given light labour during the period of fast. The prisoners may be provided either with special diet, such as milk, fruits, dahi, sweets or allowed extra food on conclusion of the fast. When the fast lasts for two successive days, light food should be allowed in the evening.

The total cost of dietary during and at the conclusion of fast should not exceed that of the meals given to other prisoners.

350. Fast during Ramjan.—Muslim prisoners who so desire may be allowed to fast during the Ramjan. Such prisoners should be given—

(1) in lieu of their early morning meal some sherbet and some light food (soaked gram or a piece of bread) at sunset,

(2) two rations at night, one to be taken between 2 and 3 a.m. which should be lighter than the ordinary ration.

The total cost of the dietary should not exceed that of the meals given to the other prisoners. Prisoners employed on hard labour should be given medium labour and those who are put on medium labour should be given light duties during the period of fast. The hours of labour should be extended by half an hour in the morning and curtailed by half an hour in the afternoon so as to allow them time to finish their evening bathing and latrine parades before sun-set. The hours of labour thus modified will apply, however, to all classes of prisoners. Arrangements should also be made to keep a sufficient supply of water in the wards or cells in which Muslim prisoners are confined.

The cells or wards cannot be unlocked at night, but the prisoners can say the Taravi prayer in the wards.

351. Medical Officer may prescribe discontinuance of Ramjan fast for reason of health.—The Medical Officer may prescribe discontinuance of fast by a prisoner if he is of opinion that the continuance of the fast by such prisoner is likely to be injurious or dangerous to health.

352. (a) Non-interference with religious practices or caste prejudices.—Interference with genuine religious practices or caste prejudices of prisoners should be avoided. But no relaxation of the working rules shall be allowed. Prisoners shall be permitted to perform their devotions at suitable times and in suitable places. Care should be taken to see that this principle is not made the cloak for frivolous complaints or for attempts to escape from jail labour or discipline. If the Superintendent feels any doubt as to the validity of any plea advanced by a prisoner on the grounds of caste or religion he should refer the matter for the orders of the Inspector-General whose decision shall be final.

(b) Facilities for prayers.—Reasonable facilities should be allowed to all classes of prisoners for the performance of their prayers but all prayers will be voluntary. Muslims should ordinarily be allowed to say their Jumma prayers collectively, but the Superintendent has full discretion to decide how many prisoners should be allowed to congregate. The Superintendent will make the necessary arrangements regarding the place where prayers should be held. No religious cries shall be allowed. Muslim prisoners may provide their own slippers, but a few mats should be kept in the jails for their use at prayers. They should be supplied with water for ablution at each prayer time.

Note.—Azan said in a low voice by one person before Jumma prayer is not considered a "religious cry" and may be allowed on Jumma days and other important religious occasions.

353. Facilities for religious ministration to prisoners may be allowed by Superintendent.—On the application of a prisoner a Minister of his own persuasion may be admitted to the jail at the discretion of the Superintendent for religious ministration to such prisoner on Sundays and other jail holidays or any other day appointed for the purpose. The religious ministration shall be subject to such conditions as to time, place, duration, etc., as the Superintendent considers necessary.

354. (1) A Christian Minister may be allowed to visit a Christian prisoner on any day other than those specified in the preceding rule, if such prisoner is dangerously ill or under sentence of death and desires to see such Minister, but not otherwise.

(2) On such desire being expressed, the Superintendent shall if possible, arrange for a Christian Minister to visit the prisoner.

355. Sikh prisoners.—Sikh prisoners shall be allowed a pagri of suitable size, Kachh (short drawers) to reach to the knees if possible instead of jangiahs and trousers and, if they so desire, a miniature kirpan (dagger) made of steel, 2.5 centimeters in length. They should also be allowed to retain the kara (iron bangle). Jhatka meat should whenever possible be provided for those that require meat.

356. Prisoners of thread-wearing castes.—Brahmin and other prisoners of thread-wearing castes shall be allowed to wear their sacred thread. Long trousers reaching to within ten centimetres above the ankle should be supplied to all Muslim male convicts instead of shorts for facility in offering prayers.

357. Procedure in case of death of a prisoner.—In the event of the death of a prisoner in the jail the Superintendent shall pass orders for disposing of the body in accordance with the religion or custom of the community or caste to which the deceased prisoner belonged. Bodies of Muslim prisoners unless made over to the relatives or friends of the deceased should be made over to the Muslim Burial Associations and where there is no such association arrangement for the burial of such prisoners should be made with the heads of mosques, Muslim Associations or other responsible Muslims who may be willing to undertake the duty. In the case of non-Muslim Indian prisoners dying in jail, their bodies, unless made over to the relatives or friends of the deceased, should be made over for funeral to the local religious or social organisations which may be willing to undertake the duty. A list of such organisations of the different religious communities should be prepared in every jail in consultation with the District Magistrate of the place in which the jail is situate and in case of the Presidency Jail, with the Commissioner of Police, Calcutta and kept in the jail office. If necessary, a sum not exceeding Rs. 20 or any amount as may be decided by Government for each dead body of any community should be paid for the cost of the funeral. The expenditure is debitable to the head "Miscellaneous Services and Supplies" in the "22—Jails" budget.

(4) Any offence triable exclusively by the Court of Session.

It shall be in the discretion of the Superintendent to determine, with respect to any other act which constitutes both a prison offence and an offence under the Indian Penal Code, whether he will use his own powers of punishment or move the Magistrate exercising jurisdiction to enquire into it in accordance with the Code of Criminal Procedure; but no prisoner shall be punished twice for the same offence.

Note.—A prisoner removed from a prison office on the ground of judicial conviction for an offence shall not be deemed to have been punished twice.

360. Classification of punishments which the Superintendent is competent to award.—The Superintendent may award the punishments enumerated in Section 46 of Act IX of 1894, including those prescribed by the State Government under Section 46, Clauses (4), (6) and (7). These are classified into minor and major punishments as follows:

(A) The following punishments shall be considered to be minor punishments:

Note 1.—The major punishments (2)(b) and (2)(e) and any combination of the major punishments (2)(b), (2)(c) and (2)(e) shall not be awarded by the Superintendent of a prison without the previous sanction of the Inspector-General.

Note 2.—Minor punishments (2), (3), (4) and major punishments (1), (1A) and (2) are not applicable to under-trial prisoners.

Note 3.—Only minor punishments (1) and (5) and major punishment (3) are applicable to civil prisoners.

Note 4.—Under section 46(3) of the Prisons Act, 1894, hard labour can be awarded to convicted criminal prisoners not sentenced to rigorous imprisonment but must not exceed seven days.

Note 5.—Dismissal of a convict officer from his office, or his reduction from a higher to a lower post, e.g., reduction of a convict night guard to the position of a convict overseer or a convict watchman, or reduction of a convict overseer to the position of a convict watchman, etc., will amount to loss of privilege admissible under the remission system.

361. Punishments to be recorded.—Every infringement of jail rules shall be brought to the notice of the Superintendent, who shall decide whether the infringement was committed in such circumstances, e.g., wilfully or without excuse, as to constitute an offence. If the Superintendent is of opinion that the infringement of rule was committed through ignorance or excusable carelessness, he shall admonish the prisoner and dismiss the charge without recording it in the Punishment Register. But if, after communicating to the prisoner concerned the facts alleged against him and giving him an opportunity to state his defence, the Superintendent finds it to be an offence, he shall award some punishment and have it recorded in the Punishment Register (W.B.J.R. No. 19) giving all details required by Rule 27 and likewise on the prisoner's history ticket.

362. Formal warning.—A "formal warning" is deemed to be a punishment, and shall be personally addressed to the offender by the Superintendent. The punishment for a first offence should ordinarily be a "formal warning". A formal warning shall not be combined with any other punishment.

363. Change of labour.—"Change of labour" [minor punishment No. (2)] can be awarded only to prisoners undergoing rigorous imprisonment and is a punishment suitable for persistent short work or idleness, but may be given also for other offences.

364. Particulars to be supplied to the Inspector-General.—Whenever application is made to the Inspector-General for sanction to the forfeiture of remission exceeding 12 days, or for the exclusion of a prisoner from the remission system for a period exceeding three months, full particulars of the offence and of the remission the prisoner has earned, and a brief statement of his previous history, accompanied by his descriptive roll, shall be submitted.

365. Suspension of prison privileges to be recorded.—Forfeiture of prison privileges includes any of the special privileges allowed to convict overseers (including night guards), and convict watchmen by the rules in Chapter VI of this Code. One or more of these privileges may be suspended. When awarding this punishment, the Superintendent shall record whether it is to be permanent or for a definite period.

366. Handcuff.—Handcuffs imposed by way of punishments [minor punishment No. (6) and major punishment No. (6)], shall be ironbar handcuffs weighing, with lock, not more than .91 kilogram each, or swivel, with spring-catch handcuffs, weighing not more than .57 kg. each, or chain handcuffs, weighing not more than .45 kg. each.

367. Imposition of handcuffs.—Handcuffs may be imposed—

(a) on the wrists in front, by day or night, for a period of not more than 12 hours at a time, with intervals of not less than 12 hours between each period and for not more than four consecutive days or nights;

(b) on the wrists behind, by day only, for a period of not more than six hours in any day of twenty-four hours, and for not more than four consecutive days. No slings or fastenings other than the ordinary fastenings of the handcuffs shall be used in applying this punishment.

The punishments prescribed in clauses (a) and (b) above shall not be combined in alternate intervals.

A prisoner while undergoing punishment in handcuffs shall be under complete shelter from the sun.

368. Fetters.—The following classes of fetters may be used in jails:

(a) Link fetters, composed of a chain and ankle-rings. The total weight of such fetters, including the ankle-rings, shall not exceed 1.36 kg. and the chain shall be not less than .61 metre in length.

(b) Bar fetters, composed of two bars joined together by a link and attached to ankle-rings. The total weight of such fetters, including the ankle-rings, shall not exceed 2.27 kgs., and each bar shall be not less than .51 metre in length.

369. 30 days to be maximum period for continuous imposition of fetters.—The maximum period for which fetters may be continuously imposed is 30 days. If the Superintendent finds it necessary to impose fetters for a period exceeding 15 days, he shall obtain previous sanction of the Inspector-General.

370. Ten days must elapse after imposition of fetters and before their reimposition.—A period of at least ten days must elapse after fetters of any kind have been imposed as a punishment for a prison offence before they can be again imposed as a punishment for another prison offence, whether of the same kind or not.

371. Use of fetters.—Fetters of every description shall always be kept bright and polished, and soft leather, blanket or canvas gaiters shall be allowed to prevent abrasion of the skin. Link and bar fetters may be suspended to the waist by a strip of leather, no string or rope being allowed for the purpose. When fetters become worn or thin in any part, they shall at once be changed. Fetters imposed as a jail punishment shall invariably be removed before a prisoner is produced in court; fetters for safe custody should only be imposed on dangerous prisoners when appearing in court.

372. Separate confinement.—"Separate confinement" is confinement in a cell, with or without labour, so as to seclude the prisoner whilst in his cell from communication with, but not from sight of, other prisoners. The outer batten door of the cell yard in cells built on the standard plan shall be left open, and a prisoner undergoing this punishment shall have not less than one hour's exercise daily in the common passage in front of the cells or other sufficient space under the eye of a Warder, and shall have his meals in association with one or more other prisoners. Superintendents may award separate confinement up to 30 days. If any period in excess of this up to 3 months is deemed necessary, the order of the Inspector-General shall be obtained. When submitting an application for such order, the Superintendent shall forward a certificate of the Medical Officer of the fitness of the prisoner to undergo separate confinement for the period recommended, or for any other period the Medical Officer may consider the prisoner fit to undergo.

A minimum period of 15 days should intervene between two punishments of separate confinement.

373. Female, juvenile or civil prisoner not to be handcuffed or fettered.—No female, juvenile or civil prisoner shall be liable to any form of handcuffs or fetters as a punishment for prison offence. Handcuffs shall only be imposed on a female as a measure of restraint when there is a likelihood of the woman seriously injuring herself or others, and then for not more than 48 hours at a time.

374. No punishment other than those specified in the foregoing rules can be inflicted except by a court.—Except by order of a court, no punishment other than the punishments specified in the foregoing rules shall be inflicted upon any prisoner, and no punishment shall be inflicted upon any prisoner otherwise than in accordance with the provisions of these rules.

375. Registers.—The following registers shall be maintained in respect of the punishments inflicted on prisoners in any jail:

(1) No. 19.—Punishment Register.—In keeping this register the instructions given in Rule 27 shall be strictly complied with. If the prisoner punished is a convict officer his grade shall be stated under his name. The classification of every punishment as major or minor should be carefully recorded in the column set apart for the purpose. If the entry to be made in the column headed "Evidence of the offence" is a long one, it need not be restricted to that column, but may be written across the book, provided space is left for necessary entries in relation to the case in the other columns. Entries of judicial sentences for an offence committed in jail should be entered in red ink, in order that they may be readily distinguished. At the end of each month a record shall be made in this register of—

(a) the total number of punishments inflicted;

(b) the daily average strength of convicts (A class and B class);

(c) the percentage of A class prisoners punished;

(d) the percentage of B class prisoners punished;

(e) the percentage of major punishments inflicted on B class prisoners.

(2) No. 20.—Diary of Termination of Jail Punishments.—It is of great importance that prisoners shall not continue to undergo punishment for longer periods than those ordered by the Superintendent. On the day an order for any punishment which will continue for a specified term is given effect to, the date of expiry of the term of such punishment shall be calculated and the name of the prisoner and particulars of the punishment shall be entered in this diary under the date on which it will terminate. The diary shall be examined by the Jailor every day and orders shall be given on the prisoners' history tickets for the discontinuance of every punishment which terminates on that day.

CHAPTER XX

Relating to the treatment of prisoners in cells

376. Provision of cells in jails.—Cells for separate and solitary confinement shall, if possible, be provided in all jails. If such cells are not in accordance with the standard plan, the Inspector-General shall examine them and certify that they are fit for the purpose. Each cell shall have a yard attached to it, where the prisoner can have the benefit of fresh air without having the means of communication with any other prisoner. There shall be a general yard in connection with the cells constructed for cellular confinement, in which each prisoner confined in them can be bathed, fed, and exercised at the regular hours. In the outer door of the separate yard attached to each cell an eye-hole shall be made so that the prisoner can be seen without seeing any one.

Well-behaved prisoners confined in cells, may be allowed to keep with them photographs of their very near relations such as parents, wives and children and the pictures of deities, at the discretion of the Superintendent who may withdraw such concession in individual cases on grounds of discipline. The size of the photographs or the pictures shall not be bigger than that of a post-card.

377. Use of the cells.—The cells may be used for—

(a) carrying out sentences of solitary confinement under sections 73 and 74 of the Indian Penal Code;

(b) the separate confinement of prisoners under section 46(8) of Act IX of 1894;

(c) the separation of habituals under Rule 295;

(d) the separation of juveniles at night;

(e) the separation of confessing undertrial prisoners;

(f) purposes of restraint;

(g) the medical observation of lunatics;

(h) the medical observation and separation of prisoners supposed to be suffering from bowel-complaints or other sickness, or to be causing sickness or sores by the use of deleterious substances or who are suffering from contagious affection;

(i) the confinement of prisoners condemned to death; or

(j) quarantine.

378. Equipments in a cell.—Every cell shall be provided with a surahi or covered receptacle containing drinking water, vessels with close fitting covers for the reception of excreta, both solid and liquid, and a receptacle containing dry earth.

379. Custody of keys of cells.—Only permanent Warders shall be placed in charge of cells. The keys of cells shall, during the day, remain ordinarily in the custody of the permanent Warder in charge. At night the keys shall remain in the custody of the patrolling Head Warder except in the cases of cells containing prisoners under medical observation. The keys of such cells may, at the discretion of the Medical Officer, remain with the Warder in charge.

The keys of cells shall never be entrusted to convicts.

The lock of every cell shall be examined daily by the Head Warder responsible and frequently by the Jailor.

380. Prisoner in cell to be in charge of permanent Warder.—Every prisoner confined in a cell shall, invariably, be in the immediate charge of a permanent Warder assisted, if necessary, by specially selected convict officers. Both by day and by night the guards shall be so posted and arranged that all prisoners in cells shall at all times have the means of communicating with a Jail Officer. Every prisoner so confined shall be visited by a Head Warder once every two hours during the day and night. The relieving and relieved Head Warders, Warders and convict guards shall visit the cells together at every change of guard to see that the correct number is confined in them, and that all is well.

381. Watch on prisoners in cells.—A strict watch shall be kept over all prisoners confined in cells to prevent them from committing suicide or injuring themselves. Every lunatic, suspected lunatic or prisoner suspected of suicidal tendencies under medical observation in cell shall be carefully watched both by day and night. Specially selected convict officers may be detailed for this purpose during daytime outside the cells in the proportion of not more than one convict officer to every three adjacent cells. Such convict officers shall be placed under the immediate orders of the Warder in charge; they shall be instructed as to the character and possible tendencies of their charges and shall be warned to give immediate information to the Warder in charge of any symptom of a suspicious nature exhibited by the prisoners under their observation.

A prisoner sent to a cell for medical observation shall be frequently visited by the Warder on duty, who shall send information to the Medical Subordinate of any change which may take place in the prisoner's condition. During the time that the prisoner is under observation, he shall receive such food as the Medical Officer may consider necessary.

382. Sickness in cell.—In case of sickness immediate notice shall be given by the guard to the Head Warder on duty by passing the word from sentry to sentry. The Head Warder shall at once report the case to the Medical Subordinate, who shall visit the cell, and, if necessary, remove the prisoner to hospital, and inform the Superintendent, Medical Officer and Jailor of the circumstance at their next visit. Two prisoners shall, under no circumstances whatever, be confined in one cell except in the case of female prisoners condemned to death. If male condemned prisoners or dangerous lunatics have to be watched by convicts, they must remain outside the grated door of the cell. Convict sweepers, cooks, and watermen may enter the cells when necessary, accompanied by a Warder. Food shall be cooked and carried to the cells by prisoner-cooks of suitable caste, under the superintendence of a Jail Officer.

383. Visit to prisoners in cells by Jail Officers.—Every prisoner confined in a cell for more than 24 hours shall be visited daily by the Superintendent and also by the Medical Officer or Medical Subordinate. The Jailor shall visit the cells and see every prisoner confined therein daily.

384. No separate or cellular confinement without written order of Superintendent.—The Warder in charge of the cells shall receive no prisoner for separate or cellular confinement without a written order from the Superintendent, which shall generally be given on the prisoner's ticket and shall be produced when called for by any inspecting officer or visitor, and shall receive no prisoner for separation by day or night under Rule 295 without an order from the Superintendent or Jailor.

No person shall be placed in judicial solitary confinement until he has been certified by the Medical Officer as fit for such confinement.

385. Ticket to be suspended over the cell or its yard door.—A ticket shall be suspended over the cell, or cell yard door of every prisoner undergoing confinement in such cell, showing the period of confinement ordered and the date from which such confinement commenced.

386. Register showing particulars of prisoners in cell.—A register shall be kept in the vernacular by the Warder in charge of the cells, showing the date on which each prisoner is admitted and discharged, the nature of the confinement ordered, and the amount of task work done daily.

387. Daily search of prisoner in cell.—Before being put in a cell each prisoner shall be very carefully searched, and all implements and appliances likely to facilitate escape or suicide shall be taken away; and every cell and every prisoner therein shall be carefully searched daily at lock-up time, and oftener if necessary.

388. Bedding of cell prisoner to be exposed to the sun and air at day-time.—The bedding of prisoners in cells, except that of prisoners under observation for sickness or insanity, shall be withdrawn from the cell during the day, and exposed to the sun and air when the weather permits. The inmate of a cell shall at all times be compelled to keep it scrupulously clean.

389. Work for labouring prisoners in cell.—Labouring prisoners in solitary confinement shall be supplied, according to their capacity, with suitable work which can conveniently be done in the cell.

390. Strict silence to be observed by cell prisoners.—Strict silence must be maintained by all prisoners in confinement in cells.

391. Rules of this Chapter not to apply to female prisoners in cells in certain cases.—The foregoing rules of this Chapter shall not apply to the confinement of female prisoners in cells when they are at variance with Rules 107, 518, and 519 of this Code.

CHAPTER XXI

Remission

392. Definition.—In these rules,—

(a) "prisoner" includes a person committed to prison in default of furnishing security to keep the peace or be of good behaviour;

(b) "sentence" means a sentence finally fixed on appeal, revision or otherwise, and includes an aggregate of more sentences than one and an order of committal to prison in default of furnishing security to keep the peace or be of good behaviour;

(c) "life convict" means a prisoner sentenced to transportation or imprisonment for life and for purposes of remission the period of detention or imprisonment should be treated as equivalent to twenty years.

393. Cases not eligible for ordinary remission.—No ordinary remission shall be earned in the following cases, namely:—

(1) in respect of any sentence of imprisonment amounting, exclusive of any sentence passed in default of payment of fine, to less than four months;

(2) in respect of any sentence of simple imprisonment except for any continuous period not being less than one month during which the prisoner labours voluntarily.

394. Ordinary remission forfeited and not admissible if sentence reduced to less than four months on appeal.—If a prisoner's sentence or total of sentences is reduced on appeal to less than four months he shall cease to be eligible for ordinary remission under these rules, and any remission that he may have earned prior to the reduction of his sentence or sentences shall be forfeited.

395. Cancellation of remission for offences committed in jail.—If a prisoner is convicted of an offence committed after admission to jail under sections 147, 148, 152, 224, 302, 304, 304A, 306, 307, 308, 323, 324, 325, 326, 332, 333, 352, 353 or 377 of the Indian Penal Code, or of an assault committed after admission to jail on a Warder or other officer, the remission of whatever kind earned by him under these rules up to the date of the said conviction may, with the sanction of the Inspector-General, be cancelled.

396. Readmission of a prisoner to the remission system.—The Superintendent may, with the previous sanction of the Inspector-General, readmit to the remission system any prisoner who has been removed therefrom under Rule 360. Such a prisoner shall earn remission under these rules from the commencement of the month following such readmission.

397. Scale of remission.—Ordinary remission shall be awarded on the following scale:

(a) two days per month for thoroughly good conduct and scrupulous attention to all prison regulations;

(b) two days per month for industry and the due performance of the daily task imposed.

Explanation 1.—A prisoner who is unable to labour through any cause beyond his control, for example by reason of being at court, in transit from one jail to another, in hospital or on an invalid gang, shall be granted remission under clause (a) of this rule on the scale earned by him during the previous month if his conduct prior to and during the period in question has been such as to deserve such grant.

Explanation 2.—For the purposes of this rule a prisoner shall be entitled to one day's remission for any fraction of a month consisting of 15 days or more.

398. Remission for convict officers.—In lieu of the remission allowed under Rule 397, convict night guards shall receive seven days' remission per month, convict overseers six days' per month and convict night watchmen five days' per month.

399. Calculation of remission.—Subject to the provisions of Rule 396, remission under Rule 397 shall be calculated from the first day of the calendar month next following the date of the prisoner's sentence. Any prisoner who, after having been released on bail or because his sentence has been temporarily suspended, is afterwards readmitted to jail shall be brought under the remission system on the first day of the calendar month next following his readmission, but shall be credited on his return to jail with any remission which he may have earned previous to his release on bail or the suspension of his sentence. Remission under Rule 398 shall be calculated from the first day of the next calendar month following the appointment of the prisoner as convict night guard, convict overseer or convict night-watchman.

400. Extra remission for prison services.—Prisoners employed on prison services, such as cooks and sweepers, who work on Sundays and holidays, may be awarded one day's ordinary remission per month in addition to any other remission earned under these rules.

401. Additional remission for good conduct.—Any prisoner eligible for remission under these rules who for a period of one year reckoned from the first day of the month following the date of his sentence or the date on which he was last punished for a prison offence, has committed no prison offence whatever, shall be awarded fifteen days' ordinary remission in addition to any other remission earned under these rules.

Explanation.—For the purposes of this rule prison offences punished only with a warning shall not be taken into account.

411. Release of prisoner entitled thereto on earning remission.—Save as provided by rule 1 of the rules published under Notification No. 3140-H.J., dated 22nd October 1963, when a prisoner has earned such remission as entitles him to release, the Superintendent shall release him.

417. Method of recording the award of remission.—When recording the award of ordinary remission as prescribed in Rule 404 the officer concerned shall at the same time bring forward in the prisoner's history ticket the total of all remissions previously earned in the following manner:

Remission (in days) to end of————Quater 19——

Brt.Forwd.*		Ordinary†		Special†		Forfeited‡		Total§

*i.e. From last quarter. †Awarded for the quarter,

418. Remission Card.—Remission Cards (W.B.J. Register No. 18).—(i) On the admission of any prisoner entitled to the grant of ordinary remission under these rules, the Jailor shall prepare, or cause to be prepared a "Remission Card" in respect of such prisoner. All the entries on this card shall be made with great care; the register number of the prisoner must be entered in the appropriate space in bold figures. No knife erasures shall be permitted, but clerical inaccuracies shall be crossed through and the corrections shall be initialled by the Jailor personally.

Prisoners who, though not entitled to the award of ordinary remission, have been granted special remission, shall similarly be provided with Remission Cards whenever necessary.

(2) Before the end of the first week of every quarter, the award or forfeiture of remission shall be copied into this card from the prisoner's history ticket, under the initials of the officer making the entry who shall, at the same time, verify the accuracy of the various entries in the prisoner's history ticket, relating to remission awarded, or forfeited during the past quarter. Any extraordinary remission of sentence (such as Independence Day remission) that may have been granted by Government, independent of the remission system, shall be entered in red ink in the column for special remission.

(3) During the last year of imprisonment, the date of release (after deducting the remission actually earned) shall be entered in the appropriate column, as a guide to the preparation of the Monthly Remission Roll (W.B.J. Form No. 34).

(4) The officer whose initial is appended to any entry in the remission card shall be held responsible for any undue detention or premature release of any prisoner resulting from the inaccuracy of any such entry.

(5) Remission Cards shall be kept in a special locked box, or almirah, divided into compartments.

(6) Cards shall be arranged in each compartment serially according to the register number of the prisoners, or in bundles according to the months of release.

(7) No prisoner shall, under any circumstances, be allowed access to any Remission Card.

(8) Remission Cards of released prisoners shall be preserved for one year after the release of such prisoners.

419. Remission roll.—In the first week of each month the officer in charge of the Remission Cards shall prepare the Remission Roll (W.B.J. Form No. 34) showing the names of all those prisoners who, on the supposition that they will earn their full ordinary remission during the current month, will be entitled to release in the course of the month next ensuing. He shall, at the same time, compare the Remission Cards and history tickets of such prisoners and, after verifying the accuracy of the entries, shall enter the "Probable date of release" of each prisoner in the Remission Roll and history ticket.

The Remission Roll shall be submitted to the Superintendent and signed by him and filed in the office.

420. Transferred prisoner also entitled to the benefit of remission rules.—(a) The benefit of remission admissible under the foregoing rules of this chapter shall be available to a transferred prisoner. But except as otherwise provided, nothing contained in the rules published under Notification No. 3140H.J., dated the 22nd October 1963, shall apply to such a transferred prisoner.

(b) When it is considered desirable to release a transferred prisoner before he completes his term of sentence (including remission earned) and sanction under section 401, Criminal Procedure Code, is required, e.g., under the 14 years' rule, or for any reason mentioned in rule 5, 8 or 11 of the rules published under Notification No. 3140H.J., dated the 22nd October 1963, or on the recommendation of the Advisory Board as enumerated in the rules of the aforesaid notification, the Superintendent of the jail in which such prisoner is confined shall, except as otherwise provided in rule 13 of the rules published under the aforesaid notification, forward his case together with necessary documents including recommendation, if any, of the Advisory Board, through the Inspector-General to the State Government which shall forward the case with its recommendation to the Government of the State where the prisoner was convicted for obtaining orders of that State Government. In the case of court-martial prisoners or such transferred prisoners as have been convicted for offences against laws in respect of matters to which the executive power of the Union extends, orders of the Central Government shall be obtained in such cases.

(c) Remission granted on the occasion of Public rejoicings, e.g., in connection with Independence Day, Republic Day, etc., granted to prisoners convicted in West Bengal shall not be allowed to a transferred prisoner unless the Government of the State in which such prisoner was convicted so orders. And on every such occasion the Superintendent of the jail in which such transferred prisoner is confined shall move the Inspector-General who shall move the State Government for obtaining the orders of the Government of the State concerned and await orders as to whether any special remission on such occasion should be granted

Explanation.—The expesion "transferred prisoner" in this rule shall mean a prisoner convicted in a court in a State outside West Bengal, and received in a jail in West Bengal and confined there.

Note.—"Necessary documents" means the judgment of the convicting court, the report of the District Magistrate or the Commissioner of Police about the previous history and character of the prisoner, the opinions of the District Magistrate and the Superintendent of Police as to whether there is any objection to the prisoner's premature release, etc. In the case of a transferred prisoner the Superintendent of the jail shall move the Inspector-General for securing the aforesaid materials from the State concerned and making them available to him.

CHAPTER XXII

Labour and Jail Industries

421. Hours of labour for a prisoner.—No prisoner sentenced to labour or employed on labour at his own desire shall, except on an emergency and by the written order of the Superintendent entered in his minute book or the prisoner's history ticket, be kept to labour for more than nine hours in any one day. No work except menial and necessary work, shall be done on Sundays and jail holidays.

422. Hour to commence work and the periods of labour.—Prisoners shall commence work as soon as the morning parades and distribution of prisoners into gangs shall have been completed Ordinarily, this should be within one hour after the opening of the wards

The periods of labour shall be as follows:

Labour Time Table

Season.		Time.
		A M.		P. M.
From	To	Begin work	Stop work.	Begun work.	Stop work.
16th March ..	30th April ..	About one hour after dawn	10-30	1-0	4-30
1st May ..	31st August ..		10-30	1-0	5-00
1st September ..	15th October ..		10-30	1-0	4-30
16th October ..	15th March ..		11-15	12-30 (12-45 on Fridays)	4-00

But the "Special" gangs shall not resume work in the afternoon until 1-30 p.m., between 16th October and 15th March and until 2 p.m. during the remainder of the year. During rest time, prisoners shall be locked in their sleeping wards

423. Classification of labour.—All labour shall be classified as "hard", "medium" or "light" according to the amount of physical exertion required for the performance of a fixed task, and maximum tasks to be performed by prisoners shall be fixed. The tasks or proportion of a task or special labour which each prisoner is physically fit to perform is determined by the Medical Officer, and no prisoner shall be made to perform any harder labour than that fixed by the Medical Officer and entered from time to time on each prisoner's history ticket.

Prisoner to perform task allotted to him.—The task to be performed by any adult female or juvenile convict shall not in any case exceed two-thirds of the maximum task for hard and medium labour respectively prescribed in respect of adult male convicts.

424. Apparatus for hard labour to be provided.—Every jail shall be provided with apparatus for hard labour sufficient for the number of prisoners who are likely under the rules to be employed on such labour.

425. Reasonable time to be allowed to prisoner to acquire skill.—Every convict on being first put to any kind of work shall be allowed a reasonable time in which to acquire the skill necessary for the performance of the prescribed task and if during this time he shows due diligence and makes satisfactory progress he shall be allowed the remission for industry. The time necessary for working up to a full task will depend upon the nature of the work and care must be taken to make due allowance, in estimating a convict's progress, for differences of mental and physical capacity. In every case when allotting to a prisoner new work (whether on admission or subsequently) the Superintendent, or, subject to his control, the Deputy Superintendent or Jailor shall note on the prisoner's history ticket the exact task he is to begin with, and subsequently every increase required, up to the full task Frequent change of work, except on medical grounds, should be avoided, but the harder forms of labour, should not be continued indefinitely without variation, and sedentary work should occasionally be changed for work involving more general movement. It is expected that every Superintendent shall be acquainted with the tasks to be performed by his prisoners. No general reduction of the tasks fixed in Rule 428 shall be allowed in any jail without the sanction of the Inspector-General. In allotting labour to a prisoner and fixing his task the Deputy Superintendent or Jailor must be guided by the record of fortnightly weighments in his ticket.

426. Completion of work with materials which admits of weighment or measurement.—Whenever the material given to a prisoner to work upon admits of weighment or measurement, the task he is to perform in the course of the day shall be weighed or measured out to him before he commences the work, in order that both the prisoner and the Warder in charge of him may see how the work progresses as the day advances.

427. Measurement of work done by prisoners.—Before the prisoners leave their worksheds or places of work on stoppage of work in the afternoon, the Jailor and Head Warders or Task-takers, if any, shall go round and measure the work done, at the same time carefully noting it in the task-ticket of the prisoner concerned In large jails an educated prisoner may be employed to assist in keeping this task ticket. Every prisoner who has done less than the task allotted to him shall also have it recorded on his history ticket and shall be brought before the Superintendent. In respect of prisoners working at industries requiring skilled workmanship the task may be taken and recorded every second or third day as found expedient.

428. Classification of prison labour. — Subject to such alterations regarding kind of work or industries and their classification as may be made from time to time with the sanction of the State Government the various industries and kinds of work carried on in the Jails of West Bengal may be classified as shown in the following statement, in which also the maximum tasks to be exacted are indicated where the work admits of a uniform task being fixed:

In any case when the work is such as can be tasked, and a task is not specified in the above statement, or when any work not entered therein is performed, the Superintendent shall, in consultation with the Medical Officer, fix a task for each description of work done, and shall report it to the Inspector-General for approval.

429. Utilisation of jail labour.—Jail labour may be utilised—

(1) for the preparation of building materials within the jail premises;

(2) for the construction of large works under the Public Works Department, such works being either within the jail premises, or so close to them as to render the provision of separate accommodation for the prisoners unnecessary. Otherwise, the employment of prisoners beyond the jail is prohibited, except with the previous sanction of Government; provided that—

(1) climatic conditions are favourable;

(2) proper accommodation is arranged;

(3) sanitation is satisfactory; and

(4) habitual convicts are separated from casual convicts.

Jail labour shall be utilised to the fullest possible extent in the erection and repair of all buildings connected with jails.

430. Eligibility of prisoner for extramural labour.—All prisoners sentenced to eighteen months' imprisonment or less are eligible for extramural labour. Those sentenced to a longer period become so eligible after serving at least one-third of their sentences. The Superintendent's sanction recorded on the history ticket is necessary for passing out a prisoner for extramural work but no eligible prisoner who has more than one year's sentence to run can be employed on extramural work without the sanction of the Inspector-General. This rule applies to both A class and B class prisoners. but the two classes shall not work together. It also applies to work either on jail land or beyond the jail precincts. No prisoner shall be passed out of the jail for extramural work without the sanction of the Superintendent recorded on his history ticket.

Prisoners who escaped or attempted to escape or appear to have a tendency to escape should not be passed for extramural work. Prisoners against whom any charge is pending in court or who would have to undergo a period of Police surveillance after expiry of their sentence should not be passed for extramural work.

431. Non-employment of female prisoner outside the female enclosure.—No female convict shall be employed outside the female enclosure of any jail.

432. Prisoners employed in the garden.—Prisoners employed in the garden shall ordinarily be of the A class with short unexpired sentences, and shall be specially passed for such work by the Superintendent's order recorded on the history ticket; and no prisoner passed for hard or medium labour shall be put to the lighter forms of gardening or agricultural work, which shall be reserved for those passed for light labour or specially ordered such work by the Medical Officer on medical grounds. A gang of five prisoners with a convict overseer may be employed in the garden of a Superintendent of a Central Jail when that officer resides on the jail premises in quarters provided by Government. If the Deputy Superintendent or Jailor is allowed to keep a garden, the work of such garden shall be done by the regular garden gang, and not by a detachment of it.

433. Employment of sweepers and water-carriers in jail quarters.—Small detachments of the sweeper and water-carrier gangs shall, under the charge of Warders. visit all the quarters occupied by jail officials, except the Superintendent's house twice a day: each house shall in turn be cleaned and supplied with water by the gang, which shall then be marched to the next house. No prisoner of these gangs shall be left about a house. The employment of prisoners by the Superintendent or any other official in or about private dwellings is absolutely forbidden, except under the foregoing rules.

434. Employment of prisoners for clerical work.—The employment of prisoners for clerical work in jail offices is strictly forbidden. But the Superintendent may, when there is special necessity for it, sanction the employment of educated prisoners in the copying of letters, preparing of rolls, writing of registers, which have no connection with warrants, remission, or money transactions. The Jailor will be held responsible for seeing that a prisoner so employed is provided with a place for writing inside or near the main gate quite apart from the jail office and under the eye of a Warder. These prisoners are forbidden to enter the jail office on any excuse whatever unless called before the Superintendent or an Inspecting officer.

435. Account of manufacture to be kept by a paid jail official.—All accounts regarding manufactures shall be kept by a paid jail servant, under the supervision of the Jailor or Deputy Superintendent, who shall be responsible for the correctness of the accounts.

436. Labour distribution Register.—The following register shall be maintained in respect of the distribution of all convicted prisoners:

No. 5—Distribution Register.—This register shall be written up early on the day following that to which the entries relate. Prisoners admitted or released on any day and not working shall be entered as exempted from labour. On Sundays and holidays all prisoners, except the sweepers, cooks, overseers, etc., who work every day, are exempted from labour. In making up averages from this table, Sunday and holidays shall always be excluded. If non-labouring prisoners work of their own choice, they shall be included with labouring convicts in the details of distribution of work, and a note of the number so included and the description of work done should be made at the bottom of the page to explain the discrepancy between the total of the distribution list and the number of labouring convicts.

CHAPTER XXIII

Accidents and Suicides

437. Procedure in case of suicide or unnatural death.—Whenever a sudden or violent death or death from suicide has taken place in a jail, immediate notice shall be sent to the Jailor and the Medical Officer, and the body shall be left in the position in which it was found, pending inspection by these officers and also the Superintendent. The body shall be kept also for the inspection and orders of the officer holding the inquest.

Should there be any uncertainty as to whether death has occurred, measures shall at once be taken to restore animation and for this purpose, the body may be removed, immediately on its discovery, from the position in which it was found.

Note.—In the case of a prisoner found suspended, if there is reason to suppose that life is not extinct, or the point is doubtful, the body shall at once be raised to relieve pressure, pending the cutting or untying of the rope, and laid gently on the ground; all measures should be taken to restore consciousness, without waiting for assistance which, however, should be called for without delay. If the place of occurrence is a cell, its door shall be opened on the arrival of assistance or before it if the circumstances so require, and such measures taken as may be necessary.

438. Precaution for preventing suicide.—Knives, pieces of broken glass, ropes, etc., shall not be allowed to lie about in the jail premises; knives and other tools used in the worksheds and barbers' and tailors' implements shall be counted over and locked up by the Warders at the close of work. Poisonous drugs shall on no account be left within reach of prisoners. They must be kept locked up in a safe box or cupboard in the dispensary, the key of which must be kept by the Medical Subordinate and on no account entrusted to a prisoner.

439. Precautions relating to wells.—Wells in jails shall be covered by strong watertight wooden or iron covers sloping from the centre, or by other means, to prevent prisoners from throwing themselves into the wells or dirt or soiled water finding its way into them. When these well-covers have trap-doors they shall always be kept properly and securely locked, and in the special charge of a Warder, who shall keep the key and shall always be present while the prisoners are drawing water, and shall close and lock the trap-door before he leaves the well. Ordinarily, there should be only a small hole, not exceeding 20.32 centimetres in diameter, through which water may be drawn by means of a pump or bucket. Well ropes shall be locked up when not in use, but chains rivetted to the covers need not be removed. A rope-ladder capable of bearing the weight of three men shall be kept in the guard-house of every jail to be at hand in case of accidents in wells.

440. Employment of prisoner in work of dangerous character.—All Warders and convict overseers shall be specially warned to prevent prisoners from undercutting when digging or moving earth. The sides of pits formed when digging kunkur, brick-making, etc., must be sloped at such an angle that the earth may not fall on the workmen. Superintendents and Jailors shall frequently inspect such places and strictly enforce this rule. No prisoner shall be employed underground in sinking wells or on any work of a dangerous character, unless he volunteers to do so and then only with the sanction of the Inspector-General. All staircases and verandahs higher than '91 metre from the ground shall have protecting walls or balustrades of sufficient height.

441. Time for transfer of P.R.T. prisoners of the first class who are natives of West Bengal.—All P.R. (Police Registered) prisoners of the first class against whose names the letter "T" appears on the Admission Registers and Release Diaries who are natives of West Bengal shall be transferred one month before the date of expiry of their sentences.

Note.—Alipore/Howrah/Dum Dum is shown as the jail of release in the P. R. Slips of prisoners to be released from the Howrah Jail; they may be released from any of these jails.

442. P.R./T. prisoners unfit for transfer due to sickness.—If a P.R./T. prisoner is unfit, by reason of sickness, for transfer two months before his release, the fact should be communicated to the Superintendent of Police of the district to which the prisoner belongs and also to the local Superintendent of Police. If the prisoner subsequently becomes fit for transfer in time to allow of his reaching the jail of his district before his release is due, he shall then be transferred. If, when only a fortnight of his sentence remains to be served, he is still unfit for transfer his P.R. Slip should be sent to the local police with a note of the fact on it, and, on the day of his release, he should be discharged at the jail gate without further action being taken. Leper prisoners marked P.R./T. located in jails set apart for persons so diseased, shall not be transferred to their native districts until only sufficient time is left for them to reach the jail from which they are to be released on the morning of their release, or the day before release. The P.R. Slips of such prisoners shall be sent to the Superintendent of Police of their districts by the Superintendent of the Leper Jails.

443. Transfer of prisoner ordered to furnish security.—Prisoners who, in addition to a substantive sentence, are ordered to furnish security to keep the peace, or in default to undergo further imprisonment, shall be transferred to the jail of their district two months before the substantive sentence expires, to enable them, if possible, to arrange for furnishing the required security.

444. Transfer of prisoners convicted for opium or cocaine smuggling.—Prisoners sentenced to imprisonment for a term of six months or over for offences under the Opium Act, 1878 (Act 1 of 1878), or the Dangerous Drugs Act, 1930 (Act 2 of 1930), who are residents of West Bengal, shall be transferred to the jails of the district to which they belong at any time not exceeding two months prior to their release. Descriptive rolls in triplicate of all such prisoners shall be submitted in good time to the Inspector-General who will sanction the transfer and at the same time inform the Excise Intelligence Bureau.

445. Belongings of prisoner in transit.—Every convict in Division III and every undertrial prisoner shall during transit be allowed to wear his own clothing and shall be provided with eating and drinking vessels. If the prisoner has no suitable clothing, he shall be provided by the jail with clothing as stated below:

(ii) Division I undertrial—1 half shirt, 2 dhuties or paijamas, 1 gamcha or towel and in cold season one cotton chadder.

If the journey is made during night, a prisoner who has no suitable bedding shall be given a jute durrie or tat-bed and a blanket (two in the cold season).

446. Search of prisoners to be transferred.—All prisoners to be transferred shall be carefully searched before they are made over to the police escort to see that they do not take any prohibited article with them, especially files, weapons, string, silk, or any article calculated to facilitate escape.

447. Female and juvenile prisoners in transit to be separated from adult male prisoners.—While in transit, female and juvenile prisoners shall be separated as far as possible from adult male prisoners.

448. Safe custody of prisoners during transit.—Male prisoners on the march (except convict overseers) shall be handcuffed in couples, the right wrist of one prisoner being attached to the left wrist of the other. If there is any odd prisoner left out, he shall be secured by handcuffs separately, his load being divided amongst other prisoners. Dangerous prisoner on transit may, in addition, be secured by rope, care being taken to see that not more than four prisoners are tied by one piece of rope. Handcuffs and ropes will be supplied by the Police Department. No female prisoner shall be handcuffed and no prisoner, male or female shall be fettered during transit.

449. Documents to accompany prisoner on transfer.—When delivering prisoners for transfer into the custody of the escort, the Jailor shall make over to the officer in charge of the escort a sum of money sufficient to meet all expenses admissible under the rules, a warrant credit note (W.B.J. Form No. 18) for the number of fares to be paid, the Government and prisoners' property to accompany the prisoners and the following documents:

(a) The original warrants, with High Court Form No. (P)42 of all the convicts. Upon the warrant shall be endorsed the date of transfer and jail to which transferred.

(b) Copies of the orders of the court requiring the attendance of prisoners.

(c) A list of all Government property, clothing, bedding, utensils, etc., prisoners' private clothing and other property to be taken with the prisoners, for delivery of all of which at the jail to which the prisoners are to go, the officer is responsible. If any prisoner is of dangerous character the fact should be noted on this list.

(d) The prisoners' history tickets.

(e) The prisoners' Remission Cards (W.B.J. Register No. 18).

(f) The Medical Officer's Certificate.

(g) P. R. Slips, if any.

A receipt shall be taken from the officer in charge of the escort for the number of prisoners and all Government and prisoners' property delivered to him, on a duplicate copy of the list referred to in clause (c).

450. Conveyance of prisoners.—As a general rule where there is rail or water carriage or other means of public transport, prisoners shall be conveyed by these means, except when the distance to be travelled is short.

451. Conveyance to be provided in certain cases.—Special means of conveyance shall be provided for the carriage of any prisoner in whose case the Medical Officer certifies that a conveyance is necessary. Suitable conveyance shall also be provided for prisoners who are dangerous when passing through the streets of Calcutta or Howrah. The class of conveyance to be used shall ordinarily be hackney carriage or motor omnibus in Calcutta and Howrah, and bullock cart, hackney carriage or motor omnibus in other places. The Officer in charge of the escort shall be instructed that conveyance is to be provided in the above cases.

452. Prisoner falling sick on transit.—Prisoners who fall sick in transit shall not be attached to any other prisoners, but shall be allowed, while they remain sick, to travel separately. When a prisoner becomes seriously ill on the road so as to be unfit for travelling, he shall be left at the next police-station or outpost, to be taken, as soon as he can be moved, to the nearest jail or subsidiary jail, and shall there be treated by the Medical Officer, and a report of the circumstances shall be made to the Superintendents of the despatching jail and of the jail to which the prisoner was travelling.

453. Prisoners falling sick on transit to be received in jail or sub-jail lying en route.—The Superintendent of the jail or subsidiary jail to which a sick prisoner on transit is taken shall receive and detain him, until well enough to proceed to his destination. The warrant and all papers connected with the prisoner should be made over to the Superintendent of the jail at which he is detained, and a note of the circumstances of detention shall be made upon his history ticket. On recovery he shall be forwarded to his destination with his papers, and a report of the despatch of the prisoner shall be sent to the jail to which he is to be consigned and to the Inspector-General.

CHAPTER XXV

Civil Prisoners

454. Place of confinement of civil prisoners.—Every civil prisoner shall be confined in the civil ward of the jail and shall not be allowed to hold communication or be associated with criminal prisoners.

455. Admission of civil prisoner.—No civil prisoner shall be admitted into jail after the prisoners have been locked up at sunset for the night, except in the case of the Presidency Jail, where admission shall be granted on the written order of an officer of the High Court acting under the instructions of a judge of that Court or of a judge of the Small Causes Court, Calcutta.

456. Expenses of diet of civil prisoners.—Under Rule No. 39, Order XXI, First Schedule of the Civil Procedure Code, 1908, judgment-debtors shall be dieted at the expense of the decree-holders. In the case of judgment-debtors under the Public Demands Recovery Act, 1913, the Certificate Officer may either forward diet-money with the prisoner, or order that he shall be fed on the non-labouring scale at the expense of Government. Civil prisoners of the following classes, namely (i) persons imprisoned under order of criminal court under section 318, 332 or 514 of the Code of Criminal Procedure, 1898, and (ii) persons detained in the civil prison under any law other than the Code of Civil Procedure, 1908, Code of Criminal Procedure, 1898, and Public Demands Recovery Act, 1913, shall be allowed the diet of under-trial prisoners at the expense of Government.

A civil prisoner who is required to be maintained at Government cost shall be allowed the diet of Division II non-labouring under-trial prisoners. But if specially ordered by the committing authority, he shall be given the diet of Division I non-labouring under-trial prisoners.

457. Subsistence allowance of civil prisoners.—Where a judgment-debtor is committed to the civil prison in execution of a decree, the court shall fix the monthly allowance for his subsistence. The first payment shall be made to the proper officer of the court for such portion of the current month as remains unexpired before the judgment-debtor is committed to the civil prison, and such officer shall send the amount paid with the civil prisoner to the Jailor. No debtor shall be received into the jail unless the proper amount of subsistence allowance is received with him. Subsequent payment (if any become due) shall be made to the Jailor by monthly payments in advance to the full amount due for the ensuing month before the first day of each month. Should the decree-holder omit to pay the allowance as above, the Superintendent shall, without reference to the court, release the judgement debtor. The release shall be made on the morning of the day for which no allowance has been paid. A receipt from counterfoil book (W.B.J. Form No. 78) shall be given to the decree-holder for subsistence money paid into the jail, the amount received being credited in the contingent cash-book.

458. Date of release of a civil prisoner to be entered in the Release Diary.—(1) The date of release of a civil prisoner in anticipation of his having to complete the whole term of his imprisonment shall be calculated according to Rule 231, and his name shall be entered in the Release Diary under that date.

(2) If a civil prisoner is ordered to be detained in a civil jail under more than one warrant, each warrant shall have full effect from the date thereof, although the prisoner may thus be detained beyond six months.

459. Balance of diet money, if any, to be refunded to the court.—After a civil prisoner has been released, if there is any balance of diet-money in the Jailor's hands, it shall be returned to the court. For every such refund of diet-money a receipt shall be taken and pasted into the cash-book opposite the entry to which it relates.

460. Civil prisoners may maintain themselves.—Civil prisoners shall be allowed to use their own clothes, bedding and cooking utensils and to purchase or receive from private sources food, clothing and bedding or other necessaries. If a civil prisoner is unable to provide himself with sufficient clothing and bedding, the Superintendent shall supply such clothing and bedding as may, in his opinion, be necessary.

461. Superintendent to demand from the judgment-creditor cost of clothing or bedding of the judgment-debtor civil prisoner.—Whenever clothing or bedding is so supplied to a civil prisoner who has been committed to jail in execution of a decree in favour of a private person, the Superintendent shall furnish to such person an account of the cost of the clothing or bedding with a demand in writing for payment of the cost, and if payment is not made within 48 hours of receipt of this demand, the Superintendent shall release the civil prisoner in respect of whom the demand was made. The name and address of the judgment-creditor shall be ascertained from the Civil Court which issued the decree. The demand shall be despatched by registered letter to the address of the judgment-creditor and after sufficient time for delivery thereof has elapsed shall be deemed to have been duly received. When the time allowed by law has elapsed, if payment has not been made, the Jailor shall bring the civil prisoner before the Superintendent for release. Before releasing the prisoner, the Superintendent shall satisfy himself, first, that the demand was duly sent, and that sufficient time, as required by law, for delivery of the demand and for payment has been given; secondly, that payment has not been tendered or made.

462. Disposal of clothing and bedding supplied by decree-holder.—If clothing and bedding have been supplied at the expense of the decree-holder, there shall, at the time of the release of the judgment-debtor, be issued by registered letter to the decree-holder a notice informing him that if the clothing and bedding are not claimed by him on or before a certain date they will be sold at his risk. The clothing and bedding may be sold accordingly and the proceeds deposited with the court.

463. Supply of food and medicine, if any, to civil prisoner.—Civil prisoners may be supplied with food by their friends through the Jailor at such hours as the Superintendent may fix, in which case the subsistence allowance deposited by the detaining creditor may be made over to such friends; but in other cases it shall be credited to the jail, and the Jailor shall supply the prisoners with good and wholesome food according to their own choice, provided that the daily cost does not exceed the amount deposited by the detaining creditor. Civil prisoners supplied with food at Government expense under Rule 456 shall have their food cooked by convicts in the convicts' kitchen and supplied by convict cooks. Other civil prisoners shall cook their own food. If any extra articles of diet are ordered by the Medical Officer for civil prisoners on medical grounds, any excess of cost beyond the daily diet-money shall be paid by Government. Medicines required for treatment of minor ailments, if any, of civil prisoners shall be supplied from the jail stock. In case of serious illness of such prisoners, they should be given such medical treatment at the cost of Government as may be essentially required before release, until their friends and relatives bear the same.

464. Purchase for civil prisoners.—Civil prisoners may be allowed to smoke, but not to use intoxicating drugs or liquors unless prescribed by the Medical Officer. All purchases or supplies of food, clothing bedding or other necessaries shall be made through the Jailor subject to the Superintendent's sanction, and shall be examined by the Jailor before delivery to a civil prisoner. Food shall be examined by the Medical Subordinate and shall not be delivered if it contains any intoxicating drugs or liquor or is unwholesome. The Superintendent may refuse to allow the purchase or delivery of anyhing which he considers to be unnecessary or unsuitable.

465. Donation to civil prisoner.—Benefactions or donations of money or other articles, except intoxicating drugs or liquors, may be distributed to civil prisoners according to the desire of the donor, if not contrary to these rules. They may be allowed books from the jail library, and they may be permitted to obtain, at their own expense, any books and newspapers of an unobjectionable kind as may be approved by the Superintendent. They should also be allowed harmless indoor games. No visitor shall be allowed to take within the civil jail any sweetmeats or other articles of consumption without the permission of the Superintendent.

466. Civil prisoners should be encouraged to work.—Civil prisoners shall be permitted to maintain themselves. They should be encouraged to work at such trade or calling as they like, subject to the approval of the Superintendent and should be allowed to receive the profits thereupon; but if jail implements be supplied to them a reasonable deduction for the hire of the implements shall be made from the profits, and, in the case of those maintained at Government expense, also deduction for maintenance. No civil prisoner shall be compelled to work against his will, but cleanliness of person and clothing shall be enforced.

467. Punishment for prison offences.—Civil prisoners must be clean and properly dressed when leaving their rooms or wards during the day; they must stand up when any inspecting officer or authorised visitor visits the civil ward, must answer any questions put to them by such officers or visitors in the discharge of their duty, and otherwise treat them with respect; and they must comply with the regulations of the jail and the Superintendent's orders. If a civil prisoner commits any prison offence, he may be punished by minor punishments Nos. 1 and 5 or major punishment No. 3, as enumerated in Rule 360, or may be punished according to any law in force.

468. Escape of civil prisoner.—Any jail officer who intentionally or negligently suffers a civil prisoner to escape is liable to be punished under section 222 or 223 of the Indian Penal Code, as the case may be. The civil prisoner by escaping commits an offence under section 225B of the Indian Penal Code. On the occurrence of an escape of a civil prisoner intimation shall be given to the judgment-creditor who may, if he be able to ascertain the whereabouts of the prisoner, assist the jail authorities and the police in re-capturing him. On re-capture after escape, or on the occurrence of an attempt to escape, the prisoner shall be prosecuted before a criminal court under section 225 of the Indian Penal Code.

469. Register for civil prisoners.—The following register shall be maintained in respect of the civil prisoners detained in any jail:

No. 9.—Register of Civil Prisoners

Column 8.—In describing a prisoner, complexion, distinguishing marks, and other peculiarities sufficient to identify him, shall be recorded.

Column 13.—To show cause of release whether on account of satisfaction of decree or completion of period of imprisonment, on furnishing security, by escape, or death, etc.

Column 15.—should record whether in sound health or sick on admission and discharge; if sick, the class, order, and specific disease, with physical condition and previous ailments, as far as can be ascertained, shall be entered.

Column 16.—is to furnish an account of the receipts and disbursement of diet-money. All receipts of diet-money from detaining creditors and daily payments of diet-money to civil prisoners shall be entered in the Cash Book, Register No. 31, at the time of receipt and payment. Amounts received shall also be entered at the time of receipt in the receipt side of the account in column 16, and at the end of each month, and on discharge of a prisoner, the total of the daily payments recorded in the cash-book shall be entered on the disbursement side of that column. If on discharge of a civil prisoner, any balance of diet-money remains unexpended, it shall be dealt with as directed in Rule 459.

CHAPTER XXVI

Undertrial Prisoners

470. Segregation of undertrial prisoners.—(1) Division I undertrial prisoners shall be kept separate from Division II undertrial prisoners.

(2) Undertrial prisoners, both male and female, shall be strictly segregated from convicted prisoners, and arrangements shall be made, where male undertrial prisoners under the age of 21 are confined, for separating them altogether from other prisoners and for separating those of them who have arrived at the age of puberty from those who have not.

471. Date of production to court to be endorsed on the warrant. Undertrial prisoners subject to the same rules as convicts in matters of search, admission, release, etc.—Rules relating to the admission, search, release and property of prisoners shall also apply to undertrial prisoners. Except in the case of prisoners committed for trial to the Court of Session, on every warrant should be stated the day on which the prisoner is to be brought up before the Magistrate or other officer issuing the warrant. In Sessions cases when the date is fixed for the production of a prisoner it should be endorsed by the Jailor on the warrant and prisoner's history ticket, the prisoner shall be duly informed of the date fixed for holding of the Sessions so that he may make all needful arrangements for the conduct of his defence. The number and name of every undertrial prisoner may be entered in the Release Diary at the top of the page relating to the date on which each is to be produced in court, but in Central Jails where large numbers are kept under detention, it will be more convenient to keep the warrants in a special almirah having a pigeon-hole for each day of the month.

If a prisoner who is already undergoing a sentence of imprisonment is produced before court to answer another charge or on summons there should be a note in red ink in the custody or the production warrant to the effect "Convict not to be released from Court".

472. Segregation of confessing prisoners.—An undertrial prisoner whom the trying Magistrate or the Police notify to be a confessing prisoner shall be kept separate from others concerned in the same case. When there are separate cells or compartments in the undertrial ward these should be utilised for the purpose but care must be taken that he is not kept in solitary confinement. A confessing undertrial prisoner shall have the company of other undertrial prisoners not connected with his case or if this cannot be arranged, a Warder should be detailed to keep him company. If a cell is used for segregating a confessing undertrial prisoner he shall be allowed the use of the yard in front of the cell. Any special directions as to the separation of an unconvicted criminal prisoner given by the Magistrate shall be carried out. Such separation should be unaccompanied by any irksome conditions beyond those necessary to secure the object in view, namely, to prevent him from communicating directly or indirectly with other prisoners concerned in the same case.

473. Information about previous conviction.—It is the duty of the jail authorities to endeavour by all the means in their power to ascertain whether an undertrial prisoner has been previously convicted. Information on this point shall invariably be supplied to the Superintendent of Police in W.B.J. Form No. 26. This form will also be submitted to the Magistrate when subsequent to conviction it is discovered that a prisoner has been previously convicted. If possible, undertrial prisoners who are known to be habitual criminals shall be kept separate from those who are not. Juvenile undertrial prisoners shall be segregated from adults, and prisoners committed to the Court of Session for trial from those charged with minor offences, as far as possible.

474. Undertrial prisoners to be placed in police custody for escort to courts on the dates endorsed on warrants.—On the date entered in the original warrant, or on the date fixed by any subsequent orders, undertrial prosoners shall be placed in the custody of the police to be taken to court. If any prisoner wishes that cash belonging to him in the hands of the Jailor shall be returned to him when sent to court to enable him to pay for legal assistance, this may be done, and a receipt shall be taken from the prisoner; otherwise, such money shall be retained by the Jailor and shall, if the prisoner be released in court, be delivered to him at the jail gate together with his private property on his application.

475. Attendance of prisoner at court.—The names of all prisoners to be produced each day before the Magistrate must be entered in the Hajut Register (West Bengal Form No. 3831) by the Court Officer, whose duty it is to ensure the punctual attendance of prisoners at court on the day fixed. The officer commanding the Court Officer's guard will produce the register to the Jailor who will make over, under written acknowledgment, for production before the Magistrate those prisoners, together with their warrants, whose production has been duly ordered and whose names are entered therein. The Jailor shall also initial in appropriate column of this register the entry of the name of every prisoner received from court either on remand or conviction. Whenever possible prisoners shall be conveyed to and from the court in a prison-van.

476. Release of undertrial prisoners.—On receipt of a warrant or order of revision directing the release of an undertrial prisoner, he shall be at once released (unless the order be received after the wards are looked up for the night, in which case he shall be released immediately after the wards are opened next morning), and the warrant of detention and order of release shall be returned to the court which issued them, with an endorsement by the Superintendent certifying that the order of release has been carried out. Any property which has been taken possession of under Rule 217 shall be made over to the prisoner.

477. Weight on release to be recorded.—The weight of every undertrial prisoner on release shall be recorded in the Undertrial Register. In the case of undertrial prisoners who are released from court the last weighment recorded on the history ticket prior to release shall be taken to be the weight on release.

478. Work for undertrial prisoners.—(1) An unconvicted criminal prisoner shall be subjected to as little interference as is consistent with the maintenance of order and discipline in the jail and with his safe custody; but he shall keep himself and his clothing and bedding clean. He shall be allowed to change his clothes, provided that his appearance is not thereby materially altered. He shall also be allowed to retain his shoes.

(2) He should be encouraged to work at such trade or calling as he likes, subject to the approval of the Superintendent and should be allowed to receive the profits therefrom. But if jail implements be supplied to him, a reasonable deduction for the hire of the implements shall be made from the profits, and if maintained at Government expense, deduction for maintenance should also be made. He may be required to keep the ward, cell or other compartment occupied by him clean, if accustomed to do similar work in his own home.

(3) He shall be compelled to take walking exercise for not more than one hour in the morning and one hour in the evening, if the Superintendent and the Medical Officer consider it advisable.

(4) No work of a degrading character shall be exacted from any unconvicted criminal prisoner, and in no case he shall be employed extramurally.

(5) An undertrial prisoner who volunteers to work shall be allowed and encouraged to do so provided that he is certified by the Medical Officer to be physically fit to work. For his work he will receive labouring prisoner's diet of the division to which he belongs and such cash allowance as Government may by order, for the time being, decide. The payment will be credited to the prisoner's private cash account. He may be given suitable work by the Jailor provided that the provisions of Rule 470(2) are not transgressed. He will be allowed to work only as long as there is work for him, his work and conduct are satisfactory and he works willingly.

479. U. T. prisoner may receive food, etc., from outside. Conditions subject to which the supply may be made.—An undertrial prisoner may obtain his food as well as clothing, bedding and other necessaries at proper hours at his own expense or from his friends and relations subject to examination and to such rules as may be approved by the Inspector-General. The food so obtained shall be simple in character and in a form in which it can be taken without further preparation. If the prisoner elects to obtain the entire food from outside, no food shall be supplied to him from jail.

An undertrial prisoner may be allowed books from the Jail Library. He may also be allowed to procure from outside at his own expense books, newspapers, stationery and writing materials subject to the approval of the Superintendent. Facilities for harmless indoor games may also be provided at the cost of the prisoner.

Subject to the sanction of the Superintendent, purchases of all articles of food, clothing, bedding or other necessaries by an undertrial prisoner or supplies thereof by his friends and relations shall be made through the Jailor who shall examine them before delivery to the prisoner. Nothing deleterious to health and no drugs or intoxicants shall be allowed to a prisoner. Food supplied from private sources shall be examined by the Medical Subordinate who shall report to the Superintendent if it contains anything prohibited or deleterious to health. If any prohibited article as specified in rule 321 is found concealed in any food or other thing supplied to an undertrial prisoner, such food or thing shall be confiscated to Government and the prisoner supplied with diet from the jail according to the scale prescribed for prisoners of his division. The prisoner shall be allowed to procure at his own cost or at the cost of his friends and relations betel nuts as well as tobacco for smoking in quantities which the Superintendent considers to be reasonable. The Superintendent may refuse to allow the purchase for or delivery to, an undertrial prisoner of anything which he considers to be unnecessary or unsuitable.

480. Supply of clothing, bedding, etc., to undertrial prisoners who need them.—Every unconvicted criminal prisoner who is inadequately clad or is unable to obtain clothing and bedding from outside should be provided with bedding and clothing which shall not be clothing meant for convicts according to the scale and description specified below:

Division I undertrial prisoners shall be given the diets prescribed for Division I and II convicts, and Division II undertrials the diets prescribed for Division III convicts. They shall have their food cooked in the prison kitchen by convicts. In special circumstances, arrangements may be made to allow undertrial prisoners to cook for themselves.

482. Undertrial prisoners subject to rules relating to jail offences and punishments therefor.—Subject to the exceptions therein contained, the rules in Chapter XIX relating to jail offences and punishments shall apply to undertrial prisoners.

483. Steps against an undertrial prisoner attempting to escape.—An undertrial prisoner attempting to escape should be brought before the Magistrate for trial under section 224, Indian Penal Code, without delay.

484. Visit to undertrial wards by gangs employed in sweeping, etc.—The undertrial ward shall at the regular hours be visited by the gangs employed in sweeping, supplying water, and giving food, under the charge of a paid jail official, who shall prevent their holding communication with any of the prisoners under trial.

485. History ticket.—Particulars of all undertrial prisoners, together with particulars of property brought to jail, shall be entered in the Undertrial Admission Register No. 8. Every undertrial prisoner shall be furnished with a history ticket showing his name, date when first placed on trial, date of admission to the jail, crime of which accused, previous convictions, if any are known, court in which the case is pending, whether he is a confessing prisoner or not, dates to which his trial has been remanded, weight on admission and weight subsequently once a fortnight. Any marks of wounds, bruises, etc., shall be carefully recorded on the history ticket, together with the prisoner's statement concerning them. This ticket shall always be shown to an inspecting officer.

486. Illness of U. T. prisoners.—(1) In every case when an undertrial prisoner is so seriously ill as to be likely to die, the Superintendent shall report the circumstance to the Magistrate, or, if the prisoner is awaiting trial before the Court of Session, to the Sessions Judge, in order that, if the law permits, and the Court thinks it proper, the prisoner may be released on bail. In the event of bail being refused, the Superintendent, if he considers it necessary, may remove the prisoner to the local hospital for better treatment.

(2) In the event of an undertrial prisoner being too ill to attend court on the appointed date, the Superintendent shall report the circumstance to the court and shall ask for authority to further detain the prisoner in custody. This report must be sent as soon as it is clear that the prisoner will not be able to appear, and must in any case be sent (by telegram, if necessary), so as to reach the court on the morning of the day fixed for the trial.

The report should contain the following particulars:

(i) when the undertrial prisoner was taken ill,

(ii) what illness he is suffering from,

(iii) what his present condition is, and

(iv) when, in the opinion of the Medical Officer, the prisoner is likely to be able to attend the court.

If in the meantime the prisoner recovers or his illness seems likely to be prolonged another report should at once be sent to the court.

487. Register for undertrial prisoner.—The following register shall be maintained in respect of undertrial prisoners:—

No. 8—Register of prisoners undertrial.—The following explanations are given for filling in this register:

CHAPTER XXVII

Prisoners undergoing simple imprisonment

488. Separation of prisoners sentenced to simple imprisonment.—Prisoners sentenced to simple imprisonment should be kept separate from those sentenced to rigorous imprisonment. But those who elect to work shall be allowed to work with A class labouring convicts during the prescribed hours.

489. Prisoners sentenced to S.I. to remain during the daytime in their own ward.—Prisoners sentenced to simple imprisonment shall remain during the daytime in the part of the jail assigned to them, and shall not enter the yards of labouring prisoners or communicate with them unless they elect to work, in which case they must remain with the gang to which they are allotted

490. Clothing of prisoners sentenced to simple imprisonment.—Such prisoners shall be subjected to a minimum of restrictions consistent with the maintenance of order and discipline in the jail. They shall be allowed to wear their own clothes. In case their private clothing is insufficient for decency or warmth, they shall be given the same clothing as under-trial prisoners in Division II to make up the deficiency.

Note.—Military prisoners sentenced to simple imprisonment shall not be permitted to wear their uniform in jail. They shall, however, be permitted to wear their own civil clothing. Any prisoner who is unable to obtain clothing from outside, shall be provided with suitable clothing by the Superintendent of the Jail.

491. Supply of equipments such as blankets, etc., to prisoners sentenced to S.I.—Blankets and bedding, cup and plate, shall be supplied to simple imprisonment prisoners on the same scale as to labouring convicts, and when not in use, the former shall be kept neatly folded, and the latter clean and arranged in an orderly manner, as required by Rule 305.

492. Simple imprisonment prisoners to keep their own clothing and yards clean.—Simple imprisonment prisoners shall keep their clothing clean and in good order, and their yards clean, provided they belong to a class of society the members of which would in their own houses perform such duties. They shall not be compelled to do any other work or to perform any menial duties for others, or to do any work of a degrading character, such as scavenger's work.

493. S.I. prisoners may converse together.—They will be allowed to converse together in their own ward or place in a quiet and orderly manner except at parades and at exercise.

494. Work for simple imprisonment prisoner.—Any simple imprisonment prisoner who volunteers to work shall be allowed to choose such work as is available in the jail and shall be put to such work, provided the Medical Officer certifies in his history ticket that he is physically fit to perform it. If he does a reasonable amount of work he shall be supplied with the diet of a labouring convict of the divi ion to which he belongs. Should he fail to do so, the Superintendent may alter his diet from the labouring to the non-labouring scale. In case the prisoner wishes to cease working, and to return to his original position, he shall be allowed to do so.

495. Non-labouring prisoners to take walking exercises.—Non-labouring prisoners shall be compelled to take walking exercise for not more than an hour in the morning and an hour in the evening, if the Superintendent and Medical Officer consider it advisable.

496. Rules applicable to convicted criminal prisoners to apply generally to simple imprisonment prisoners.—Except where exception is allowed by the foregoing rules and by the rules relating to diet, all the rules applicable to convicted criminal prisoners shall be applicable to prisoners sentenced to simple imprisonment: provided that the following punishments shall not be awarded to such prisoners, namely, minor punishments Nos. 2 to 4 and major punishment No. 2, unless the prisoner is under the remission system and major punishments Nos. 1 and 1A as enumerated in Rule 360.

CHAPTER XXVIII

Female prisoners and children

497. Seclusion of female prisoners.—Female prisoners shall be rigidly secluded from the male prisoners, and undertrial female prisoners shall, as far as possible be kept apart from female convicts. The female ward shall be so situated as not to be visible from any part of the male wards, and there shall be a separate hospital for sick female prisoners within or directly adjoining the female enclosure. Female prisoners shall not be required to attend at the jail office. All enquiries and verification of their warrants shall be conducted by the Jailor in the female enclosure,

498. Segregation of female prisoners—habituals from non-habituals, etc.—As far as possible, female adolescent prisoners shall be kept separate from older prisoners, habituals from non-habituals and prostitutes, procuresses and sex offenders from other women offenders.

499. Cellular accommodation for female prisoners.—In the female enclosure of every jail there shall be a block of cells sufficient in number for use as punishment cells and to afford separate accommodation for female undertrial prisoners. A female undertrial prisoner may, at the discretion of the Superintendent, if cell accommodation is available, be allowed to occupy a cell in the female enclosure instead of being confined in the undertrial prisoners' ward: provided that the arrangements prescribed in Rule 502 regarding the guarding of cells in the female ward and the castody of the keys of these cells can be made.

500. Entertainment of extra female Warder.—When there is only one female prisoner in the female ward and there is no female Warder, the Superintendent shall entertain an extra-temporary female Warder to keep her company, in anticipation of the Inspector-General's sanction.

501. Female prisoners not to leave female enclosure.—No female prisoner shall, on any consideration, be allowed to leave the female enclosure of the jail, except for release, transfer or attendance at court, or under the orders of the Superintendent for any special purpose. A female prisoner authorised under this rule to leave the female enclosure shall invariably be accompanied by the Matron or a female Warder from the time she leaves the enclosure till she returns to it or quits the jail premises.

502. Guarding of occupied cells in female enclosures.—When cells in the female enclosure are occupied, arrangements shall be made that, at night, a female officer, and in the daytime, such an officer or a female convict officer, shall always be within hearing of the occupants. The key of the cells shall always be at hand and in the custody of a female officer. If there are not two female officers, so that one shall always be present in the female enclosure with the keys of the cells throughout the day and night, continuous confinement in the female prisoners' cell cannot be allowed; no female shall be locked in a cell at any time during which a female Warder is not present. As this precludes the execution of a judicial sentence of solitary confinement in any jail which has not two female Warders, whenever a female prisoner is so judicially sentenced, her descriptive roll shall be submitted to the Inspector-General for transfer to any jail for which the necessary establishment has been sanctioned.

503. Female prisoners except Hindu widows to take cooked food. Some menial duties to be performed by female prisoners.—Female prisoners, except Hindu widows when they so desire, shall not be allowed to cook for themselves. Cooked food shall be brought to them by a convict cook, accompanied by the Warder in charge, and shall be placed outside the enclosure gate. The menial duties connected with the female wards shall, if possible, be carried out by the female prisoners themselves, and all refuse matter, etc., shall be placed at stated times outside the enclosure to be carried away by male convicts. If there are no suitable female prisoners for conservancy work, two or three specially selected male convict sweepers or paid sweepers may be taken into the enclosure accompanied by a Matron or a Warder preferably by a female Warder and the sweepers shall be kept together and shall not be allowed to go out of the Matron's or Warder's sight or to hold any communication with the female prisoners.

504. Weekly parade of female prisoners.—At the weekly parade held by the Superintendent under Rule 310 female prisoners shall be paraded with their faces uncovered but may be permitted to wear their saries over their heads.

505. Female prisoners may retain children.—Female prisoners may retain their children up to the age of 4, or with the Superintendent's approval up to the age of 6. They shall be allowed such diet as the Medical Officer may order for them, and shall be provided with clothing at the following scale:—

(a) For the hot weather

506. Female prisoner's hair not to be cut except on medical grounds. Supply of comb and toilet to female prisoners.—The hair of a female prisoner shall not be cut except by order of the Medical Officer entered in her history ticket in any case where he considers this necessary on account of disease. A comb and suitable sanitary cloth or absorbent cotton wool as required shall form part of every female prisoner's outfit and she shall be provided with a reasonable supply of oil for dressing her hair and bath soap at quarter of a cake per head per week. Female prisoners shall also be allowed the use of a looking glass, one in each cell and one or two in each ward being provided for the purpose. Married female prisoners shall be allowed to use vermilion which should be supplied to them for the purpose.

507. Rules regarding labour, punishment, remission, etc., of the code generally to apply to female prisoners.—The rules regarding labour in Chapter XXII shall be applicable to female convicted prisoners. Likewise all other rules in this Code, including those relating to remission (Chapter XXI), to classification (Chapter XV), to appointments as convict officers (Chapter VI), and offences and punishments (Chapter XIX), when not at variance with the rules in this Chapter, shall apply to them.

It is desirable to encourage among female prisoners the arts of sewing, knitting, weaving, spinning, needlework, and other domestic pursuits subject to local conditions. Arrangements should therefore be made for giving efficient instructions to the female prisoners in this matter as far as circumstances permit.

CHAPTER XXIX

Juvenile prisoners

508. Segregation of juvenile and adolescent prisoners.—A prisoner up to the age of 21 is considered a juvenile or adolescent. Under section 27 of the Prisons Act, 1894 (Act 9 of 1894), male prisoners under the age of 21 years shall be kept altogether separate from other prisoners, and, of the former, those who have not arrived at puberty shall be separated from others. This applies both to convicted prisoners and to prisoners under trial. Therefore in every jail in which male juvenile prisoners are detained, means must be provided for separating those four classes. Arrangements must also be made to separate adolescents guilty of grave crime from other adolescents, Female adolescents may be kept in the female ward allotted to A class prisoners, but separation from adults should be arranged. Juvenile prisoners belonging to class B must be kept apart from other juvenile prisoners.

509. Transfer of prisoner to Reformatory or Borstal Schools.—(1) When a warrant for the detention of a youthful offender in a reformatory school is received, the Superintendent before transferring such prisoner to the Hazaribagh Reformatory School shall ascertain by telegram whether there is accommodation available, and shall not transfer such prisoner until he receives intimation that there is accommodation for him, but shall transfer him, if fit to travel, as soon as he receives such intimation. If a youthful offender, whose detention in a reformatory school has been ordered, cannot be transferred to a reformatory school before the expiration of any sentence or sentences of imprisonment awarded to him, he shall be released on the expiration of such sentence or sentences. Removal to a reformatory school should not be postponed pending the filing or decision of an appeal.

(2) When any boy has been sentenced to detention in a reformatory school, he should be detained in the undertrial ward pending removal to the reformatory.

(3) The boys under orders of detention in a reformatory school shall be allowed to wear their own clothing if sufficient and suitable while under transfer from jails to the reformatory school.

(4) All youthful offenders should be protected from all contact with other criminals. All youthful offenders under orders of detention in a reformatory who are admitted to a subsidiary jail should be transferred to the Reformatory School at Hazaribagh direct instead of to the District Jail without waiting for the result of appeal, if any.

(5) All adolescents sentenced to detention in the borstal school should be transferred to Berhampore Borstal School at once without waiting for the result of appeal. All such transfers should be made without waiting for Inspector-General's sanction.

510. Confinement of juvenile prisoners in cubicles at night.—In jails which have separate wards for juvenile prisoners, such wards shall be fitted with cubicles for the separation of such prisoners at night. If there is not a sufficient number of cubicles for all, those who have arrived at the age of puberty should be kept in the cubicles in preference to those who have not.

In jails where there is no separate juvenile ward, juvenile prisoners sentenced to a month's imprisonment or less, or whilst awaiting transfer, shall be confined at night in cubicles or separate sleeping places, and during the day time shall be kept rigorously under the eye of an elderly and reliable Warder, whose duty it shall be to prevent any familiarity between them and the adult convicts.

511. Juvenile prisoners exempt from full hard labour.—Juvenile prisoners shall be exempt from full hard labour; they shall be taught and be employed on some simple handicraft, which they are likely to carry on as a trade after they leave the jail.

512. Diet of juvenile prisoners to be regulated.—The diet of juvenile prisoners shall be regulated according to their age and apparent physical requirements. Boys over the age of 16 shall receive the diet of an adult.

513. Teaching of Juveniles.—All juveniles who are mentally fit shall be taught reading, writing and arithmetic in accordance with a syllabus approved by the Director of Public Instruction. They shall be taught for an hour in the morning and an hour in the afternoon. In addition to paid teachers, suitable elderly prisoners, if available, may be employed to teach the boys under proper supervision, with the permission of the Inspector-General, and may be granted special remission if they perform their duty satisfactorily. Teachers and Warders who are allowed to enter the juvenile ward should be persons of irreproachable character. Books and writing materials shall be supplied at Government cost.

514. Physical exercise. In Central Jails at least half an hour a day should be devoted to the exercise of juvenile prisoners either in marching or by drill or gymnastics.

515. Male prisoners of ages between 18 and 21 years to sleep in separate wards.—Male prisoners aged between 18 and 21 years of each class (A and B) whom it may be desirable to separate shall, if possible, sleep in wards separated from other male prisoners. If there are cubicles in the adult male wards, such prisoners shall be located in them at night.

CHAPTER XXX

Prisoners condemned to death

516. Confinement of a condemned prisoner.—Every prisoner sentenced to death shall, from the date of his sentence, and without waiting for the sentence to be confirmed by the High Court, be confined in some safe place, namely, a cell, within the jail, apart from all other prisoners. The cell or room in which a convict condemned to death is confined shall, before he is placed in it, be invariably examined by the Jailor, who shall satisfy himself of its fitness and safety, and shall record the result of the examination in his report book.

517. Search of condemned prisoner.—Immediately on his arrival at the prison, if the prisoner is a male, the Jailor shall have him stripped and searched in his presence, shall take every article of private clothing or other property from him and shall give him a suit of jail clothing, the usual bedding and the utensils and in addition a pillow, even though he is a Division III prisoner. If the prisoner is a female, she shall be searched in private by the Matron or female Warder who shall take the same action as the Jailor in the case of a male prisoner. A prisoner shall not be put in fetters or handcuffs unless danger to the guard or to the prisoner himself is reasonably apprehended from the prisoner's violence. If it is deemed necessary to put on fetters or handcuffs, the circumstances and the reasons therefor shall be promptly reported to the Inspector-General. Female prisoners shall not be put in fetters.

New articles of clothing to be given to a condemned prisoner.—A condemned prisoner who was classified as Division I undertrial shall be given one of each of the articles of clothing mentioned in Rule 606, except that pyjamas will be issued instead of dhuti and cap in place of a pugri; and a change of clothing will be kept by the guard-in-charge.

Separate guard to be placed.—The Superintendent may also at his discretion issue to such a prisoner an iron cot, one mattress, one pillow, a pillow case, a bed sheet, a mosquito net, a chair and a table. A separate guard shall be placed over each cell in which such a prisoner is confined even if the cells happen to be contiguous.

518. Confinement of a condemned female prisoner.—A female prisoner condemned to death shall be kept in a cell in the female yard and shall be guarded by female Warders.

519. Guarding of condemned prisoners.—From the time the prisoner is received from court after sentence, he or she shall be placed under the constant charge and observation of a Warder, both day and night. Convict officers shall not be employed on this duty. As a rule, the ordinary Warder guard of a jail ought to be sufficient for the occasional guarding of a condemned prisoner. If, however, the permanent staff is not sufficient extra Warders may be entertained, in anticipation of the sanction of the Inspector-General. The responsible duty of guarding condemned prisoners shall always be given to the most trustworthy permanent Warders, the extra Warders who may be entertained being placed on less responsible duties.

520. Warder on duty to have key of the cell lock.—The Warder shall be armed with a regulation baton, and shall wherever possible be placed outside the grated door of the cell. The key of the cell lock shall be kept with the Warder or Matron on duty so as to be immediately available in case of an emergency. The lock must be one which cannot be opened by any other key in use in the jail. Under all circumstances it is essential that the Warder shall have a complete view of the prisoner and of all parts of the cell in which he or she is confined; during the night, therefore, a lantern or lamp shall be so placed as to throw a good light on the prisoner.

In the case of a male prisoner, unless the prisoner is attempting to commit suicide the door of his cell should be opened only when there are three persons present to restrain him if he should attempt violence.

521. Guarding arrangement for more than one condemned prisoners.—When two or more prisoners sentenced to death are confined at the same time in cells situated at some distance from one another, a separate guard shall be placed over each cell; but if the cells are contiguous one Warder shall be posted to guard every three cells. For any number of cells in excess of three, an extra guard shall be posted.

522. Supervision by Head Warder.—The Head Warder on duty shall frequently visit the sentries placed over such prisoners at uncertain hours during both day and night, and shall at once report to the Jailor for communication to the Superintendent any suspicious conduct on the part of any of the prisoners or any fault committed by the Warders on guard.

523. Daily search by Jailor.—Every morning and evening the Jailor shall carefully search every male prisoner condemned to death with his own hands and examine his cell and assure himself that the prisoner has no weapon or other means of effecting his escape or suicide. This duty shall under no circumstances be delegated. Female prisoners shall similarly be searched by the Matron in private, but their cells shall be examined by the Jailor.

524. Diet of condemned prisoner.—A prisoner under sentence of death shall be allowed the ordinary diet of a labouring prisoner, if previously classed as Division II undertrial, but if previously classed as Division I undertrial, the diet prescribed in Rule 594 shall be given. His food shall invariably be examined by the Medical Officer or a Medical Subordinate before it is delivered to him and shall be given to him in the presence of the Jailor or a Deputy Jailor.

525. Facilities for condemned prisoner.—A prisoner condemned to death may be visited by his relatives, friends, and legal advisers on an order in writing by the Superintendent. All visitors shall in such cases be conducted to the prisoner's cell by the Jailor, Deputy Jailor or Discipline Officer, who shall be present during the interview and see that nothing is passed to the prisoner. No other person shall have access to such prisoner except the Superintendent, the Medical Officer, and his Medical Subordinate, the Jailor, official and non-official visitors, prisoners who have to bring food and attend to conservancy, and, if the prisoner so desires, a priest or minister of the religion to which he belongs. A condemned prisoner who can read may be supplied with suitable reading material, either books or periodicals which have been passed for his use by the Superintendent, and may be supplied with copies of daily or weekly newspapers, which have been approved for prisoners classified in Division II, and subject to the restrictions laid down in Rule 571, an exercise book and pencil may be allowed subject to the restrictions laid down in Rule 557. A condemned prisoner who smokes may be supplied with cigarettes or tobacco.

526. Appeal.—When intimation of a sentence of death passed by a Sessions Judge or a Special Court or Tribunal is received, the Jailor shall enquire of the condemned prisoner whether he wishes to appeal and to have his appeal forwarded by the jail authorities. If he desires to do so, the Jailor shall at once have his appeal prepared for him as far as possible in his own words and shall forward it under registered cover to the Registrar of the High Court. It is not necessary to obtain and forward a copy of the judgment in such cases.

527. Condemned prisoner showing signs of insanity.—If any prisoner awaiting sentence of death shows signs of insanity which, in the opinion of the Medical Officer, are not feigned, or require observation to determine whether they are feigned or not, the circumstances shall at once be reported to the Secretary to the Government in the Judicial Department, and execution of the sentence shall be deferred pending receipt of the orders of Government. The Medical Officer shall keep the prisoner under observation and, as soon as he can form an opinion, which should be within thirty days after the date when the symptoms of insanity are first reported to him, shall certify whether the prisoner is insane or not. His certificate shall immediately be forwarded to the Secretary to the Government in the Judicial Department in a registered cover. On receipt of the orders of Government, the Superintendent shall give effect to them. If they direct that the sentence of death shall be carried out, the Superintendent shall at once fix a fresh date for the execution of the sentence which shall be not less than a week nor more than a fortnight after receipt of the orders of the Government. The postponement of the execution of sentence under this rule with the reason therefor, the final orders of Government and the new date fixed for the execution of the death sentence, if it is to be carried out, shall be reported to the court which sentenced the prisoner, and also to the Magistrate of the district.

528. Treatment of condemned female prisoner found to be pregnant.—When a female prisoner sentenced to death is certified by the Medical Officer to be pregnant, the fact shall invariably be noted on the warrant, which shall be returned by the Superintendent to the Sessions Judge for endorsement thereon of an order for the suspension of execution until the orders of the High Court have been taken under section 382, Code of Criminal Procedure, 1898.

529. Treatment of a condemned female prisoner who declares herself to be pregnant.—When a female prisoner sentenced to death declares herself to be pregnant, and the Medical Officer is unable to certify to the truth or otherwise of the statement, he shall state the fact in writing, and also the interval of time necessary to enable him to satisfy himself on the point, and the statement shall be attached to the warrant and forwarded therewith to the Sessions Judge for the procedure specified in the last preceding rule.

530. Express orders of Government to be obtained for execution of death sentence of a female prisoner execution of whose sentence has been suspended for her pregnancy.—When execution of a death sentence on a female convict has been suspended under either of the last two preceding rules, it shall not afterwards be carried into execution without the express orders of Government, for which the Superintendent shall apply through the Inspector-General.

531. Unusual delay in execution to be reported.—Should any extraordinary or unavoidable delay occur in carrying a death sentence into execution, from any cause other than the submission of a petition for mercy or an appeal or application for special leave to appeal to the Supreme Court, the Superintendent shall immediately report the circumstances to the Sessions Judge, returning the original warrant either for the issue of a fresh warrant, or for the endorsement upon the same warrant of an order containing a definite date for carrying the postponed sentence into effect.

Note. 1—This rule is based on section 381, Criminal Procedure Code, and does not apply to warrants for execution issued by the High Court. If for any reason a death sentence is not carried into execution on the date fixed in such warrants, execution should be carried out on receipt of instructions from the Government.

Note. 2—When the Superintendent is acting under the relevant rule in relation to petitions for mercy and petitions for leave to appeal to the Supreme Court, he should, in postponing execution in accordance therewith, himself fix dates from time to time as necessary, the warrant remaining unaltered.

532. Notice of death of condemned prisoner.—Notice of the death of a condemned prisoner shall be sent immediately to the District Magistrate and the Sessions Judge of the district in which he was convicted. The Legal Remembrancer and the High Court should also be informed if the appeal of the deceased prisoner is pending. If the date fixed for the hearing of the appeal is very close to the date of the death a telegraphic intimation or an intimation by a special messenger from jails in or near Calcutta should be sent. Notice of transfer of a condemned prisoner shall likewise be sent by the transferring jail to all officers mentioned above. The Inspector-General shall also be informed immediately about the date of transfer to other jail and date of death of a condemned prisoner.

533. Warrant to be read out.—Before the condemned prisoner leaves his cell, the Superintendent shall read out the warrant to him. If it is in a language not understood by the prisoner, the Superintendent or the Jailor or some other official shall read out a translation of it in a language known to the prisoner. The Superintendent and the Jailor shall then identify the prisoner as the individual named in the warrant and make him over to the hangman.

534. Disposal of the body of the executed criminal.—Unless the removal of the body of an executed criminal is likely to be made the occasion of a public demonstration, such body—

(1) may, at the request of the friends or relatives of the deceased, be made over to such friends or relatives, or

(2) if not made over to the friends or relatives, under clause (1), may be disposed of under municipal or other local arrangements.

535. Ibid.—In the event of the District Magistrate or the Magistrate in charge considering it undesirable that the body of an executed criminal should be made over to the relatives or friends of the deceased, such body shall, under the written order of the Magistrate, be burnt or buried within the jail in consonance as far as possible, with the racial or religious customs of the community to which the deceased belonged. Friends or relatives of the deceased, not exceeding four in number, may, at the discretion of the Magistrate, and under such conditions as he may impose be admitted to the funeral ceremony and allowed to perform any customary rites. In the absence of any friends or relatives of the deceased, the ceremony shall be performed under the direction of the senior Hindu or Muslim or Christian official of the jail, as the case may be, by engaging if necessary and available, a priest of the religious denomination to which the prisoner belonged.

CHAPTER XXXI

Lunatics

536. Classification of lunatics detained in jails.—Persons who are supposed, or are known, to be of unsound mind may be detained in jails and may be divided into six classes:—

(1) Persons who have not committed any crime and who are supposed to be lunatics placed under medical observation under the provisions of the Indian Lunacy Act, 1912 (IV of 1912).

(2) Persons who have not committed any crime and are detained temporarily in jail under the orders of the Magistrate under section 23 of the Indian Lunacy Act 1912 (IV of 1912), pending their removal to an asylum.

(3) Persons accused of a crime and supposed to be of unsound mind placed under the observation of the Civil Surgeon (or, in Calcutta, of the Professor of Medical Jurisprudence, Medical College, Calcutta) under section 464 of the Criminal Procedure Code, 1898.

(4) Persons accused of a crime and found incapable of making their defence owing to unsoundness of mind, and detained under section 466 of the Criminal Procedure Code, 1898, pending the orders of Government.

(5) Persons who have committed a crime and have been acquitted on the ground of having been insane when the crime was committed, but detained under section 471 of the Criminal Procedure Code, 1898 pending the orders of, or at the pleasure of, Government.

(6) Prisoners who have become insane after their conviction and admission into jail.

Persons of classes (1) and (2) are non-criminal lunatics. All others are denominated criminal lunatics.

537. Procedure to be taken when a prisoner shows signs of insanity (1) In the event of any prisoner confined in any jail exhibiting signs of insanity which in the opinion of the Medical Officer are not feigned, the Superintendent shall cause such prisoner to be kept under medical observation in a cell in the manner prescribed in Rule 381 or Rule 527.

(2) If the supposed lunatic be—

(a) an accused person under-trial the Superintendent shall report the circumstances to the trying or committing Magistrate for necessary action under section 464, Criminal Procedure Code, 1898;

(b) a prisoner awaiting sentence of death, the Superintendent shall proceed as prescribed in Rule 527;

(c) a person detained or imprisoned under any order or sentence of any court, the Superintendent shall apply to the Magistrate of the district in which such order or sentence was passed, for a Descriptive Roll in the prescribed form.

Note.—The Descriptive Roll should ordinarily be received within fourteen days.

538. Report to Inspector-General on a prisoner becoming insane after admission to jail and documents which are to be sent along with such report.—If any prisoner becomes insane after his admission to a jail, a report regarding his case shall immediately be submitted by the Superintendent to the Inspector-General, with the object of obtaining the orders of Government for his removal to a Mental Hospital. With this report shall be forwarded in duplicate—

(1) a Descriptive Roll in Form C (West Bengal Form No. 216);

(2) a certificate, signed by the Medical Officer of the prisoner's insanity, in West Bengal Form No. 215;

(3) a certificate of the prisoner's fitness for transfer in West Bengal Jail Form No. 119 (in manuscript);

(4) a Descriptive Roll in W.B.J. Form No. 8 (West Bengal Form No. 5069).

Note.—When lunatics are certified to be violent, dangerous suicidal, etc., a statement of actual facts should be entered in the certificate.

539. Transfer of lunatics to the Mental Hospital.—On receipt of a writ, warrant or order for removal of a lunatic to a Mental Hospital, the Superintendent shall forward him to the Mental Hospital specified, with a copy of the order, a copy of the History Sheet and a duplicate of the Medical Officer's certificate of fitness for transfer and also, if the lunatic is a convicted prisoner, with his original warrant of imprisonment, and other documents prescribed in Rule 449. No lunatic shall be transferred to a Mental Hospital unless the Medical Officer certifies immediately before despatch that he is fit, both mentally and physically, to travel with safety, and the original of this certificate shall be sent to the Superintendent of the Mental Hospital by post. Every precaution shall be taken to secure that the lunatic is properly cared for whilst in transit to the Mental Hospital; he shall be sent in charge of a police escort, and proper arrangements shall be made regarding his property, clothing, bedding, and food, as directed in the rules relating to transfer, except that two complete suits of clothing and an extra blanket, shall be provided, and, if the lunatic is non-criminal, the clothing shall be ordinary clothing, not jail clothing. Fetters shall not be used unless absolutely necessary.

Note.—Intimation of the despatch of mental patients, both criminal and non-criminal for admission to Indian Mental Hospital at Kanke, with details about the date and hour of arrival at the Ranchi Railway Station, should invariably be sent beforehand to the Superintendent of the Hospital by wire, if necessary. Before despatch to Ranchi of non-criminal lunatics, enquiry must always be made of the Superintendent of the Hospital whether accommodation is available.

540. Procedure to be adopted when a lunatic cannot be transferred to the Mental Hospital for lack of accommodation.—If for lack of accommodation in the Mental Hospital a lunatic has to remain confined in a jail, the Superintendent of the jail should move the Inspector-General for the transfer of the lunatic to a Central Jail. As soon as the permission from the Inspector-General for the removal of the lunatic to a Central Jail, is received, the precautions, and order contained in Rule 539 should be adopted and carried out as far as applicable to such cases.

In all cases previous information regarding the date and hour of arrival of the lunatic at the receiving jail should be sent by telegram so that there is some responsible officer ready to receive the lunatic.

A short medical history outlining the salient features of the case should also be sent in advance and if the lunatic is dangerous and violent or has suicidal and homicidal tendencies this should be distinctly stated.

In all dangerous and violent cases showing homicidal or suicidal tendencies the Medical Officer of the transferring jail should carefully weigh the subject of applying suitable restraint to the prisoner for the period he or she is in transit. He should keep in mind the chances of the lunatic causing injury to his or her own person or to the escort or other persons.

On arrival at the jail, the lunatic must be admitted by the Jailor or a Deputy Jailor, who will carefully scrutinise the medical history of the prisoner, before sending him or her inside the jail. He should ordinarily inform the Medical Officer, or his Medical Assistants, who will examine the prisoner and the prisoner's paper at the jail gate, and issue orders as to the disposal and safeguarding of the lunatic before the latter is permitted to enter the jail.

Lunatic prisoners with violent tendencies should at all times be under adequate escort when being admitted into or moving about the jail and where necessary steps should be taken to keep other prisoners out of their way.

541. Intimation to Police of P. R. Convict, sent to Mental Hospital.—Whenever a Police Registered convict is sent to a Mental Hospital from a jail, the Superintendent shall communicate the fact fifteen days before the transfer of the convict to the Finger Print Bureaus of the State within which the man was convicted and of the State of which he is a native. In the cases of convicts who have not been made, "P.R." intimation should be given to the Superintendent of Police of the district in which the jail is situated.

542. Female lunatics when transferred from a jail to be accompanied by a female attendant. Female lunatics when transferred to or from a jail, or forwarded for release to the custody of relations or friends, shall invariably be accompanied by a female Warder or attendant.

543. Superintendent's power of transferring an insane convict in certain cases.—In urgent and special cases (e.g., if the lunatic is noisy, filthy or dangerous) Superintendents are authorised to transfer insane convicted prisoners from jails to Mental Hospitals in anticipation of Government sanction; the necessary documents shall in such cases accompany the prisoner.

544. Medical Officer's duty while certifying to the fitness for transfer of a lunatic.—When certifying to the fitness for transfer of any insane person, the Medical Officer shall be careful to record minutely the existence of any disability or marks of violence exhibited by such person.

545. Medical Officer to be present when insane prisoner is made over to police escort.—The Medical Officer or the Medical Subordinate shall invariably be present when an insane prisoner is made over by the Jailor to the police escort. He shall acquaint the officer in command of the escort with the exact mental and physical condition of such prisoner and shall bring to his notice such disability or marks of violence as may exist. He shall ask him to satisfy himself that the condition of the prisoner is as stated. The Jailor shall note in his report book the fact of this rule having been complied with.

546. Criminal lunatic, if not transferred to a Mental Hospital before expiry of sentence, be treated in jail as a non-criminal after expiry of sentence.—When a criminal lunatic of class (6) cannot be transferred under a Government order, so as to reach the Mental Hospital before his sentence expires he shall be detained until the expiration of his sentence, and then be treated as a non-criminal lunatic. The Superintendent shall apply to the Magistrate for the reception order stating the facts of the case together with an up-to-date report of the Medical Officer on the mental condition of the prisoner.

547. Detention of lunatics in Jail hospital or undertrial prisoners' ward.—Whenever a lunatic is found to be dangerous, noisy, or filthy in habits, he shall be confined in a cell; otherwise lunatics of classes (1) to (5) inclusive may be detained either in the jail hospital or in the undertrial prisoners' ward at the discretion of the Medical Officer. Every lunatic confined in a cell shall at all times be watched in the manner prescribed in Rule 381.

548. Diet for lunatics.—Every lunatic shall receive the ordinary jail dietary, unless the Medical Officer otherwise directs, but persons coming under classes (1) and (2) may be supplied with food from outside the jail under the same conditions as are prescribed in the case of undertrial prisoners.

549. Treatment of criminal lunatics of class (5) in jail.—If for want of accommodation any criminal lunatic of class (5) cannot be kept in a Mental Hospital, the Superintendent of the jail in which such lunatic is confined shall, if of opinion that the lunatic may be released without danger of his doing injury to himself or to any other person, issue a certificate to that effect; and the same shall be sent through the Inspector-General to the State Government for necessary orders. These lunatics as also those recovered criminal lunatics who may be transferred from mental hospitals to jails shall be treated strictly in accordance with the orders of Government passed in each case. Such recovered criminal lunatics will ordinarily be required to undergo a term of probation in jail.

A brief note of the case of every recovered criminal lunatic confined in a jail should be brought to the notice of the Inspector-General at his inspection.

Explanation.—A recovered criminal lunatic is a criminal lunatic in respect of whom, if confined in a jail, the Inspector-General, or, if confined in a mental hospital, visitors thereto certify that he may be released without danger of his doing injury to himself or to any other person.

550. Superintendent to report to the I.G. when he finds that a lunatic may be released without danger.—If the Superintendent finds that a person detained under the provisions of section 466 (or section 471) of the Criminal Procedure Code, 1898, may, in his judgment, be released without danger of his doing injury to himself or to any other person he shall certify to that effect and send a report to the Inspector-General for submission to the State Government.

CHAPTER XXXII

Lepers

551 Medical Officer's duty when he finds any convict suffering from leprosy.—When any convict prisoner is found to be suffering from leprosy, the Medical Officer shall record the fact on his history ticket and also state therein whether the prisoner should be segregated.

552. Leper convict to be segregated and Superintendent to report to the I.G. for his transfer.—Whenever the Medical Officer records that a convicted prisoner is suffering from leprosy he should at once be separated from other prisoners and the Superintendent shall submit his Descriptive roll to the Inspector-General for orders for the prisoner's transfer, and the Inspector-General shall order his transfer to a jail in which lepers are specially confined, subject to the provisions of the rules in Chapter XXIV.

553. Leper prisoner to be confined in cell pending transfer or release.—An undertrial prisoner suffering from leprosy, whose segregation the Medical Officer recommends, or a leper convict, whose tansfer to a leper jail has been recommended, or a leper convict received for release, shall, pending transfer or release, be confined in a cell, but such confinement must not be solitary. The prisoner should be allowed to see and converse with other prisoners. A cell or building occupied by a leper prisoner shall be thoroughly disinfected, the walls scraped and whitewashed and the floor, if of earth, renewed before it is used for any other purpose. Clothing and bedding that have been used by a leper shall never be re-issued, except to another leper prisoner, and shall be thoroughly disinfected and washed before re-issue. The case of any civil prisoner admitted with ulcerative leprosy shall at once be reported to the Inspector-General with a view to obtaining the orders of Government for his release. On the day before the release of a leper whose segregation has been ordered, intimation to that effect shall be given to the Police, in order that they may, if necessary, take action under section 7 of the Lepers Act, 1898 (Act III of 1898).

The allowance of chillies and also of fresh vegetables may be increased on the order of the Medical Officer to any reasonable extent that can be supplied from the jail gardens. The allowance of salt may be temporarily increased by order of the Medical Officer. Similarly, the scale of oil may be increased when there is unusual sickness and tendency to loss of weight amongst the prisoners, specially in the cold weather. The antiscorbutics should be varied from day to day. It should be mixed with the food, and not put separately on prisoners' plates so as to insure that it is consumed. During the rainy season, from June to October inclusive, the scale of antiscorbutics shall be increased by one-half of the quantities prescribed above. At the discretion of the Superintendent extra spices or condiments may be issued for prisoners'diet on fish or meat days and necessary quantity of dal deducted so that no extra expenditure is incurred on that account.

Note 1.—Prisoners on first admission will be allowed to take either A or B diet and no subsequent change will be allowed. The Superintendent shall issue a menu in accordance with the quantities authorised and shall use his discretion in allowing substitutes but the cost of the diet shall not exceed the monetary limit. The issue of atta or rice can be made in any proportion required, any alterations of diet considered necessary which are not authorised should be reported to the Inspector-General in accordance with Rule 31 of this Code.

Note 2.—Hindu widows who are not accustomed to take boiled rice and Musur or Muskalai Dals may be allowed an equivalent quantity of Atap rice and Mung Dal respectively as substitutes. Those who do not take onion or garlic may be allowed ginger at 43.5 gms. per head as a substitute.

2	3 kg 730 gms.
3	4 kg 197 gms.
4	4 kg 670 gms.
5	5 kg 137 gms.

595. Economy in fuel.—No reduction from, or alteration of, these diet scales shall be made otherwise than under the circumstances prescribed in Rules 32, 494, 596, 597, 623 or elsewhere in this Code. But when there are less than five prisoners in a mess, the fire-wood may be increased to 700 gms. or even to 930 gms. per man; the expenditure for fuel should be economised as much as possible by using prepared cowdung, or twigs, branches and dried jungle from the garden which should be stacked for this purpose during the dry season. Civil prisoners shall be provided for in accordance with Rule 456.

596. Variation of diet in special cases.—Every convict, and every unconvicted or civil prisoner who does not maintain himself shall, when not placed on special diet on medical grounds, daily receive the scale of diet provided for prisoners of the class to which he belongs, provided that:

(1) in jails where a large number of the prisoners belong to hill tribes or to aboriginal tribes the Medical Officer shall, with the sanction of the Inspector-General, draw up a special diet scale for such prisoners;

(2) in times of scarcity or famine the Medical Officer shall pay special attention to the dietary of newly admitted prisoners. All such prisoners as may be weakly should be placed in either the convalescent or special gangs, or the Medical Officer may, in his discretion, and with the previous sanction of the Inspector-General, devise a special scale of diet for such prisoners who should only gradually be permitted to be put upon the ordinary jail diet;

(3) prisoners sentenced to rigorous imprisonment shall, when undergoing punishment involving a cessation from labour, receive diet according to the scale as has been prescribed in Rule 589 for non-labouring convicts in Division III.

(4) nursing mothers shall be allowed 117 gms. of rice, or wheat atta and 29 c.c. of mustard oil in excess of the ordinary labouring ration.

597. Variety in diets.—It is of great importance that the dietary shall be varied as much as possible. Subject to the prescribed diet scales in respect of quantity and items of food, such variations as the occasional issue of animal food, and issue of different kinds of pulses, vegetables and antiscorbutics should be made. In the rainy season a welcome change can be effected by issuing with the vegetables 29 gms. of dal in the form of "bori", the "bori" dal and the ordinary dal of the meal in which "bori" is issued being of different varieties.

Whenever the Medical Officer considers it desirable, 58 or 117 gms. of meat or fish, or a nutritive equivalent of dahi shall be given two to four times a week, in lieu of 29 or 58 gms. of dal. The dahi should be prepared or obtained the day before it is required for issue. The solid curd should be obtained by straining the dahi through a muslin bag, and should be issued in full weight according to the allowance ordered. The whey should be added to the curd after its distribution at the feeding platform, and be issued as an extra on account of its wholesome properties. Under the following circumstances, however, no option will be allowed in regard to issuing animal food of which 117 gms. or such quantity as is of fully equivalent nutritive value must be substituted for 58 gms. of dal four times a week:

(a) if the fortnightly weighments indicate that an unusual proportion of the healthy prisoners have lost weight;

(b) if there is any general tendency to scurvy with ulceration of the gums; or

(c) if the number of admissions into hospital from dysentery is on the increase and the disease is of a severe or scorbutic type.

598. Registers for issue of food.—The following registers shall be maintained in respect of the issue of food:

Nos. 36A and 36B, Diet Rolls for ordinary prisoners and Divisions I and II convicts and Division I undertrials.—The careful keeping up of these rolls is very necessary. Many prisoners who are released during the day, or come into jail in the afternoon, can take respectively only either the morning or the evening meal. A detailed account of the number of prisoners fed at each meal is necessary to afford a correct check upon the issue of food in full quantity according to scale—a matter of great importance in maintaining their health; it is also necessary for checking over-issue or peculation. The Superintendent should compare this calculation with the actual issues recorded in the Stock Book (W.B.J. Register No. 33).

599. Selection of cooks.—The cooks shall be of the A class except at the Presidency Jail where well-behaved "B" class prisoners may be employed as such. Any prisoner in a jail who is of so high a caste that he cannot eat food cooked by the existing cooks shall be appointed a cook and be made to cook for the full complement of men. Individual convicted prisoners shall under no circumstances be allowed to cook for themselves exception being made in the cases of Hindu widows who, if they desire it, may be allowed, at the discretion of the Superintendent, to cook for themselves if it does not interfere with their work and discipline.

CHAPTER XXXV

Jail Gardens and Agriculture

600. Percentage of prisoners to be employed extramurally.—The number of prisoners employed in the jail garden for the production of vegetables, condiments and antiscorbutics should not ordinarily exceed 6 per cent. of the strength of the prisoners confined in the jail. The Superintendent may employ a larger number of prisoners in the garden, if necessary, but must report the fact of his having done so to the Inspector-General and give his reason in details. Prisoners employed in the garden shall be selected in accordance with Rules 430 and 432, and special care must be taken in guarding them as directed in Chapter VII. The Warder in charge of the garden should be a man who thoroughly understands gardening, and if possible, he should be exempted from night duty. When this is the case, he shall have charge of the garden gang for the whole day, and sleep in the garden at night in a hut provided for him.

CHAPTER XXXVI

601. Supply of clothing and bedding to civil, undertrial and simple imprisonment prisoners.—The supply of clothing and bedding to civil and undertrial prisoners, and of clothing to prisoners sentenced to simple imprisonment, is regulated by Rules 460, 479, 480 and 490. Any bedding supplied to undertrial prisoners or clothing supplied to simple imprisonment prisoners from jail stores under those rules, shall be of the same pattern as that supplied to labouring convicts. When, however, it is necessary to wash or disinfect the clothing of civil, undertrial or simple imprisonment prisoners, long-sleeved kurtas and dhotis made of plain cotton cloth, without any distinctive marks, shall be supplied to such prisoners untill their own clothing is returned to them, provided that if any such prisoner is in possession of spare clothing he shall be allowed to wear it at such times. The pattern clothing of female "A" and "B" class prisoners is laid down in Rule 602. The tatputtee for bedding shall be 1.82 metres in length and .71 metre in breadth If bamboo or iron cots are used, or if the masonry beds show any indication of dampness, a bamboo or grass mat of the size of the bed shall be supplied in addition to other bedding. A prisoner shall always wear his jail cap during the day. The wearing of gumchas and other clothes about the head is absolutely forbidden. No restriction shall be placed on the wearing of blanket kurtas by prisoners at any time of the day or night except on medical grounds.

608. Extra clothing on medical grounds.—The Medical Officer may order the issue of extra cotton or warm clothing or bedding to any prisoner who needs them on medical grounds. A pair of woollen jungeahs, a blanket cap and an extra blanket may be issued to each prisoner aged 50 years or more and to each prisoner of the "convalescent" and "special" gangs.

At the discretion of the Medical Officer an extra blanket may be given to a prisoner in the Darjeeling Jail at any time. This extra clothing and bedding should be taken away from every prisoner when discharged from convalescent or special gangs, or when the Medical Officer declares that they are no longer necessary.

609. Supply of extra blanket kurtahs to prisoners.—Prisoners who work in the open shall in the rainy season be supplied each with an extra blanket kurtah (old), which they shall take with them to their work, leaving their own blanket kurtah behind in charge of a Head Warder. On return from work they shall put on their own blanket kurtas and give up the others to a Head Warder to be dried if necessary. If their cotton clothing becomes wet, it shall be taken from them to be dried and other clothing shall be given to them to wear in their wards, until their own clothes are returned to them dry, when the extra clothing shall be given up. All extra cotton and woollen clothing reserved for this purpose shall have a distinctive mark and shall be kept together when not in use and entirely separate from the prisoners' ordinary clothing. Such prisoners shall also in the hot weather and rainy season be supplied with tokas or sun-hats. The Jailor shall at all times have in store a stock of extra clothing sufficient to meet all requirements under this and the preceding rule.

611. Negligent use and unauthorised possession of articles of clothing by prisoners.—Any prisoner who, wilfully, or through want of care, loses or renders any article of his clothing or equipment unserviceable before he is entitled to a new issue, shall be liable to punishment. The possession of extra clothing or portions of clothing not authorised by these rules, or of other articles of jail equipment, or exchange of any articles of clothing or equipment, the making of pockets, langoti or extra sleeves, and the altering or erasing of the numbers on clothing are prohibited.

CHAPTER XXXVII

Sanitary Regulations

Section I.—Relating to barracks and buildings

612. Accommodation of prisoners.—(1) In every sleeping ward superficial and cubical space shall be allowed for each prisoner, as stated below, according to the conditions specified:—

	Superficial area per prisoner. Square metre.	Cubic space per prisoner. Cubic metre.
In wards in which the prisoners sleep in two rows	4·18	16·99
In wards in which the prisoners sleep in four rows.	4·65	21·24
In wards in which the prisoners sleep in more than four rows.	9·29	35·4

When barracks or wards are fitted with cubicles 4.18 Square metres per head shall be allowed. Each cubicle should measure 2.13 metres × 4.52 metres and a 1.22 metres central passage between two rows of cubicles is required. Each cubicle should have half a window; therefore for 24 prisoners a ward should be 5.49 metres ×18.29 metres with 12 windows, 6 on either side. . Whether calculated on the superficial area or the cubical, space of the ward, the smaller number obtained by such calculation shall be the maximum number of prisoners the ward can accommodate. No ward should contain more than forty prisoners.

(2) If the barrack is flat-roofed, there should be ceiling ventilation, i.e., opening at intervals close to the junction of wall and celling (size .30 metre × .13 metre). If the barrack is gable-roofed, there should be a ridge ventilator.

(3) The roofs or ceilings need not be more, but should not be less, than 3.96 metres high from the floor.

(4) All grated windows should have wooden shutters opening in four leaves, but not reaching more than .51 metre from the top of the grated window, i.e., the top .51 metre should be permanently open for ventilation.

(5) All new barracks should have two rows of berths only.

(6) In long barracks (i.e., more than one ward) there should be a full-sized iron-grated door in the partition wall, so that night watchmen can move along the whole length of the barrack.

(7) All barracks should, if possible, be provided with verandahs 2.43 metres deep, of masonry if double-storied; of corrugated iron (or tiled) if single-storied. (These verandahs also serve as feeding platforms.)

(8) Masonry berth—one for each prisoner—on ground floor to be 1.82 metres × .914 metres × .46 metre high. In upper stories, the berths need only be .15 metre above the floor. Iron beds may be supplied in lieu of berths, at the discretion of the Inspector-General.

(9) In all sleeping barracks an iron-grated latrine or grilled latrine separated from the ward should, if possible, be provided.

613. Floor space in hospitals and cells.—In jail hospitals the floor space should be not less than 6.50 square metres per head, i.e., for a hospital ward of 20 sick, the size should be 6.1 metres × 21.34 metres. Not less than 25.49 cubic metres shall be allowed to each prisoner in hospital. All new cells for the separate or solitary confinement of prisoners shall have a superficial area of not less than 29.26 superficial metres and a cubical capacity of not less that 504.8 metres. There shall be thorough ventilation in every cell which, at the back of the cell, may be by a clerestory window. The Medical Officer shall inspect all new cells, wards or compartments, which shall not be occupied until he certifies that they are in all respects fit for occupation.

614. Wards to have inscription showing accommodation.—Over the door of every ward there shall be an inscription, either in letters painted on the wall or on a tablet of wood or metal, showing the class of prisoners for which it is intended, the number of cubic and superficial metres it contains, and the number of prisoners which it is capable of accommodating. Every ward should contain a bed for each prisoner; the number of beds to be exactly according to its capacity. Temporary accommodation shall be provided for any prisoner in excess of this number. Care shall be taken to see that the lockup Register (No. 12) shows the accommodation available in each ward, so as to enable the Superintendent to judge at a glance whether any particular ward is overcrowded or not.

615. Temporary accommodation outside the ward.—If, from unavoidable causes, prisoners have temporarily to sleep in worksheds, or verandahs or other buildings not arranged for their accommodation at night, an iron cot and mat, bamboo machan or some sort of raised bed shall be provided for every prisoner, and arrangements must be made for protection from the weather by the use of jhamps, matting or purdahs. Every prisoner sleeping temporarily in such places shall have an extra blanket. Whenever floors are liable to become damp, they should be coated with a mixture of tar and ashes, or some equivalent substance; and if raised masonry beds are used, this coating should intervene between the beds and the floor.

CHAPTER XXXVIII

Medical Administration

Section I.—General Matters

616. Record of prisoner's health.—The health of every prisoner shall be described as either "good," "bad" or "indifferent." Prisoners who on admission to jail appear to be in normal health, are free from organic disease and are well up to average weight shall be recorded as in good health. Prisoners, who on admission to jail are found to be suffering from serious malnutrition or disease (other than trivial or temporary ailments), such as necessitates immediate medical treatment, shall be recorded as in bad health. The same standard of health shall be adopted throughout the State.

617. Supervision of prisoners below the normal standard of health.—One of the important duties of the Medical Officer shall be to keep under his immediate supervision those prisoners who are below the normal standard of health or whose physical condition or previous history appears to indicate a predisposition to disease. The aged and infirm, the anaemic, those with large spleens or livers, or with spongy gums or stomatitis of any degree and those whose appearance or physical condition seems to indicate malnutrition should be sought for and selected, specially during the unhealthy months of the year. Prisoners who, with no apparent organic disease, come frequently to hospital for irregular fever, obscure chest pain or looseness of the bowels, however mild or short in duration the symptoms may be, should be kept under supervision.

618. Prisoners to be weighed every fortnight.—Every prisoner shall be weighed once a fortnight on Sunday, and his weight shall be recorded on his history ticket. The Medical Subordinates shall carry out this duty with assistance, if necessary. Properly adjusted beam scales or reliable spring balances shall be used. When a prisoner is put in fetters, the weight of the fetters shall be entered in the history ticket at the time they are put on; similarly the weight of the ankle-ring shall also be entered, so that the exact deduction of the weight of the fetters, or ankle-ring, may be made from the gross weight before the fortnightly weighment is recorded. Prisoners in Division III shall be weighed only in their jungeahs and with ankle-ring and fetters if they have them.

619. Record of gain or loss in weight of prisoners.—An abstract of the results of each weighment shall be furnished to the Superintendent and Medical Officer on the following day, showing:

(1) the number who gained weight;

(2) the number whose weight remained stationary;

(3) the number who during the last three successive weighments have lost under 1.36 kilograms;

(4) the number who during the last three successive weighments have lost 1.36 to 2.27 kilograms;

(5) the number who during the last three successive weighments have lost above 2.27 kilograms;

(6) the number who have lost more than 3.18 kilograms since admission; and

(7) the percentage to the total number weighed of those who gained weight and lost weight, respectively.

All prisoners who have lost weight to the extent indicated in items (4), (5) and (6) shall be separately paraded for the inspection of the Superintendent and Medical Officer.

A weight chart shall be maintained for each prisoner with sentence of imprisonment for one year and above and also for every prisoner below the standard hereinmentioned below, namely:

For an adult male having a height of 1.52 metres the standard weight should be 45.36 kilograms. For every 2.54 centimetres above that height up to 1.70 metres add 1.36 kilograms; and for 1.73 metres and over add 1.81 kilograms for every 2.54 centimetres.

620. Hospital gang.—A system of "gangs" should be adopted for the special observation and treatment of those prisoners—not actually in hospital—whom the Medical Officer desires to keep under his special supervision. It should, however, be remembered that a high rate of sick in hospital with a low gang rate is, as a rule, better for the general health than the opposite conditions.

Prisoners who, from age or infirmity, are permanently unfit to work, and convalescents recently discharged from hospital who are temporarily unfit to work, shall be placed in the Convalescent and Infirm Gang (referred to as the "Convalescent Gang"). Other weakly prisoners who, though requiring special consideration, are able to perform light-tasked labour, shall be placed in the "Special Gang". Prisoners who, without exhibiting any particular debility, are losing weight should be placed in a "Losing Weight Gang" for more particular observation and weekly weighment. Whenever the prisoners in the convalescent or special gangs exceed 10 per cent. of the number under lock-up, a report should be sent to the Inspector-General giving the reasons for the increase. The number for whom special diet is sanctioned under Jail Code Rule 623 should also be reported.

All hospital gangs shall be subdivided into A and B classes and the classes shall be kept as separate as possible.

621. Weekly weighment of special and convalescent gangs.—Prisoners in "special" and "convalescent" gangs, shall always remain in their respective gangs and not be mixed up with other gangs. They shall be weighed every week instead of every fortnight, on such days as the Medical Officer may fix, and the progressive weekly weighments shall be recorded in a special register (No. 29) to be shown to the Medical Officer. A separate record shall be kept of the numbers in these gangs daily, and the daily average number in each shall be furnished in the monthly returns.

622. Employment of special gangs.—The labour on which the "special" gangs are employed shall be light work suitable to their condition, and, if necessary, under cover. The "convalescent and infirm gang" shall be seen every day by the Medical Officer, under whose orders some light work, without task, such as sorting wool, winding yarn, attending the sick, etc., may be given to them, or the Medical Officer may recommend any weak or convalescent prisoner for untasked work in the garden. The "special" gang shall be seen daily by the Medical Subordinate. The mid-day rest prescribed in Rule 422 shall throughout the year be allowed to them in their wards.

623. Special diet scale for special gang.—The Medical Officer shall devise a special diet scale for each of these gangs, or order any special diet necessary in particular cases. They may be given a better quality of rice than ordinary prisoners and may be allowed oil for inunction daily before bath. Meat, fish, milk, dahi, goor, potatoes or extra vegetables may be allowed. Meat, fish, milk or dahi may be given in lieu of quantities of dal of equal nutritive value, to be deducted from the regular ration or, if the Medical Officer considers it advisable, may be given in excess of the regular scale.

624. Special gangs to be accommodated in upper wards at night.—These gangs should, if possible, be accommodated in upper wards at night. Prisoners of these gangs should all have the extra clothing and bedding ordered for them in Rule 608.

625. Special and convalescent gangs to be frequently examined by Medical Officer.—Both these gangs shall be carefully and frequently examined by the Medical Officer with a view to early detection of sickness and removing from them every prisoner who has recovered health and no longer requires special attention. A register (No. 29) showing for each gang separately the name, register number, date of attachment to the gang, and date of discharge of each prisoner, shall be kept, and no prisoner shall be placed in, or discharged from, these gangs except by order of the Medical Officer.

626. Tasks to be regulated. Prisoners found to be continually losing weight not to be placed on hard labour.—If the loss of weight is more marked amongst prisoners on one form of labour than on another, the tasks should be carefully regulated, and the prisoners employed on that particular work should be changed if the tendency to lose weight continues. Prisoners who at three successive weighments are found to be losing weight, or in whom the loss of weight at any weighment is found to be great, shall not be placed on hard labour.

627. Seasonal hygienic treatment of prisoners by Medical Officer. Medical Officers should carefully regulate the hygienic treatment of the general body of prisoners according to season. The Medical Officer shall, therefore, exercise his discretion as to the time at which the prisoners shall be taken out of their wards in the early morning, and he may direct that at the early morning parades before prisoners march to their work, they shall be allowed to have with them, and cover themselves with, one of the blankets supplied to them as bedding. He should ascertain that the orders in Rule 609, given with the object of ensuring that the prisoners shall have dry clothing when they return to their wards after their wark, are carried out; that prisoners are not unnecessarily exposed to the weather either whilst at work or in their wards, and, if he is not the Superintendent, bring any neglect of these rules to the Superintendent's notice.

Section II.—Hospital Management

628. Every jail servant to report to the Medical Subordinate any circumstances from which sickness of a prisoner may be inferred.—It shall be the duty of every jail servant promptly to bring to the notice of the Medical Subordinate any circumstances from which the sickness of any prisoner may be inferred. If a prisoner be observed to visit the latrine oftener than usual he shall be removed to a segregation ward for observation.

629. Separate hospitals for male and female prisoners.—In every jail, separate hospitals shall be provided for male and female prisoners. All prisoners complaining of illness shall be brought before the Medical Officer and shall be examined by him, and he shall determine whether they shall be placed under medical observation or treated as out-patients, or admitted to hospital; or if he thinks necessary, he shall take any other action he is empowered to take by these rules.

630. Dangerous lunatics not to be kept in the hospital.—Dangerous, noisy or filthy lunatics shall not be kept in the hospital, but in separate cells.

631. Hospital prisoners may be given light work.—In some cases it will be well for prisoners actually in hospital to have some employment. Easy work should therefore be provided for these prisoners, but no task should be exacted.

632. Registers to be maintained by Medical Officer.—The following registers shall be maintained by the Medical Officer and the Medical Subordinate:

(a) No. 1, Medical Officer's minute-book.

(b) Post-Mortem Register No. 26 (in Central and District Jails).

(c and d) Registers Nos. 27 and 28.—The Hospital Register and the Hospital Roll of sick diet, medicines locally purchased, etc., and other hospital records shall be kept under the direction of the Medical Officer, who is responsible for their correctness.

(e) No. 29. Register of Convalescent and Special Gangs:— This register should be divided into four parts:

(1) The "convalescent and infirm" gang.	A Class.
(2) The "convalescent and infirm" gang.	B class.
(3) The "special" gang	A class.
(4) The "special" gang	B class.

The name of every prisoner ordered by the Medical Officer to be placed in either of these gangs shall be entered according to the gang and according to the class, as also any special diet or any special treatment ordered in individual cases. When a prisoner is discharged from the gang, his name shall be scored through. At the beginning of every three months a new list should be made out of every gang.

(f) No. 30. Register of weekly weighments of prisoners losing weight.

633. Intimation to relatives of prisoners who are dangerously ill.— Prisoners who are dangerously ill, or moribund may be permitted to see their relations. Intimation of the condition of a prisoner who is dangerously ill shall promptly be given to the Magistrate of the district and also direct to the relations of the prisoner either by special messenger or by telegram according as they reside within or outside the limit of the town in which the jail is situated.

634. Removal of prisoner to outside hospital.—If the circumstances of the jail should render the segregation of a case of grave infectious disease impossible, the Superintendent shall, with the consent of the Magistrate of the district and in anticipation of the sanction of he Inspector-General which should be applied for through the Magistrate, remove the prisoner to any hospital which has been set aside for the accommodation of such patients. The prisoner, on recovery, and when the risk of infection has passed, shall be brought back to jail, the period passed by him in the hospital being treated as part of the sentence served.

ELECTION COMMISSION, INDIA

New Delhi, the 27th May 1966

NOTIFICATION

No. 82/71/62.—In continuation of the Commission's notification No. 82/71/62, dated the 1st September 1964, the Election Commission hereby publishes, for general information, the judgment of the Supreme Court of India, delivered on the 5th May 1966, in Civil Appeals Nos. 931 and 1149 of 1965, filed, against the order, dated the 31st July 1964, of the Calcutta High Court.

IN THE SUPREME COURT OF INDIA

CIVIL APPEALS NOS. 931 AND 1149 OF 1965

Civil Appeal No. 931 of 1965

Abhey Pada Saha — Appellant

Versus

Sudhir Kumar Mondal — Respondent.

And

Civil Appeal No. 1149 of 1965

Sudhir K. Mondal — Appellant

Versus

Abhey Pada Saha — Respondent

JUDGMENT

Sarkar, C. J. These appeals arise out of an election to a seat in the West Bengal Legislative Assembly from the Khargram Murshidabad constituency reserved for members of the Scheduled Castes. The contestants at this election were Abhey Pada Saha and Sudhir Kumar Mondal. Sudhir is admittedly a member of a Scheduled Caste. Abhey Pada described himself in the nomination paper as "a member of the Sunri caste which is a Scheduled Caste". Sudhir objected to this nomination contending that Abhey Pada did not belong to any Scheduled Caste. The objection was rejected by the Returning Officer. At the election which ensured, Abhey Pada secured 16,730 votes and Sudhir, 15,523 and the former was consequently declared elected.

Sudhir then filed a petition challenging the validity of Abhey Pada's election on various grounds. At the hearing of the petition by the Election Tribunal, however, he challenged the election only on the ground that Abhey Pada was a member of the Saha caste and not a member of a Scheduled Caste. The Election Tribunal rejected this contention and dismissed the petition. Sudhir then appealed to the High Court at Calcutta which reversed the decision of the Tribunal and declared the election of Abhey Pada invalid and set it aside on the ground that he did not belong to a Scheduled Caste. In his petition Sudhir had further claimed that he should be declared elected in the place of the appellant if the latter's election was found to be invalid. This prayer, however, was rejected by the High Court. These two appeals are from the judgment of the High Court. Appeal No. 931 of 1965 is by Abhey

Pada. He challenges the validity of the order of the High Court setting aside his election. Appeal No. 1149 of 1965 is by Sudhir and he challenges the validity of the order of the High Court rejecting his prayer to be declared elected. We shall first deal with Appeal No. 931 of 1965 filed by Abhey Pada and shall hereafter refer to him as the appellant and Sudhir as the respondent.

Article 332 of the Constitution provides that seats shall be reserved for the Scheduled Castes in the Legislative Assembly of every State. Article 341 gives power to the President to specify by public notification the castes or parts of or groups within castes which shall for the purpose of the Constitution be deemed to be Scheduled Castes. The President, on August 10, 1950, passed the Constitution (Scheduled Castes) Order, 1950, under Article 341 setting out in its schedule the various castes which were declared Scheduled Castes. This Order was amended from time to time by statutes passed by Parliament and it is agreed that at the relevant time item 40 of Part 13 of the schedule to the Order which set out which were Scheduled Castes in West Bengal stood as follows: "Sunri excluding Saha". Item 40 and some other items of the schedule were made applicable to the State of West Bengal except the Purulia district and the territories transferred from Purnea district of Bihar and it is with this item that we are concerned. The question is, whether the appellant was a member of the Scheduled Caste specified in this item.

In the election petition, the respondent had stated that the appellant was a member of the Saha caste and not a member of any Scheduled Caste. In was said that this showed that the respondent's case was that the appellant belonged to an independent caste which had nothing to do with Sunri caste and that it was, therefore, not open to him at the trial to contend as he appears to have done, that the appellant was a Sunri by caste but was excluded from the Scheduled Caste group because he belonged to a smaller caste group of Sunri known as Sahas. We are unable to take this strict view of the pleading. The petition may, in our opinion, he reasonably read as stating that the appellant was a member of the Saha caste, a smaller caste group within the bigger caste group of Sunri and was for that reason not a member of the Scheduled Caste specified in item 40. We also observe that this reading of the petition which was accepted by the Election Tribunal, did not cause any surprise to the appellant at the trial or result in any injustice. The High Court also read the petition in the same way. In our view, it was open to the respondent to show that the appellant belonged to the Saha caste group within the Sunri caste group and did not, therefore, belong to the Schedule Caste specified in item 40 as he claimed.

The Tribunal rejected the respondent's case that the Sunri caste was divided into certain groups of which the Sahas formed one. It came to the conclusion that the Sahas originally belonged to the Sunri caste but for a long time past they had formed themselves into a different caste which had no connection with the Sunris. It is not very clear whether the Tribunal thought that the Sahas were originally a smaller caste group within the Sunri caste group or were only distinguished from the other Sunris by their surname. We are, however, inclined to think that the Tribunal thought that the Sahas were originally a smaller caste group within the Sunri caste because it rejected a contention advanved by the respondent that item 40 excluded from Sunris those who bore the surname Saha observing that the names given in the schedule to the Order all referred to castes, subcastes or groups. It found that the evidence clearly established that the appellant belong to the Sunri caste—a fact which appears to have been admitted by the respondent and, therefore, did not belong to the independent caste which according to the Tribunal, the Sahas have formed for a long time past. In that view of the matter, the Tribunal held the appellant to be a Sunri and a person belonging to the Schedule Caste specified in item 40 and, therefore, dismissed the election petition. It took the view that item 40 had excluded Sahas from Sunris by way of abundant caution, so that the Sahas who had originally belonged to the Sunri caste but had long ago several all connections with it and developed into a district and independent caste, might not claim, by virtue to their origin, to belong to the Sunri caste stated in the item.

In the High Court P. N. Mookerjee, J. observed that the Tribunal had gone wrong in considering the Sahas as an independent caste. He said that the expression "excluding" denoted that the Sahas contemplated would, but for this word, have come within the Sunri caste. He held that the Sahas formed "a group within the Sunri caste be it a sub-caste strictly so called or otherwise". He also held that the evidence did not establish that the Sahas formed a sub-caste strictly so called within the Sunri caste or a caste wholly independent of the Sunri caste. His conclusion was that the expression "excluding Saha" referred to those Sunris who bore the surname Saha irrespective of whether they belonged to a sub-caste strictly so called of Sunris or not. The learned Judge, therefore, held that as the appellant bore the surname Saha, he did not belong to the Scheduled Caste specified in item 40 though he was a Sunri. The other learned Judge, Basu, J. held that the words "parts or groups within castes" in Article 341 were wide enough to refer to any determinate part of a caste distinguished by a surname or otherwise and it was not necessary that such part must necessarily form a sub-caste. He also held that the evidence broadly supported "the conclusion that the respondent's family belong to the Saha sub-caste or group within the Sunri caste". The learned Judge however, appears to have not aside the decision of the Tribunal and directed the election of the appellant to be set aside on the ground that the appellant bore the surname Saha and was thereby excluded from the Scheduled Caste specified in item 40 for he said "these Saha families, within the fold of Sunri Caste, distinguished themselves by their surname, whatever might be their other characteristics" and have come to form a class apart from the rest of the Sunris.

Now, the point in issue is, whether the appllant satisfied the description "Sunri excluding Saha" in item 40 of the President's Order. To decide that point, the description has first to be properly interpreted and understood A s we have said, the Tribunal though that the Sahas formed a distinct Caste wholly outside the Sunri caste and they had been specifically excluded in item 40 for greater safety to prevent them from claiming to be Sunris by reason of their origin. The learned Judges of the High Court though that the effect of the item was to exclude from the Sunri caste these who belonged to that caste but bore the surname Saha. We are unable to agree with either of these interpretations.

There is no doubt that Sunri is a caste. Nobody disputes that. That also follows from the fact that the Constitution (Scheduled Castes) Order, 1950, was promulgated to indicate those castes who are to be considered as Scheduled Castes for the purpose of the Constitution. "Sunri" in item 40, therefore, refers to a caste. If Sunri is a caste, the word "Saha" in the expression "excluding Saha" in the item must, without more, also refer to a caste group within the Sunri Caste. It is legitimate to think that when a statute says that a thing is to be excluded from another, both things are of the same kind; if one is a caste, the other must be a caste. It follows that when the item excluded Sahas from Sunris, since Sunri is a caste group, Saha must equally be another caste group. The Tribunal appears to have taken the same view. Now a thing can be excluded from another only if it was otherwise within it. Therefore, the correct interpretation of the item is that it indicates men of the Sunri caste but not those within that caste who formed the smaller caste group of Sahas. This is where the Tribunal went wrong.

The Tribunal came to its conclusion that "Saha" in the item referred to a caste distinct from the Sunri caste because the evidence before it did not show that there was within the Sunri caste, a smaller caste group called Sahas. The error of the Tribunal lay in interpreting the Order in the light of the evidence before it. There was no justification for doing that. After all, the evidence led in a case may be imperfect. Suppose the evidence in another case led to the conclusion, as it might conceiveably do, that there was a smaller caste group within the Sunri caste, called Sahas. In that case, if the reasoning applied by the Tribunal is right, it has to be held that the expression "excluding Saha" meant excluding a smaller caste group called Sahas. A method of interpreting a statutory provision which might lead to such uncertainly cannot be correct. If the correct interpretation of item 40 was, as we think it was, that Sahas were a caste group within the Sunri Caste, no question of Sahas being a distinct class independent of Sunris could arise. The finding that Sahas were a wholly independent caste was altogether irrelevant to the point in issue. Evidence cannot alter the natural interpretation of the words in the Order.

For the same reason, we are unable to agree with the interpretation of the High Court that the Sahas excluded were those Sunris who bore the surname Saha. We think that learned Judges of the High Court also interpreted item 40 in the light of the evidence in the case. If the intention was to exclude from Sunris those members of that caste who bore the surname Saha, the item would have said so; it would then have read "Sunri excluding those who bore the surname Saha". In the absence of such words "Saha" must, in the context, be understood as referring to a smaller caste group within the bigger caste group of Sunris. Surnames is irrelevant as a test for applying item 40 unless it is shown that it indicated a smaller caste group of Sunris. It is nobody's case that there is evidence to show that. It is of interest to remind in this connection that the Order provides that the Sunris in th· Purulia District and these parts of the Purnea district which had been transferred to West Bengal were not to be considered as belonging to a Sched led Caste. That would show that where the exclusion is by a test other than a caste group, the Order expressly says so. It is natural to think that if the excluded Sahas were those Sunris who have the surname Saha, the Order would have made that clear. In our opinion, the learned Judges of the High Court were in error in interpreting the item on the evidence in the case as they appear to have done.

If we are right in our interpretation of item 40, then the only question that has to be decided in this case is, whether the respondent has established that the appellant belonged to a smaller caste group called Sahas within the Sunri caste. This question presents no difficulty. The respondent called witnesses to establish that the appellant belonged to the smaller caste group of Sahas. These witnesses were disbelieved by the Tribunal which described them as unreliable.

P. N. Mookerjee, J. said, "it has not been proved that the respondent (appellant here) belonged to any separate Saha caste or to any Saha-Sunri subcaste of the Sunri Caste". Though Basu, J. said that the appellant belonged to the Saha group of Sunris, it would appear that he was thinking of that group as consisting of those Sunris who bore the surname Saha. All the courts in West Bengal, therefore, came to the conclusion that it had not been proved in this case that the appellant belonged to the smaller caste group of Sahas. We have to reason to take a different view of the evidence. The result then is, that the appellant is a Sunri by caste and has not been proved to belong to the smaller caste group of Sahas. He must be held to belong to the Scheduled Caste specified in item 40. That being so, the election petition must fail.

Accordingly, we allow Appeal No. 931 of 1965 and set aside the judgment of the High Court and restore that of the Election Tribunal dismissing the petition. The appellant will get the costs throughout.

In the view that we have taken in Appeal No. 931 of 1965, the other appeal must necessarily be dismissed and we, therefore, dismiss it with costs. One set of hearing fees only.

AWARD

An industrial dispute between Messrs. Manabarrie Tea Company and their workmen represented by West Bengal Chah Sramik Union over the dismissal of a workman named Shri Ramoo Proja was referred to my arbitration under section 10A(1) Industrial Disputes Act, by an agreement between the parties which was duly published under section 10A(3) under G. O. No. 4591-I.R./IR/9L-52/63, dated the 9th November 1963.

A copy of the Government order, together with a copy of the arbitration agreement, was received by me on 12th November 1963. Thereafter, I started proceedings by issuing notices to the parties which were duly served upon them. The parties appeared and filed their respective written statements in due course.

After necessary preliminary proceedings and some adjournments taken by the parties and also necessitated by some extraordinary circumstances, the case was finally fixed for hearing at Darjeeling on and from 16th May 1966. But, in the meantime, on 20th April 1966, a joint petition of compromise embodying the terms upon which the dispute had been amicably settled between the parties and praying for an award on those terms was received by post. The petition was duly considered and orders were reserved.

On a scrutiny of the petition, I find that it is signed by the Manager of the Tea Estate concerned and the Joint Secretary of the concerned Union. The terms embodied therein also appear to me to be quite lawful, reasonable and fair. Accordingly, I accept and approve the terms of compromise and so, I am to make a compromise award as prayed for.

In the result, I make a compromise award in the case in terms of the joint petition of compromise, dated 18th April 1966 and received by post in this office on 20th April 1966. A copy of the joint petition is made a part of the award as an Annexure.
